Represents $10,400 More Than Grants Last Year

Thirteen Newton Red Feather Services and the local Community Chest were allotted $262,475 for 1957 by the Chest Board of Directors at its meeting Monday night in the Community Chest office, 93 Union Street, Newton Centre.

This year's total represents a gain of $10,400 over grants awarded a year ago, according to Anthony Jauregui, president. Allotments come from last fall's successful United Red Feather Campaign which raised $6,600,064.

The 1957 grants to the local Red Feather Services are as follows:

All Newton Music School	$ 3,700
Family Service Bureau	33,500
Newton Boys' Club	9,600
Newton Community Council	5,775
Newton Girl Scout Council	19,100
Newton Visiting Nurse Ass'n	24,100
Newton-Wellesley Hospital	48,600
Newton Y.M.C.A.	40,000
Norumbega Council, B. S. A.	24,500
Rebecca Pomroy House	8,400
St. Vincent de Paul Society	11,400
Stone Institute	300
West Newton Comm. Centre	10,500
Chest—Admin. & Campaign	23,000
Total	$262,475

TOLL BILL HEARING TUESDAY

Poll Shows Residents Are Opposed to Sales Tax 3-1

Governor and Mrs. Furcolo to Attend Dinner

President Si Scheff of the Newton Democratic Club has announced that Governor and Mrs. Foster Furcolo have accepted an invitation to be present at a dinner in their honor sponsored by the club on March 3.

Newton residents are opposed to a sales tax by a surprising 3-1 margin, according to the first returns in a poll being conducted by The Graphic to determine public sentiment in this city on the most important issue which will come before the Legislature this year.

The total straw vote thus far in Newton is 110 in favor of a sales tax and 341 against it.

4 Men Given 32-35 Years For Holdup

In Middlesex Superior Court last Thursday, four men were given sentences of 32 to 35 years in State Prison for armed robbery at the Pillar House, Newton, on December 20.

Found guilty on two counts each of armed robbery were Gregory K. Sylvia, 21, of Rutland square, South End, Manuel Cardoza, 24, of Howland street, Roxbury; Pedro J. Hankerson, 23, of Tremont street, Donald Moore, 24 of Claremont Park, both of the South End Boston.

Patrolman John J. Bartinelli, who with Patrolman Patrick Panaggio made the capture a short time after the holdup, told Judge Frank J. Donahue they were given a description of the get-away car by a witness in the restaurant parking lot. They caught the car at Lee and Boylston streets, Brookline.

Bartinelli told the court that the four men had trussed up the caretaker of Pillar House and his wife before they escaped with a cash box containing $500 and $75 from their victims. While they walked around the establishment in search of the loot, one of them tripped a burglar alarm.

The officer said he found the cash box in the seat of the get-away car, and found a gun in the seat springs.

Local Man Gets 5 Yrs. for Fraud

A Newton man drew a five-year prison term for fraud in Philadelphia Tuesday.

Joel Rosenberg, 56, also was given five years probation to follow the prison term. Federal Judge Francis L. Van Dusen imposed sentence, which Rosenberg appealed.

Would Substitute Freeway Proposal

At the request of Sen. Gibbs, Rep. Rawson and Mayor Whitmore, the hearing which was to have been held Tuesday morning to consider a freeway for the East-West Toll road extension through this city in place of a toll road extension, was postponed until 10:30 a.m., Tuesday, Feb. 12, in Room 427, State House.

At the same time, Senate Bill 238 will also be heard. This bill has for its main purpose the stopping of the Toll Road at its present terminus at Route 128.

Mayor Whitmore in a statement Wednesday, urged all citizens of Newton who can possibly do so, to attend the hearing on the two bills next Tuesday at the State House. He also stressed that organizations and civic units as well should make an attempt to be present at the hearings.

In commenting on these hearings next Tuesday, Mayor Whit-

The Sales Tax...

FAVORS

By CHRISTIAN A. HERTER, Jr.
Member of the Governor's Council

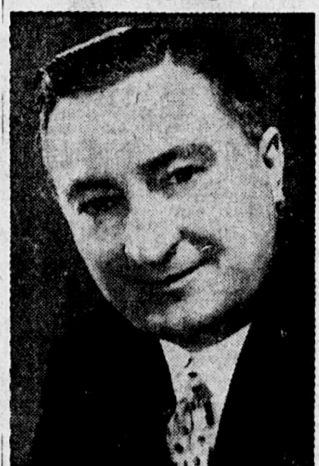

In an effort to give our readers both sides of the sales tax story, we have invited two outstanding public leaders to present the arguments for and against a sales tax. In the articles printed below, Democratic State Senate Leader John E. Powers outlined the reasons why he is opposing the sales tax, and Governor's Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., son and namesake of the Governor, tells why he feels the sales tax should be enacted.

Basically, I am opposed to imposing any new taxes whatever on our citizens. Massachusetts is probably the last State in the Union that should even consider the enactment of additional taxes.

Three Plays To Compete At NHS Drama Festival

Newton High School's annual Drama Festival competition will be held a week from tomorrow night, February 15, at 8:15 in the high school auditorium.

Three plays with three different casts will compete to represent Newton in the N. E. Drama Festival. They are Antigone by Jean Anouilh, Blithe Spirit by Noel Coward, and Shakespeare's The Tempest.

The winning production will compete against winning plays from 150 Massachusetts high schools, and two will be chosen to represent the state in the N. E. festival. Last year's N.H.S. entry, The Corn Is Green, went all the way to the N. E. Festival.

William Spink and Miss Helen Ryan are co-directors of all three plays, assisted by Miss Dorothy Richardson. This year's judges are Miss Viola Jackson, of Somerville High School, Father Richard Powers, teacher and dramatic coach at St. Sebastian's Country Day School, and Edward Byrne, Randolph High School.

At its meeting Monday night the board of aldermen approved the final appointment of Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., to complete the personnel of the new Zoning Board of Appeals by confirming Fred P. Pegnato of 504 Watertown street, Newtonville, to be a member of the newly created board until Sept. 1, 1959.

Other members of the Board are former alderman V. Stoddard Bigelow, whose term will expire Sept. 1, 1961; Maurice A. Reidy Jr., whose term will expire Sept. 1, 1960; Edward A. Murphy, whose term will expire Sept. 1, 1958, and Kenneth W. Newcomb, whose term will expire Sept. 1, 1957. Associate members of the Board are W. Cornell Appleton, Kenneth W. McCutcheon and Robert Casselman.

Additional Students Needed

Evening Division Courses At Jr. College Start Mon.

Additional students are needed in the courses in Contemporary History, Real Estate Fundamentals, and Intermediate Algebra if these courses are going to continue to be offered in the Evening Division of the Newton Junior College, according to an announcement by Director Walter M. Taylor as students registered last Monday.

The mathematics class lacks four of the number necessary to underwrite the expenses of the course, the Contemporary History and Real Estate classes six each.

All courses in the Evening Division commence Monday, Feb. 11, 7-9 p.m. at the College building, Walnut street at Washington Park, Newtonville. Interested young and old adults of Newton and environs are urged to telephone the college registrar if they care to join these small classes.

The Real Estate Fundamentals and Practices course is taught by Mr. Clarence F. Woodman, representative of the Boston Real Estate Board

By JAMES G. COLBERT
Former Boston Post Political Editor
Gov. Furcolo Proving an Enigma To Democrats and to GOP

Governor Foster Furcolo has now completed five full weeks at the head of the State government—35 days that have brought one political paradox after another on Beacon Hill—and he is still an enigma both to the members of his own Democratic party and the opposing GOP.

Perhaps some of Furcolo's own mannerisms and habits contribute at least in a measure to the general confusion that exists concerning him.

The Governor, for example, listens attentively, nodding his head as if in agreement, when persons who gain access to him endeavor to press their ideas or their advice upon him.

Fire-Fighting Exhibit to Be Held Sun.

Lieut. Lawrence N. Clark's exhibit of Antique Fire-fighting equipment will be featured this Sunday, Feb. 10, at the Jackson-Hemstead Open House, 527 Washington street, Newton, from 3 to 5 o'clock.

There are many items of interest on view, including fascinating models of old engines from the days of the Hand Tub to the dashing horse-drawn Steamer with its gleaming boiler all made to exact scale by Lieut. Clark. Old lithographs, uniforms, badges from fire companies all over the country, and handsome helmets from countries as far away as Germany, Monaco, Switzerland and even Russia, make this a collection for everyone to enjoy.

Lieut. Clark will be on hand to meet you and answer any questions you may have. Hostesses on Mrs. Arthur T. Grogan's Committee will include the following members of the Lucy Jackson Chapter of the D.A.R.: Mrs. Walter R.

tions are conducting a poll to ascertain how the voters feel about the proposed sales tax. Those persons who have not yet recorded themselves on the sales tax question are invited to send in their votes so they may be included in the report which will be made next week. A sales tax ballot is reprinted in this issue of The Graphic for your convenience. Clip it out, fill in your name and address, make a check mark to indicate whether you believe the sales tax bill should be passed or defeated and then mail it to: The Graphic Sales Tax Poll, The Graphic, Box 102, Newtonville, Mass.

Or you may do the same thing on any sheet of paper. Because each resident is limited to only one vote it is necessary that you give your name and address that is merely for the Graphic's record. How you vote will be kept confidential and will not be revealed to anyone. Your name will not be published.

Box Score on Sales Tax Poll

The overall returns thus far in the poll conducted by The Transcript Publications to determine public sentiment on the sales tax issue reveal an almost even split in opinion on the question.

Following is the straw vote by areas:

	FOR A SALES TAX	AGAINST A SALES TAX
West Roxbury and Roslindale	418	209
Dedham	176	165
Newton	110	341
Needham	242	286
Milton	154	88
TOTALS	1100	1089

The purpose of The Graphic's sales tax poll is to make it possible for you to cast your vote on the most important matter which will be acted upon by the Legislature during its present session.

When the poll is completed, the final results will be forwarded to the State Senator and Representatives serving in the Legislature from the Newton area.

Each member of the family over 21 years of age not only is eligible to cast a vote for or against the sales tax, but is invited and urged to do so in order that as accurate as possible an expression of public sentiment may be obtained. SEND IN YOUR STRAW VOTE ON THE SALES TAX ISSUE TODAY!

Mail it to: The Graphic Sales Tax Poll, The Graphic, Box 102, Newtonville.

The results of the poll in Newton to date are astonishing. Whether they are an accurate reflection of public sentiment in the city remains to be determined when more complete returns are tabulated.

It is possible, of course, that the trend of the straw vote may assume an altogether different pattern in the future. Present indications are that a great many persons have not yet decided whether they are for or against the sales tax.

To help acquaint its readers with the arguments on both sides of the question, The Graphic this week is printing articles concerning the sales tax proposal written by Governor's Councillor Christian A. Herter, son and namesake of the former Governor, and Democratic State Senate Leader John E. Powers.

Herter outlines the reasons why he believes the sales tax bill should be passed. Powers tells why he feels it should be defeated.

The Newman Clubs of the Boston Province, National Newman Club Federation, and to take part in panel discussions dealing with personal and social intellectual development. Panel topics will consider how a Catholic student can improve himself intellectually, why should one be a Catholic intellectual, and what responsibilities Catholic intellectuals have. From a social point of view, panels will consider communications, creative research and scholarship, the Catholic in education, and ways to fulfill community and business obligations.

Sandra Thomson of Boston, a junior at Newton College, is Forum chairman. She is being assisted by a committee comprising Newman Club officers and representatives from the Boston Province, including Giovanni G. Fazio, treasurer of the Boston Province; David Horgan, editor of the Newman Club magazine and member of the executive board of the CSCF; William Fortier of Massachusetts College of Pharmacy; Carol Hurd of Regis College; Stephanie M. Landry and Elizabeth F. Doyle of Newton College; Robert Reilly of Harvard and Barbara L. Braden of Radcliffe.

Also aiding with plans for the Forum are Reverend J. Edward Nugent, CPS, director of the Newman Club Center in Boston, Archdiocesan headquarters for Newman Club activities; and Mother Loretta Santen, RSCJ, moderator of the Newton College Catholic Action Organization. Mother Gabrielle Husson, RSCJ, president of Newton College, will give the address of welcome at 1:45 p.m.

Newton College students who will act as group leaders will include Miss Thomson, Miss Landry and Miss Doyle, Judith J. Laird of Caracas, Venezuela; Mary Lacey Kelly of Providence; Marie Gerin-Lajoie of Montreal; Joan M. Coniglio and Constance M. Hanley of New York City.

Registration will be held from 12:30 to 1:15 p.m. in Badenhau Hall of Stuart House. Panel discussions will take place after Canon Carter's talk, which is scheduled for 2 p.m., and Benediction will be offered at 5:20 p.m. Dinner and a dance are planned for the evening.

TELE-VIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

Anyone interested in TV programs probably likes to look over the national "ratings" when they are published. These are the statistics accumulated for the sponsors and network officials, who analyze them to keep up-to-date on the type of TV fare Mr. and Mrs. America like best. Program ratings are compiled in a variety of methods. One quick-result system makes phone calls during a program in 15 cities where the three major networks are represented. Another system depends on the direct help of some 1,000 homeowners, who are asked to keep a "diary" of their TV tuning. The Nielsen Company sets its data with a device called the audimeter, which automatically records the time a TV set is turned on, how long it is kept on, and to what station it is tuned at any moment. Audimeters are installed in a random selection of roughly 1,000 TV homes.

Just recently another kind of meter for rating programs has turned up. It's called the Poll-O-Meter. Mounted on a truck chassis and cruising the streets, it records the oscillations of TV sets in the homes it passes by. These oscillations actually provide the number of the channel tuned to in each home.

We're waiting for the news that Poll-O-Meter is being sued for invasion of privacy. A fellow may feel that, whatever TV program he chooses to watch—that's his business! We wouldn't argue that point... but we do ask you to remember, for everything in television, "That's Our Business!"

H. Donald Norstrand, chairman of the Community Chest Budget Committee, stated the increased allotments are designed to meet in part the long overdue salary increases for professional workers in Newton's social and health agencies.

"Without the know-how and guidance of these devoted people, the program and services provided by our local agencies would not be possible," Mr. Norstrand stated.

In its first meeting since the setting up of the United Fund for the Greater Boston area last week, the Chest board enthusiastically endorsed the formation of this new money raising organization. It was pointed out United Funds elsewhere have averaged a 20 percent gain the first year over what was raised separately through independent appeals.

Mr. Jaureguay named Arthur H. Plessis of Auburndale to fill a vacancy on the nominating committee. Other members are Nathan D. Bugbee, West Newton; Franklin D. Jerome, Waban; Mrs. Philip Segal, Newton; Mrs. Loomis Patrick, Waban, and George R. Strandberg, Newton.

Orange and Black Quintet In Upset Over Favored Brockton

An inspired Orange and Black quintet offset a first period nine point deficit, and upset a highly touted Brockton five at the Newton gym last Friday afternoon. Winner of only one of its last seven contests, Ed Poskitt's hoopmen, led by Capt. Al Martin, turned in their best performance of an otherwise dismal season.

The previously once beaten Shoe City squad needed but two wins to qualify for the Tech Tourney and were looking for a soft touch, after belting Newton 56-46 about a month ago at Brockton. In that ballgame Newton scored only thirteen points in the first half and could not fight back. This ballgame looked like a replica of the first encounter when Brockton jumped out to an eighteen to nine lead at the close of the first quarter, but the Orange and Black gamely fought back.

With sophomore sensation Vernon Rollins doing a real good job off the backboards, and "Fuzz" Martin providing the scoring punch, Newton slowly chopped away at the lead. Finally in the late stages of the fourth quarter Newton notched a bucket to tie the contest, and after Brockton missed a field goal attempt, Al Martin was fouled at the final buzzer.

Striding to the charity line, with ten free tosses already to his credit, he calmly cut the twine on both attempts, sending the jubilant Newton team to the dressing room with their fifth victory of the season.

Friday night the Orange and Black, with revenge in their hearts, move over to Waltham for a big night game. In their last meeting at Brandeis, Waltham won a thriller in double overtime after capitalizing on several Newton mistakes; it should be a tough ballgame with plenty of action.

In regard to post-season games, Newton is mathematically eliminated from Tech Tourney competition, but may be entered in the Bay State Tourney.

- Political Overtones -

In winning Furcolo over to his way of thinking and had sold him for or against some matter.

The politician has awakened a day or two later to blink in astonishment over the realization that Governor Furcolo was pursuing a course directly opposite to the one he was expected to take.

That was what happened when Senator John E. Powers and other Democratic chieftains utilized all their talents and abilities of persuasion in an attempt to talk him out of recommending a sales tax.

The explanation apparently is that Governor Furcolo has a habit of nodding his head while he is listening to what is being said to him.

Instead of being a manifestation that he is in accord and agreement with the person addressing him, however, it obviously is merely something of a subconscious mannerism in which he indulges, possibly without even realizing it, as he concentrates and presumably turns over in his mind the statements being made to him.

A lesson which many politicians are going to have to learn the hard way and from actual experience is that while Governor Furcolo is a very polite and attentive listener, it doesn't mean that he necessarily agrees with what is being said to him, even though he nods his head as if in the affirmative.

One fact which has been definitely and indisputably established about Furcolo during the comparatively short time he has served in the Governorship is that he is not a stooge or a puppet for anybody.

When he assumed office five weeks ago today, there was still speculation in some quarters as to what extent, if any, Furcolo would be controlled by former Governor Paul A. Dever, his political patron, and whether Furcolo would be dancing on strings pulled by Dever from behind the scenes.

It was Dever who introduced Furcolo to Greater Boston in the summer of 1952 when he picked him out of Congress and appointed him as State Treasurer. Dever helped to accomplish his nomination as the Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator in 1954 and for Governor last year.

The fact also is that although Furcolo served two and a half years as treasurer and made three different State-wide campaigns, most people in this end of the State didn't really know him when he became their Governor on Jan. 3.

He had not been especially well known as State Treasurer. The spotlight of public attention flickered only fleetingly upon him during that time. Little was known here concerning his earlier service from a western Massachusetts district. As far as this area was concerned, he was not particularly prominent in the period following his defeat for the U. S. Senate. In fact, he returned to western Massachusetts after the 1954 election to practice law.

Even in his campaign for the Governorship last autumn, Furcolo talked principally in generalities. After his election three months ago, a great many people were asking what kind of man he is and wondering what makes him tick.

It's undoubtedly true, as many Democratic politicians assert, that most people in this part of the State still don't really know Furcolo. But they certainly are getting to know him.

The conjecture as to whether Furcolo would be the "real Governor" has ended. There no longer is any doubt whatever that he stands on his own feet and makes his own decisions. That has become about as crystal clear as anything could be.

Whatever influence Dever or anybody else exerts on Furcolo, in the final analysis the present Governor follows his own counsel.

Newsmen who covered him in two major campaigns suspected that was the case because whenever a question arose, nobody but Furcolo himself could answer it. No one else in his organization could speak for him on any matter of major consequence. He invariably spoke for himself. The truth was that no one in Furcolo's camp was sure just what his answer would be on a controversial question. And in most instances now they still aren't sure.

It also is already apparent that Furcolo is proceeding cautiously and conservatively, feeling his way along as he shapes his major decisions. As an example, he could have made a number of major appointments a week ago. He delayed them.

As this is written, a solid wall of secrecy still surrounds the selections Furcolo will make to fill several key positions in the State government. Some holdovers from the Dever administration, whose reappointments are taken for granted in political circles, are uncertain where they stand.

One fairly safe prediction can be made on the basis of Governor Furcolo's first five weeks in office. That is that he is going to provide plenty of surprises during the coming months.

The first real clash between Governor Furcolo and Governor's Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., probably will come when Furcolo moves to oust Matthew J. Collins of Lanesborough and Mrs. Mary Schindler of Hanson from the State Milk Control Board.

Herter will make a vigorous defense of the persons appointed by his father. Should Furcolo testify at the removal proceedings against Collins and Mrs. Schindler, as he has indicated he will, he would be subject to cross-examination by the three Republican members of the Executive Council.

That would be very likely to touch off a spectacular shower of political fireworks. GOP Executive Councillor Charles J. Gabriel is a two-fisted gent who doesn't back away from a fight. That is apt to be a very stormy session.

ONWARD  For God and My Country

Now that the amazing James M. Curley is on the road to recovery, speculation has been rekindled at the State House as to whether he will be placed on the board of MTA trustees, as was reported some weeks ago.

The colorful, doughty Curley, who recently fought his way out of the grim, dark shadows in a room at the Boston City Hospital, campaigned for Governor Furcolo both in 1954 and again last fall and presumably will be named to some position where his talents can be utilized.

Nobody else in the past decade has been able to figure out how to put the MTA on a self-supporting basis. Perhaps the battle-scarred old warrior, who is as mentally agile and alert today as he was a generation ago, might be able to do it, where others before him have failed.

Legislature Making Slow Start

The Massachusetts Legislature has made a very slow start. During its first month of operation it disposed of less than 5 percent of the work pending before it.

That is to be expected because of the necessity for organizing committees at the beginning of a new administration, and the legislative wheels on Beacon Hill gradually will commence to turn with greater speed.

Hottest issues at the moment at the State House, aside from the sales tax proposal, are the questions of restoring rent controls and permitting the use of stray dogs for medical research.

Animal-lovers and anti-vivisectionists have made a forceful fight against the so-called "pound bills," under which dogs would be turned over to medical laboratories if they were not claimed after a specified period.

Sentiment among members of both the House and Senate indicates that measure, which received stronger support this year than ever before, will be enacted and sent to Governor Furcolo for his signature.

A belief also exists among legislative leaders that some form of modified rent-control bill will be passed by the House of Representatives.

What will happen to the measure in the Senate where the Republicans hold a slim majority is somewhat uncertain. Any rent-control law that is adopted will contain a home-rule clause making it subject to acceptance or rejection by the authorities in each city or town.

Rent-gouging by a few landlords, particularly in sections of Boston, have provided ammunition for the legislators who will make the fight for a rent-control law.

Republican leaders have been quietly discussing the possibility of seeking to persuade former Lieutenant Governor Sumner G. Whittier, unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate in last fall's election, to run for Congress next year.

Some of Whittier's friends, however, believe that if he undertakes a political comeback in 1958, it is generally anticipated he will, it will be as a candidate for State office, possibly the Lieutenant Governorship again, rather than Congress.

Whittier took his defeat with such good grace and sportsmanship that he probably is more popular today than on election day last November.

There has been no indication yet as to what Republican is likely to emerge as his party's dominant figure on the State scene and the likely nominee for the Governorship next year. The guessing right now is that it will be either Christian A. Herter, Jr., or GOP State Committee Chairman Charles Gibbons.

Published reports that former Governor's Councillor Bruce Crane is about to launch a gubernatorial drive are not taken seriously. Crane retired from the Executive Council because he could not afford to take the time from his business in Dalton to meet all the demands of that office.

To persons such as former Republican State Committee Chairman Elmer C. Nelson who have talked with Crane and urged him to start campaigning now for the Governorship, he has declared that he will not run and that the same considerations which caused him to withdraw from the Executive Council would keep him out of a gubernatorial contest.

Crane unquestionably would be a strong candidate if he were willing to run. The Republican party, however, in all probability will have to look elsewhere to find the man to head its next State ticket.

What appears to be the real fact is that Crane's admirers in western Massachusetts are trying to start a boom in his behalf but are getting no encouragement from him.

Random Clippings

Out in Portland, Ind., a jury deliberated for 2½ hours over the testimony of Kenneth P. Stolz that the reason he was steering his car along the left side of the road was that he was looking for fox tracks. It finally decided Kenneth was telling the truth and found him not guilty of drunken driving.

But in Paramus, N. J., Theodore Hildebrandt, Jr., was booked for reckless driving, despite his insistence that he had not violated any law. Police flagged Theodore down, when they observed him driving with one hand on the steering wheel, a razor in the other hand and blobs of shaving cream on his face.

The weekly newspaper "Beaver" in Napanee, Ont., last week carried this announcement to its readers: "You may notice some typographical errors in this paper. They were put in intentionally. This paper tries to print something for everyone, and some people are always looking for mistakes."

Heart Research Work to Be Discussed Tonight

Dr. Sylvester McGinn, President Greater Boston Chapter of the Massachusetts Heart Association, will discuss the research work being carried on by "Heart" at an Evening Coffee hour to be held for the Area Chairmen and their Captains at the home of Mrs. Samuel Nesson, 1063 Commonwealth avenue, tonight (Thursday) at 7:45 p.m.

Perky hearts dancing on wires and bright flowers will turn February into June at the annual Valentine dinner dance at the Hunnewell Club of Newton Saturday, February 16. The committee for this event met Monday for luncheon at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Samuel Carnwath, Sargent St., to discuss the details of the smorgasbord dinner, and the floral and Valentine motifs.

Cochairman for the dance is Mrs. Vincent F. Leahy and on the dance committee are Mr. and Mrs. John F. Cochrane, Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Rich, Mr. and Mrs. George St. Clair and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Wulff.

The decorating committee includes Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Fowle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Jones, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Julius Masow, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Tomb, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lovell.

The head of the R. H. James and Co., plumbing concern at 799 Washington St., Newton, Mr. James was the husband of the late Katherine (Purcell) James.

He leaves three daughters, Anna, Marjorie, and Barbara, and a son, John K. James, all of Newtonville.

Services were held in Newtonville on Monday for Walter G. Carlisle, 70, retired electrical engineer who made his home at 212 Cabot St.

A former president of the Greater Boston Electrical Contractors' Association, Mr. Carlisle was graduated from Harvard in 1908. He was a 32nd degree Mason of the Scottish rite, and a member of the First Worshipful Master's Association in Massachusetts.

His wife, Ellen (McKenzie) Carlisle, died last spring. A son, W. Gordon Carlisle of Maryland, and two grandchildren survive. Mr. Carlisle was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church in Newtonville.

A lifelong resident of Auburn, Lyman Winslow Gore died last weekend in Florida where he had been wintering for the past four years.

A retired cotton importer of the Boston firm of Gore Temple Co., Mr. Gore was 73 and had apparently recovered from an operation he underwent at Christmas time. However, he became seriously ill again two weeks ago. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Minnie Stearns Gore of 387 Central St., Auburn. A memorial service will be held at the Church of the Messiah Saturday at 2 p.m.

Walter T. Misch, 65, a salesman for Babson's Reports Inc., died Saturday night at the Veterans Hospital in Jamaica Plain, Mr. Misch, who had been ill for two weeks, lived at 274 Park St., Newton.

A graduate of Brown University in 1911, Mr. Misch had served overseas during World War I. He was a member of a Masonic group in Providence, where funeral services were held on Monday.

He leaves three sons, Robert and Donald of Newton, and Richard of Providence; two daughters, Marion Misch of Newton and Mrs. S. Robert Winer of Nashua, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Sunday for Mrs. Ida Cable, 90, of 34 Sherbrooke Rd., widow of Simon Cable, prominent Jewish leader.

Mrs. Cable, who died Feb. 1 at Beth-Israel Hospital, was one of the founders of that hospital, and of the Jewish Memorial Hospital, and the Chana Tefila Synagogue and Hebrew School in Roxbury.

For the past year and a half, she had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Rubinstein. She is also survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Rose Robbins of Newton and Mrs. Mildred Olin of Brookline; two sons, Robert P. of Chestnut Hill and Julius of Dorchester; 10 grandchildren, and 22 great-grandchildren.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Muriel Merrill and Mrs. Lois Whittinghill of Newton Centre, five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Recent Deaths Local Lady, Dad Lived Under All 34 Presidents

Miss Lena L. Clapp, 91, whose life and that of her late father's spanned the terms of all of this country's presidents, died in Newton on Sunday.

A daughter of the third marriage of Rev. Billings Clapp of Enfield, Me., Miss Clapp was born in 1865, shortly before Lincoln's assassination and when her father was 75 years old. He had been born in 1790, the year after George Washington's inaugural.

One of the first graduates of Mt. Holyoke, Miss Clapp made her home for many years at 32 Hollis street. She was bookkeeper for her late brother, Joseph L. Clapp, a Boston haberdasher for 35 years. A member of the Elliot Congregational Church, Miss Clapp was active in its affairs when she was younger.

MARtha J. DeWOLFE (Mrs. Martha (Fougere) DeWolfe, 250 California St., Newton, died at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital last week after a long illness. She leaves eight children, 22 grandchildren, and 16 great-grandchildren.

Her family includes three sons: James, Harold G. and Wallace; five daughters, Mrs. Ethel Dunn, Mrs. Loretta Waloski, Mrs. Alice Waloski, Mrs. Emily Waloski, and Mrs. Gladys Perry. A native of Nova Scotia, she was the widow of Alfred J. DeWolfe. Funeral services were held on Monday, with a solemn mass of requiem at St. John's Church.

ROBERT H. JAMES Robert Henry James, 80, a plumbing contractor in Newton for over 50 years, died on Friday at his home, 620 Walnut St., Newtonville.

The head of the R. H. James and Co., plumbing concern at 799 Washington St., Newton, Mr. James was the husband of the late Katherine (Purcell) James.

He leaves three daughters, Anna, Marjorie, and Barbara, and a son, John K. James, all of Newtonville.

A retired cotton importer of the Boston firm of Gore Temple Co., Mr. Gore was 73 and had apparently recovered from an operation he underwent at Christmas time. However, he became seriously ill again two weeks ago. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Minnie Stearns Gore of 387 Central St., Auburn. A memorial service will be held at the Church of the Messiah Saturday at 2 p.m.

Walter T. Misch, 65, a salesman for Babson's Reports Inc., died Saturday night at the Veterans Hospital in Jamaica Plain, Mr. Misch, who had been ill for two weeks, lived at 274 Park St., Newton.

A graduate of Brown University in 1911, Mr. Misch had served overseas during World War I. He was a member of a Masonic group in Providence, where funeral services were held on Monday.

He leaves three sons, Robert and Donald of Newton, and Richard of Providence; two daughters, Marion Misch of Newton and Mrs. S. Robert Winer of Nashua, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Sunday for Mrs. Ida Cable, 90, of 34 Sherbrooke Rd., widow of Simon Cable, prominent Jewish leader.

Mrs. Cable, who died Feb. 1 at Beth-Israel Hospital, was one of the founders of that hospital, and of the Jewish Memorial Hospital, and the Chana Tefila Synagogue and Hebrew School in Roxbury.

For the past year and a half, she had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Rubinstein. She is also survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Rose Robbins of Newton and Mrs. Mildred Olin of Brookline; two sons, Robert P. of Chestnut Hill and Julius of Dorchester; 10 grandchildren, and 22 great-grandchildren.

DENNIS H. CROWLEY Dennis H. Crowley, 87, of 68 Old Farm Rd., Newton Centre, died on Saturday after an illness of about two weeks. Born in Ireland, Mr. Crowley was a retired machinist and had been a member of the M.C.O.F. He had lived in Newton for 15 years.

Besides his wife, Nora (Lynch) Crowley, he leaves four children, Mae and John F. of Newton, Daniel H. of Weston and Mrs. Margaret Tommeson of Beverly, and four grandchildren. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at the Sacred Heart Church Tuesday.

DOROTHY E. COLE Funeral services were held on Friday afternoon for Mrs. Dorothy E. (Snow) Cole, 86, of 20 Somerset Rd., West Newton, at the Second Congregational Church.

A resident of this city for more than 50 years, she was the widow of Herbert M. Cole, president of the Boston News Co. Mrs. Cole served on the advisory committee of the Newton-Waltham Bank for 30 years, and was a member of the Newton Mothers Club and the D.A.R.

She is survived by three sons, Richard B. of West Newton, Horace and John of Weston; seven grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

SARAH L. BATES Miss Sarah L. Bates, 77, a retired home economics teacher, died here last week after an illness of six months. Born in Newton, she had taught in the South for many years. She had studied at M.I.T. and at Columbia University.

Miss Bates was a member of the choir at the Church of the Messiah in Auburndale for 13 years. Before her illness she made her home with Mrs. Margaret Smith, Maple Ave., Newton. She leaves no immediate relatives.

LILLIAN KALISH Mrs. Lillian Kalish, 75, died on Friday following an illness of three months. She had made her home for the past seven years with her daughter, Mrs. Maurice Rubin, 20 Ransom Rd., Newton Centre, where memorial week is being observed.

A native of Dorchester, Mrs. Kalish was the widow of Casper Kalish. In addition to Mrs. Rubin, she leaves another daughter, Estelle Roth of Newton, and two sons, Dr. L. Leo Kalish of Chestnut Hill and Sidney of Quincy. She is also survived by nine grandchildren.

MAE ELLEN WACOME Mrs. George W. Wacome, 64, of 1 Billings Park, Newton, died on Friday, Feb. 1, and funeral services were held from her late residence on Sunday afternoon.

The former Mae Ellen Marshall, she came to Newton 16 years ago, having lived in Lowell and Watertown. Her husband is employed by an industrial catering service. Mrs. Wacome was a member of the Christian Assembly of Belmont.

Besides her husband, she leaves two daughters, Mrs. Grace Beers and Mrs. Priscilla Benefit, and two sons, Donald and Douglas.

WILLIAM F. SHERBURNE A resident of Newton Centre since 1928, William F. Sherburne died suddenly at his home, 14 Walter St., the morning of Jan. 29.

Apparently in good health since recovering from a shock a year ago, Mr. Sherburne was 71 and had been retired for five years. He was formerly a salesman for the A. C. Laurence Leather Co.

He leaves his wife, the former Josephine Goode of Quincy; a daughter, Mrs. "Billie" Emanuelson, who was a prima ballerina in New York before her marriage, and two grandchildren.

JULIA M PAGE A longtime resident of Newton, Mrs. Julia (Moss) Page died here last week after a year's sickness. The widow of Edgar C. Page, she was in her late 70s.

The Pages made their home for many years at 28 Brewster Rd., Newton Highlands. Mrs. Page was a member of the N. H. Congregational Church, where her husband had served as a deacon. She is survived by one son, Kendall, of Long Island, and a grandson.

HENRY D. CHILDS Funeral services for Henry D. Childs, owner of Leonard's Restaurant in Newton Upper Falls, were held Monday. A lifelong resident of Needham, Mr. Childs died Feb. 1 at the age of 40.

PATRICIA K. PAYNE Mrs. Patricia K. (Boyd) Payne, 61, of West Newton died on Feb. 3. She had been in ill health for more than a year. The wife of Fred M. Payne, 153 Fairway Dr., she was a native of Toronto and came to Newton in 1946.

Besides her husband, she leaves a son, Fred R. of Connecticut, a daughter, Mrs. R. G. Hoopes of California, and two grandchildren. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon.

I favor the adoption of a sales tax only because it seems clear that it is absolutely necessary that our Commonwealth have a major source of new revenue. In this article I will endeavor to explain why it is necessary.

In considering Governor Furcolo's proposal for a sales tax, it should be remembered that we do not have a choice between a sales tax and no other new tax. The choice confronting us is between a sales tax and some other tax which may be even more onerous and injurious to our State and its people.

Why is it necessary that the State obtain a major source of new revenue?

For the next fiscal year there is an anticipated deficit of $25,000,000. Increases in certain fixed expenditures are unavoidable. For example, the cost of servicing the present State debt will rise by $10,000,000 in the next two years and then remain constant through 1962. Pensions for State employees and teachers grow steadily larger as do the cost of salary increases under the Barrington report. The cost of maintaining the public and mental health programs becomes bigger each year.

Even if most existing programs are kept at their present level, there is a demand and a genuine need for certain new services, including the building of new schools, highways and sewer systems and a major expansion at the University of Massachusetts.

Some persons undoubtedly will ask why the present large expenditures by the State cannot be reduced. They presumably will point out that our Commonwealth has a reputation of being a "high tax" State and of providing very "liberal services. For example:

"Our overall unemployment insurance program is the most expensive in the United States and furnishes the highest benefits.

"We rate fourth among the 48 States in old age assistance and aid to dependent children and first in aid to the blind.

"Our pension and retirement system for State and local employees is the most liberal in the nation.

"We have more subsidized public housing units in proportion to population than any other State.

"We have more mental hospital patients with respect to population than any other State except Delaware.

"We rank fourth in State-aided school lunch programs.

"We are highest in the numbers of employees in police and fire protection and public health and hospital services in proportion to population.

"On the average, working hours for municipal employees in Massachusetts are the shortest in the country."

These programs are all socially desirable. Theoretically, you could cut them. But WHICH PROGRAM IS IT POSSIBLE TO CUT? As a practical matter, probably the best that can be done is to keep our liberal policies at the present level and not increase them. Massachusetts is an old State and not as comparatively wealthy as it used to be. Real property in the older cities is depreciating and the tax base for real estate taxes is constantly shrinking. Market value, per capita, in Massachusetts in 1955 was less than any other major city in the U. S.

We have the highest property tax burden in the nation, with a diminishing base for raising increased revenue. Last year there was an average $5 increase throughout the State, the highest in history.

Therefore, a vital reason for a major new source of additional revenue is to lighten the burden on real estate. It is hoped that real estate will thus become a more attractive investment, that obsolete buildings will be replaced with new and higher value structures and that the overdue process of broadening the tax base will perhaps begin.

It must be realized that Massachusetts is in competition for economic survival. It cannot worsen its relative tax position with respect to its competitor States. If it does, we will lose business and industry, and our people will be thrown out of work.

We often hear it said that the sales tax will shift the tax burden to the man least able to afford it. That obviously is an erroneous statement. The person who pays the most in sales taxes, of course, will be the person with the most money to spend on taxable items.

Let us assume that a man is earning $80 a week or about $4000 a year. After he pays his rent or makes the mortgage payments on his home, buys food, clothing for his children, pays the heat, light and gas bill, how much would he be spending for taxable items? If it were $500, he would pay $15 under the sales tax. If it were $1000, which would be a rather large estimate, he would pay $30. The sales tax might well prevent a $5 increase in his rent.

If there must be a major source of new revenue, where should it come from? Can it come from existing taxes? Let's examine the facts.

We have the highest property taxes in the United States. We have the highest corporation tax levy. We have a substantial personal income tax. Such major competing States as Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio and Rhode Island have NO personal income tax.

We have a substantial capital gains tax, plus host of excise taxes.

Therefore, any increase in existing taxes would appear to price us completely out of the market, and our survival as a State depends on increased economic activity. INDUSTRIALLY, WE ARE NOT AT PRESENT HOLDING OUR OWN.

Governor Furcolo has recommended the exemption of food, domestic fuels, children's clothing, drugs and medicine, and such things as gasoline and meals over $1 which already are taxed. The argument may be offered that these exemptions might be wiped out in future years. I do not believe that is true. I am discussing the sales tax bill under discussion, not a mythical one which exists only in someone's imagination.

A total of 32 States and 250 municipalities have such a tax. It is the biggest single source of revenue in all those States. It is estimated that a 3 percent sales tax, with the specified exemptions, would yield from $100,000,000 to $120,000,000 a year, considerably more than either the total corporate excise or the personal income tax is now yielding. If two-thirds of the proceeds are distributed to cities and towns, as proposed, this would amount to an $8-$10 reduction on the tax rate. Picture the psychological benefits rate $10.

Two major criticisms are directed against a proposed sales tax. 1. That it would drive retail business out of the State. Experience in other States shows that is not true. 2. That it is a regressive tax which hits those least able to afford it and that a graduated income tax, which is progressive, is a far better alternative.

All the experts, including Professor Arnold M. Soloway of Harvard, the tax spokesman for the ADA, admit that with certain exemptions a sales tax is mildly progressive.

A graduated income tax requires a constitutional amendment. Even if the Legislature were willing to adopt it, which is doubtful, it could not be submitted to the voters until 1960. It could not solve the immediate or the interim situation.

In order to yield an amount of revenue even approaching that which a sales tax would produce, individual exemptions (now $2000) would have to be drastically lowered with a graduated income tax. This would place the major burden on those in the lower income brackets. The net effect would be regressive.

Governor Leader of Pennsylvania established a bipartisan 12-member commission more than a year ago to examine into new sources of revenue for that State. A vice president of the United Mine Workers served as co-chairman of the commission. All the Democrats at the beginning strongly opposed a sales tax.

After a careful and detailed study by the commission, its unanimous recommendation last December was that a sales tax was definitely preferable to a graduated income tax. It is reasonable to predict that a similar conclusion will be forthcoming from responsible labor groups in Massachusetts.

If we could avoid the enactment of any new taxes, I would oppose a sales tax. I support it only as a last resort. I feel that it would be less harmful to all our people than any other tax which would provide the money that must be raised.

Opposesvanced in favor of the sales tax it that it would mean a saving for the average home-owner. I believe I can show that is a fallacy.

Let us, for example, take the case of a home in a community such as West Roxbury which is assessed for $10,000. The owner of that dwelling supposedly would be helped by a sales tax. Let's see whether he really would be helped or not.

On the basis of last year's $78.70 tax rate, that home-owner would pay a real estate tax of $787.

It is estimated that the limited 3 per cent sales tax would yield $125,000,000 a year. The State would take $32,000,000 of that amount, leaving about $93,000,000 for distribution to the cities and towns of the Commonwealth.

Boston, under the formula that would be used to divide the money between the local communities, would get about 20 per cent of the $93,000,000, or approximately $18,600,000.

That $18,600,000, if used in its entirety to cut the tax rate, would result in a reduction of $12.70 on the rate. That would mean a saving of $127 for the owner of the house assessed for $10,000.

If that same home-owner received a salary of $6000 a year and spent the entire amount for living expenses, he would pay 3 percent of his salary—or $180 a year—on the sales tax. Instead of the sales tax accomplishing a saving for him, it has caused him to spend an additional $53 in taxes.

If, on the other hand, he spent only $4000 of his income on taxable items, the sales tax would cost him $120. He would have made a net saving of $7.

However, if that same home-owner has gainfully employed sons and daughters, each of whom spent, say $1200 on taxable items, then each would pay an additional $3 in taxes (3 per cent of $1200). That family obviously would pay more taxes—not less—under a sales tax.

Exactly the same principle applies to the home-owner in other communities, whether it be Dedham or Dover, Needham or Newton, Milton or Westwood, Brookline or Cambridge.

The tax rates in those cities and towns are lower than in Boston, but the saving in real estate taxes would be about the same under comparable circumstances.

A projection of the figures will show that the relief the home-owner in Dedham or Needham, Newton or Milton, will get is purely an illusion, just as it is in Boston.

It is my contention that money is to be extorted from persons in very humble circumstances under the guise of relieving the home-owner but that the home-owner in reality gets no relief.

Now, then, who does benefit from a sales tax? The large property owner—the owner of expensive business property—is the only real beneficiary, and I will support and substantiate that statement.

Let us take the case of the owner of a commercial building assessed for $200,000. His tax bill, under the same formula explained earlier, would be cut from $15,740 to $10,600, a saving of $5140.

The saving for the owner of a building assessed for $1,000,000 would be five times as great or $25,700. Is it any wonder that the big commercial property owners are advocating a sales tax? And is anyone naive enough to believe that the owners of big apartment houses are going to reduce their present exorbitant rents even if his tax bill is lowered?

One of the worst features of the sales tax bill, in my opinion, is that even though the present Legislature may exempt certain items such as food from the sales tax, future Legislatures can wipe out those exemptions until the so-called modified sales tax becomes a general tax.

Massachusetts had better forget a modified sales tax and start talking about a general sales tax. That has been the history of the sales tax—raising the percentage of the tax and cutting down the list of items that are exempt from it.

A campaign already has been started to have the sales tax apply to food and everything else. The current issue of the "Yankee Grocer," which describes itself as the newspaper of New England's major markets, urges that there be no exemptions whatever from the sales tax.

The reason giving by the "Yankee Grocer" for its amazing proposal is that it would cause confusion and a slowdown at the cashier's counter if it was necessary to separate the taxable and non-taxable items. So they want the tax to apply to milk, bread, meat and everything else.

That is exactly what I have been expecting would happen, and it is one of the reasons I am so vigorously opposed to a sales tax.

A sales tax would deal a terrible blow to Massachusetts cities and towns close to the State lines of New York, New Hampshire and Vermont, three States which have no sales tax. If we enact a sales tax, people from communities such as Haverhill, Lawrence, Lowell, Pittsfield and North Adams will be crossing into other States to do their shopping.

Just imagine what would happen if a 3 per cent sales tax were levied on new automobiles. Statistics show that 160,000 new cars are destined for Massachusetts in 1957. If the price of the average new car was $3000 and one-half of the potential purchasers went to neighboring States to buy their new automobiles—and they might be motivated to do so in order to save $90 on a $3000 car—it would mean a loss of $225,000,000 in business for Massachusetts dealers.

The same thing would be true of used cars, furniture, television sets, building materials, farm machinery and other expensive items. Incidentally, the Illinois Supreme Court has ruled that it is unconstitutional to levy a "use tax" on items purchased outside the State.

Is the sales tax to be levied on haircuts, shoe shines, beauty treatments and the personal services of a doctor or dentist?

What amount is to be set as a ceiling? Is it to be on all purchases of over six cents, as in West Virginia, where even candy bars are to be taxed? Or is it to be over 34 cents?

My objection to the sales tax in a nutshell is that a great many people, who cannot afford to assume additional tax burdens, will be asked to pay additional taxes in order to cut the tax bills of a comparatively few well-to-do owners of high value business properties.

privilege." Should Senate Bill 239 be adopted it would mean that 90 percent of the cost of construction of a Freeway would be borne by the Federal government.

Mayor Whitmore and his Citizens Committee cannot urge too strongly the attendance at the hearing next Tuesday of every citizen of this city who can possibly find the time to attend. The future of Newton may well be hanging in the balance and consequently Mayor Whitmore intends to leave no stone unturned in an effort to have a freeway constructed rather than a toll road extension through the heart of this community.

Foreign Students In NHS Panel

Foreign students from Java, Italy, France and Sweden will compare their home-town high schools with high schools in the U. S. in a panel discussion at a Newton High School assembly Monday.

The program is part of an effort to raise funds to sponsor a foreign student in Newton next year. This year's American Field Service student, Bodil Westergren from Sweden, will be one of the panelists.

Moderator will be Alan Martin, president of the Student Council.

Throughout next week, "Heart Throbs for Foreign Nations" will be sold at the high school. These are small red flags bearing the emblem of the AFS, an international scholarship exchange program. The funds raised will be used towards bringing a foreign teenage boy to Newton High School next year. Mrs. John R. Swanton Jr. is local chairman of the American Field Service exchange program.

Clearance Sale At Thrift Shop

The annual mid-winter clearance sale will be held at the Bigelow-Underwood Thrift Shop Wednesday. All winter clothes will be reduced one-half. This includes coats, jackets, suits, boots, and skates. Many other items will be reduced 25% to 50%.

There will be no receiving February 13 or February 27. Starting March 6, spring merchandise will be accepted.

All articles will be automatically included in this sale unless removed by the owners on or before February 6.

The Thrift Shop is open each Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. on regular school days, but will close at 2:30 p.m. during single session days.

Luncheon To Benefit Retarded Children's Assoc.

A dessert luncheon on behalf of the Friends of Boston Association for Retarded Children will be held Tuesday, February 12, at 1:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. William Spear, 310 Waverley avenue, Newton.

Guest speaker will be Miss Catherine E. Chipman, principal psychologist at the Fernald State School in Waltham, whose subject will be "The Retarded Child and The Community".

Mrs. Maurice Wolf of Newton, president and founder of Friends of BARC, will be present at the dessert luncheon. Presiding will be Mrs. Norman Mamber and Mrs. Stanley Schwartz, co-chairmen of membership for Friends of BARC. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Theodore Weller and Mrs. Saul Robbins of Brookline, and Mrs. Leon Hammer of Newton.

Now in its third year, Friends of BARC supports a nursery school for retarded children, maintained at the BARC House, 42 the Fenway, and a Saturday Recreational Group at the Rebecca Pomeroy House in Newton. Friends of BARC also support a Retardation Unit at the Children's Medical Center.

Florida Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Saul Oppen of 331 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, flew to Miami Beach, Florida, recently. They plan to spend three weeks there at the Hotel George.

On the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Porter of 152 East-side Parkway, Newtonville, flew to Miami, Florida for a two weeks stay. They will visit relatives including Mrs. Esther Porter, formerly of Newton and Mrs. Julius Brecher of Jackson road, Newton, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Esther Porter.

At Naples-On-The-Gulf, Florida are Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Rich of 269 Franklin street, who are spending the winter holiday at the Beach Club Hotel.

Mintz-Sherry Nuptial Soon

Mr. and Mrs. David J. Mintz of Newton announce the engagement of their daughter, Lee Abigail, to Mr. Murray Elliot Sherry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacques M. Sherry of New York.

Miss Mintz is a senior at Boston University, School of Education, where she is an officer of Gamma Sigma Sigma, national service sorority, and a member of Torch and Scarlet Key, honorary societies. She was recently elected to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

Mr. Sherry received his Bachelor degree in Engineering Physics from Cornell University in 1955, and a Master of Arts from Harvard University in 1956. He is continuing his studies at Harvard for a doctorate in Applied Physics, and is a physicist at the Air Force Cambridge Research Center. While an undergraduate, he was a member of Watermargin House.

A March wedding has been planned.

St. Francis Guild Literary Evening

The members of the Guild of Saint Francis and their friends will enjoy a literary evening at the Sacred Heart School Hall, Newton Centre, next Tuesday, February 12, at 8:00 p.m.

At the invitation of the president, Mrs. E. Lake Jones, members of the afternoon and evening book clubs of the Sacred Heart Parish will present the program, with Mrs. Daniel J. Sheehan as moderator.

Mrs. Peter Rueter, chairman of the Afternoon Club, has assigned Mrs. John Sanroma, Mrs. Martin J. Danahy and Mrs. Sheehan to review "The Beloved", "The Success", and "In The Steps of Saint Paul".

The Evening Book Club chairman, Mrs. Rene J. Marcou, has selected Mrs. Ralph Meyer, Mrs. John Betts, and Muriel Joyce Grapes to discuss "Long Day's Journey", "The Long Loneliness", and "The Nun's Story". Refreshments will be served under the supervision of Mrs. John T. Riley, hospitality chairman.

MISS EPSTEIN IS BRIDE OF MR. ARTHUR A. LEBOW

Miss Judith Epstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Epstein of Newton, became the bride of Mr. Arthur A. Lebow last Sunday at Temple Emanuel in Newton. Rabbi Albert I. Gordon, assisted by Cantor Gabriel Hochberg, officiated at the six-thirty ceremony. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Lebow of Brighton.

Pink orchids trimmed the white lace fan worn by the bride with her gown of white tulle. Seed pearls outlined the sabbina neckline and decorated the train of her full skirt. Mrs. Sam Gruzen of Brighton was matron of honor and Miss Phyllis Katz of Kew Gardens, New York, served as maid of honor. The bride's flower girl was Miss Marjorie Gruzen of Brighton. Mr. Epstein gave his daughter in marriage.

The best man was William Epstein of Framingham. Ushers included Danny Krouner, Ralph Samuels, Bernard Roazen, Paul Royle, Sam Gruzen, Jerry Berkman, Marvin Cantor and Sidney Shapiro.

Mrs. Lebow attended Syracuse University and Boston University. Her husband studied at Paul Smith's College and the University of Denver. After a wedding trip to Florida and Nassau they will make their home in Brighton.

Hadassah Forms Junior Auxiliary

An organization for young single women has been formed under the auspices of Hadassah. The group, which has been named Hadassah Junior Auxiliary, is for girls in their 20s. The program adopted is similar to the program of Hadassah groups. Education will be stressed as the main function. All funds raised within the group will be donated to the Youth Aliyah program. Many fund-raising and educational programs have been planned for the next few months, including study groups, lectures, Onegil Shabbat, dance, bridge and raffle, co-ed affairs and other interesting programs.

Officers of the group are: President, Pearl Grossman; vice-presidents, Sylvia Richmond and Helen Porter; treasurer, Sheila Smokler; recording secretary, Janice Kellert; corresponding secretary, Elaine Rosenbloom. Advisor to the group is Mrs. Norman Rosenberg of Newton. Any girl desiring to join, please call Pearl Grossman, Hy 3-0919 evenings.

A dance has been planned for the holiday eve of Feb. 21. It will be in the Princess Ballroom of the Somerset Hotel, Boston. Working on the committee are Charlotte Arstensten and Sheila Ginsburg, Janice Kellert, Gloria Adelson and Pearl Grossman.

College Notes

Miss Margaret Ann Hobbs of 24 Dunklee Street, Newton Highlands, has been awarded an Alumnae Regional Scholarship to Wheaton College in Norton, an honor granted only to outstanding scholars.

Margaret, who has just completed the first half of her freshman year at Wheaton, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard George Hobbs, and is a 1956 graduate of Newton High School.

Dr. George P. Fulton of 204 Waverly Avenue, Newton, professor of biology and chairman of the biology department at Boston University's College of Liberal Arts, has received a renewal of a research grant from the office of the Surgeon General of the U. S. Army, for the "Evaluation of Plasma Expanders."

Plasma expanders are used to expand the blood in cases of shock. Since any national emergency such as an atomic attack would drain the available supply of plasma, the country would need a non-toxic substitute which would remain in the blood vessels. Dr. Fulton began research on this topic several years ago with the aid of members of the University's Graduate School.

MISS JOAN GUINEY WED TO MR. HARDY IN WABAN

Last Saturday morning at an eleven o'clock ceremony in St. Philip Neri Church in Waban, Miss Joan Marie Guiney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Guiney of Waban, became the bride of Mr. John F. Hardy. The church was decorated with white snapdragons and carnations as the Rev. John Cummings officiated at the marriage. A reception followed.

The bride's father escorted her to the altar. With her pure silk ivory taffeta gown, designed with fitted bodice, long sleeves and bouffant skirt ending in a cathedral train, she wore an illusion veil and carried a prayer book covered with a white orchid and streamers of stephanotis. Mrs. Thomas O'Leary of Andover, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Walter L. Wilkins of Warwick, Rhode Island, also a sister of the bride, and Miss Joan Bruce of West Newton.

The bridegroom's brother, Donald Hardy of North Weymouth, served as best man. The ushers included Robert W. Stuart of Rahway, New Jersey, and Walter W. Weeden, Jr., of Rochester, New Hampshire.

The bride was graduated from Framingham State Teachers' College. Mr. Hardy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Plunkett of West Roxbury, is an alumnus of Northeastern University. The couple will live in Pampa, Texas, following a wedding trip to Sea Island, Georgia and New Orleans.

Newton Art Association Exhibit Sat.

The February meeting of the Newton Art Association will be held tonight at the Newtonville Library at 7:45 p.m. Program chairman, James K. Bonnar, will present a resident of Newton, Dwight C. Shepler, artist and lecturer who will lecture and demonstrate water color technique. Mr. Shepler is nationally famous for his water color pictures of winter sports and landscapes. He has recently spent some time painting in the European Alps. Any Newton resident not a member of the Association may attend this program by paying a guest fee of .50c.

The Association's seventh annual Art Exhibit of New England landscapes and marines in oils and water color will be at the R. H. Stearns Chestnut Hill store; scheduled to open February 9 and will be open to the public through February 21. Pictures on exhibit may be purchased by the public.

The Exhibition committee of the Association supervising the picture selection and arrangements includes:

Mrs. Martin J. Connelly, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Story Granger; Mrs. George W. Palmer, III; Mrs. Grace Stone; Mrs. Jennie M. Peters; Mr. Roy A. Randall; and Mrs. Harold C. Seranton.

Newton Group Of Hadassah

In the interests of Hadassah Supplies and the Bargain Spot, a home-baked goods sale will be featured at the breakfast meeting of the Newton Group of Hadassah Wednesday morning, February 13, at Temple Emanuel. Members are asked to bring either an item of saleable merchandise or baked goods. They will thus be eligible for the door prize.

Special highlight will be Mrs. Carl Spector reviewing "Way of Valor," the new biography of Golda Meir by Marie Syrkin.

Mrs. Allan Cohen will report on American Affairs.

Hostesses for the breakfast will be Mrs. Sidney Jockowitz, chairman of The Bargain Spot and Mrs. Charles Popkin, chairman of Hadassah Supplies.

Mrs. Sidney Yoffe, president, will preside.

MISS GENEVIEVE L. ONCLEY

Miss Oncley's Engagement Is Announced

Miss Genevieve Louise Oncley, whose parents, Professor and Mrs. John Lawrence Oncley of Newtonville, announce her engagement to Carl E. Nordahl, Jr., U.S.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Nordahl of Jamaica Plain.

Miss Oncley graduated from Newton High School, attended the University of London and Bates College, and is now a member of the class of 1959 at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York.

Mr. Nordahl prepared at Boston Latin School for Bates College and is now stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Honored On Anniversary

Vice President Brooks A. Heath was honored at a recent luncheon held in commemoration of his 25th year with the Loyal Protective Life Insurance Company. John M. Powell, president of the Loyal, was master of ceremonies at the celebration, which was attended by a number of general agents and field supervisors attending a conference at the Company's Home Office January 29. President Powell lauded Heath's contribution to the Company's progress during the past 25 years, and presented him with a handsome Longines wrist watch bearing the inscription: "B. A. Heath - 25 Years Loyal Service." Vice President Heath, who is the Company's chief claims officer, joined Loyal in 1932.

Heath and his wife, Frances, have made their home on Leslie Road in Auburndale for a number of years, where he has been active in community affairs - notably as a member of the Norumbega Masonic Lodge.

A fourth child, first daughter, Michele Patricia Keenan, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. J. Keenan (Agnes O'Grady) of Newton Upper Falls, December 31. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John A. O'Grady of Newton Highlands and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred B. Keenan of Jamaica Plain.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS

NRC Equipment Corporation has immediate needs to fill several challenging positions. As a leader in the design and manufacture of highly engineered industrial capital equipment we offer unique opportunities for progress and supervisory responsibility for the right men.

Our programs often adapt the most advanced laboratory developments to large scale production units. They include the design and construction of the world's largest skull-type Titanium Arc furnace, 1 ton and larger vacuum induction steel melting and casting furnaces, their power supplies, controls and associated instrumentation.

The unusual electrical problems inherent in such projects require sound fundamental training and an aptitude for creative design and original thinking.

Newton Tracksters Chalk Up Class A Championship

Lemoine Boyle's Newton tracksters had to fight off a determined Rindge Tech squad to chalk up another victory and the Class A championship in the annual Interscholastic Meet at Boston Garden last Sat. afternoon.

The boys from Cambridge put up a determined effort, but fell short by a mere 2 1/2 points. The Orange and Black might have won by a bigger margin had not Pete Nelson taken a 600 yard run and had to settle for a last place finish. The Flying Swede flashed the second best time in this same distance at the BAA meet two weeks ago. John Head equalled the record for the 300 yard run with a fine 33s effort, and this was but one of the many record equalling and breaking performances at this state meet.

Class A
Newton 25, Rindge 22 1/2, Malden 19, Weymouth 14 1/2, Brookline 14, Boston Tech 10, New Bedford 9 1/2 took the first seven places in team standings.

Other point getters in order of their total were: Boston English, Boston Latin, Arlington, Somerville, Memorial, and Lawrence Central.

High Jump — Won by Marty Beckwith (N) H — 6 ft. 2 7/8 inches.

Hurdles — No Newton qualified.

300 — Won by Johnny Head (N) T — 33s.

600 — Fourth place — Phil Johnson (N).

1000 — Second place — Brian Havey (N).

1 Mile — No Newton qualified.

Relay — Third place — Newton.

Friday night the shot put event was held and it turned out to be a record shattering occurrence all the way. Earl Beasley of Brookline took first place in the Class A entries with a record breaking heave of 58 ft. 5 in. This may possibly be a new New England indoor high school record, for further checking has not shown evidence to the contrary. In second place was Boston Tech's Vin Bono with a 54 ft. 2 1/2 in. toss which was below his record performance in the Boston Tri Meet. Newton's Jimmy King did a creditable job in finishing third to this elite group with a very fine effort of 52 ft. 2 3/8 in.

Other record performances in Class A included a brilliant effort by the Rindge Tech relay team for a class record, and Head's record run in the 300. Brookline's Don Hootstein, who was disqualified from his winning race two weeks ago, placed third in the 300.

Marty Beckwith retained his unbeaten record in the high jump, and it very well could take the Nationals to produce a serious threat to Beckwith. He turned in a very fine leap of 6 ft. 2 7/8 inches. Next week the Tigers should continue their unbeaten record when they meet Malden at the 101 St. Inf. Armory at 12 p.m.

Pollard Opticians Open Branch Here

to close out their regular season competition. Malden placed third in the state meet and was figured to be the toughest opponent for the Tigers in early season predictions, but the tremendous depth of the Orange and Black squad should swing the tide in their favor.

Beacon Street at the corner of Walnut, next to the Simpson House Restaurant. Because of a widely expanding business in the Newton area, this additional office has been indicated for some time. It will make available to the residents of all the Newtons, Wellesley, Waltham, Needham and the nearby towns the same conscientious optical prescription service that has characterized Pollard Opticians since the business was founded in Boston over 50 years ago, and it promises greater convenience than has been possible in the past.

Will Direct Seal Sales In Boston

Miss Norma Solimene, Executive Director of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association for the past two years has submitted her resignation to become effective March 15. The association has accepted the resignation "with deep regret."

Miss Solimene is leaving to become the Seal Sale Director of the Boston Division of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health League, the local constituent of the National Tuberculosis Association.

A native of Waban, Miss Solimene joined the Newton staff as its health educational educator in May, 1955, and was promoted to Executive Director in August of that same year. Under her direction, the association has successfully completed several major projects, has expanded many of its local health services, and has made plans for many new programs in the future. One outstanding advance has been the recent acceptance of the tuberculosis association's rehabilitation demonstration by the Middlesex County Sanatorium, which took over the in-sanatorium program in July, 1956. In progress since September, the hospital admission X-ray program at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital represents another recent accomplishment, which involved long and careful planning.

Miss Solimene, winner of the Girls' Senior Cup at Newton High School, was a Wellesley Scholar at Wellesley College, from which she graduated in 1954. Prior to her work in Newton, she was on the staff of the Health Education Department of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health League.

She is currently the corresponding secretary of the Massachusetts Conference of Tuberculosis.

Raise $9,653 In Arthritis Drive

The residents of this city, in an extraordinary demonstration of giving, wrote a success story for the local 1956-57 "Arthritis" drive, it was announced from Boston.

The Newton campaign raised a total of $9,653.27. This figure represents a whopping 49 percent over the $6,462.00 raised during the entire 1955-56 campaign in the community.

The chapter president, Kenneth Howes Jr., heaped plaudits for the success of the campaign on the workers involved and on Ernest C. Angevine, chairman of the drive, and George E. White, treasurer.

Quick to respond to the reaction the drive's success brought forth, Mr. Angevine said:

"It was a pleasure to work in behalf of the arthritis drive in Newton. Although drive officials, volunteers and others gave much of themselves, for which I will be forever grateful, we must not forget the generous Newton householders who opened their pocketbooks in answer to our appeal.

"We sensed that they did not give simply because they regarded giving as the accepted, civic thing to do. We learned that they gave because they are aware of, and sympathetic to, the cause behind the arthritis drive."

Mr. Angevine described arthritis as a "fiendish" crippler which either attacks or constantly threatens all members in all segments of our society. He said that Newton, through its generosity, has brought closer that knowledgeable day when medical science "will—and must" find the answer to this baffling crippler.

Saltonstall Gives Evidence That He Will Seek Reelection

U. S. Senator Leverett Saltonstall has intimated at various times to members of his party that he does not plan to run again and that he intends to retire from office at the end of 1960, when his present term expires.

Now, however, Republican politicians consider that Saltonstall is talking exactly like a man who has every intention of standing for reelection.

The shift in opinion concerning Saltonstall's future plans resulted from the action of the senior Massachusetts Senator in injecting himself into a dispute over where the Senate contest should be placed on the State election ballot.

If he were not planning to wage another senatorial campaign, the natural assumption is that he would not concern himself with the matter and would remain out of the controversy. He did not do that, however.

Saltonstall not only joined in the argument but left Republican members of the State Senate somewhat baffled after they considered they had prevented Democratic legislators from engineering a rather neat political coup.

Local Residents Oppose Sales Tax

Final figures in the poll conducted by The Graphic during the past two weeks indicate that Newton residents are opposed to the enactment of a sales tax by a margin of almost 3 to 2. The total straw vote for this city was 407 in favor of a sales tax and 572 against it.

Supporters of the sales tax made decided gains on the poll during the past week, but not enough to change the result of the returns.

The returns came as a surprise to many legislative leaders on Beacon Hill who had anticipated that Newton homeowners would be in favor of the sales tax proposal as a means of lowering their real estate tax bills.

The pattern of the sales tax straw vote in Newton was somewhat similar to the results of comparable polls made in Dedham and Needham.

In Needham the straw vote was 539 in favor of a sales tax and 627 against it. In Dedham the vote was 308 for a sales tax and 539 against it.

The same poll revealed that the people in West Roxbury, Roslindale and Milton, favor a sales tax. In the West Roxbury-Roslindale - Forest Hills area the vote was 1123 for a sales tax and 441 against it. In Milton the vote was 374 for a sales tax and 231 against it.

A number of the 407 Newton residents who cast their straw votes for a sales tax said they expect that it would cut down the taxes they would be obliged to pay on their homes.

Some of them sent in notes with their ballots declaring they had figured out that they would actually save money under the sales tax and that the tax would cost them less than the reduction they would realize on their real estate tax bills.

Others expressed the belief that the sales tax would be relatively "painless" and that the few pennies paid out at a time under the so-called limited sales tax would not be missed.

That opinion, of course, was in the minority. Many of the 539 men and women who voted against the sales tax said they felt it would be a real headache and a nuisance.

They complained that they'll be buying items priced at 99 cents only to discover when they pay for them that they cost $1.02 with the tax.

A great many people wrote in during the poll to assert that they haven't actually decided whether they are for or against

Innocent Plea Is Entered By Kivlehan

Walter J. Kivlehan, 38, of this city, a male nurse, pleaded innocent in Middlesex Superior Court Monday to murder in the shooting of his mother, Mrs. Bridget McMahon, Jan. 10.

Last Friday the Middlesex County Grand Jury indicted Kivlehan on a first degree murder charge in connection with the shooting. The 35-year-old male nurse had been held without bail since Jan. 10.

Police said Kivlehan confessed firing seven bullets at his mother because "she worried about bills."

Dean Elsbeth Melville Heads Greater Boston Camp Fire Girls

Dean Elsbeth Melville, (Mrs. Altee Percy of Newtonville), University Dean of Women of Boston University, was re-elected president of the Council for Greater Boston Camp Fire Girls at the annual meeting held in the USC building in Boston last Thursday.

Dean Melville, presided at the luncheon for almost three hundred leaders and committee members gathered from 52 Greater Boston communities. The main speaker of the affair was Dr. Leo Berner of Newton Centre, head of Groups Projects Psychiatric service at the Beth Israel Hospital and instructor in Psychiatry at the Harvard Medical School.

Mrs. Nathan Kay of Newton Centre was elected a director of the Council and Mrs. Peter Coogan, as chairman of the Newton District, was also elected to the board.

Appreciation was expressed to two retiring Newton members of the board of directors for their long years of helpful service. They were Mr. Gilbert Rhoerig of Auburndale, formerly on the staff of the Boston Y.M.C.A. and Mr. C. Russell Mason of Newton Highlands, executive director of the Massachusetts Audubon society.

Several Newton women contributed to the success of the morning workshop and training session for the 400 leaders, sponsors and committee members who attended. Mrs. Franklin Flaschner of Newton Centre was moderator of a panel designed for Blue Bird Leaders entitled "Blue Birds and the Fun They Have." Members of the panel were Mrs. A. S. McGrath, Mrs. S. W. Hopengarten, and Mrs. Peter Coogan of Newton Centre and Mrs. Benjamin Arac of Waban. Mrs. Orazio Vaccaro of Auburndale was Chairman of this workshop.

13-Year Old Boy Builds Own Guitar

NEWTON BOYS' CLUB'S President Jerry R. Angino and Executive Director August E. Mascaro congratulate Roger Coven and admire the guitar which he recently built at the club.

For the last two years he has been a member of the Newton Boys' Club where he has found companionship, camaraderie, and his greatest satisfaction. Roger Coven of 89 Faxon street, Newtonville, has been a very contented 13-year-old.

Although long interested in sports at the F. A. Day Junior High School where he is in the seventh grade, Roger feels that his greatest achievement to date has been the completion of the construction of his own guitar after six weeks of diligent work of planning, carving, setting and varnishing.

Heated Arguments Develop as Pros and Cons are Presented At Largely Attended Meeting

Extension of the east-west toll road into Boston will put a tax barrier across the city of Boston, Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., warned the legislative committee on highways and motor vehicles at a hearing held Tuesday at the State House.

The mayor warned that than helped by extension of the toll road into Boston. It will be erecting a cost barrier to get into Boston.

"To put a tax barrier across the city of Boston will expedite and speed up the trend of the people to shop in the suburbs," he said.

He warned that extension of the toll road to the South Station would mean the end of the planned inner belt highway system because the toll road authority would get a "monopoly" of the traffic from the Central artery. He also contended that no toll road enters a major city and a planned six mile extension of a toll road into mid-Chicago had recently been abandoned in favor of a freeway.

The area west of Boston is the only area in metropolitan Boston without a modern freeway although some 50 percent of the traffic entering Boston comes from that area, Whitmore said.

Construction of a freeway, he said, would produce a road designed to fit the needs of the area and the communities through which it would pass "and this is not possible when you are dealing with a determined authority from which little or no information can be gained."

Mayor Whitmore said that Ohio, Illinois and Michigan have given up toll road plans since the passage of the federal highway aid program last year under which the federal government underwrites 90 percent of the cost of constructing roads which it approves.

He said that the head of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority told him last July that the only route being considered by the authority for the toll road extension was the main line of the Boston and Albany railroad. He said the residents of Newton and other areas to the west of Boston feared the loss of present railroad facilities if the toll road authority takes over the B. & A. tracks.

"How long," Whitmore asked, "is the General Court going to permit the continuation of a dictatorship which is saying you're going to get a toll road where and when we want to give it?"

The mayor further stated that the Turnpike Authority has no funds to build the toll road extension and estimated the project would cost more than $100,000,000. Also, he said, "the earnings have been disappointing on some toll roads and the market for toll road bonds has reflected these poor returns."

Sen. Donald L. Gibbs (R-New-

Boston) told the committee "it is foolish to ask that a toll road be built at this time." He said passage of the 1956 federal highway aid bill has changed the conditions that prevailed when the Turnpike Authority was granted permission two years ago to extend the east-west toll road into Boston.

"Why should we be forced to pay tribute to one man by the name of Callahan?" Gibbs asked.

He said the people of Newton realize that construction of a road is necessary but that they believed it should be a freeway. Newton residents, he said, "realize we can't handle the traffic that will come off the toll road. It will swamp us and we will have to bear the brunt of it for three or four years anyway."

He told the committee that, at present, no toll roads go out of Boston in any direction "Why should we in the area west of Boston be required to pay tolls?" he asked.

Extension of the toll road, Gibbs said, "is a dagger pointed at our very heart."

Rep. George E. Rawson (R-Newton) told the committee "the day of further construction of toll roads is past. Look at the position of toll road bonds in the market since the passage of the federal highway aid act."

He said Massachusetts motorists helped underwrite the funds which will be available from the federal government through payment of gasoline and other taxes "and we might as well get the use of our own money."

Rawson had a heated exchange with Rep. Thomas F. Doherty (D-Medford), a member of the committee, over whether or not Rawson opposed construction of the new route 128 by his opposition to two highway bond issues.

Rawson said the Turnpike Authority has suggested only one route for the toll road extension—the Boston & Albany main line—"and we are absolutely opposed to that because the railroad is the lifeblood of the communities to the west of Boston."

Executive Councilor Christian A. Herter, Jr., (R-Newton) favored the freeway. Rep. Charles H. Bisbee Jr., (R-Chesterfield) opposed.

Robert S. Kretschmar, representing the Massachusetts Division of the AAA, said a freeway would be a disaster.

The resignations of three teachers were accepted and the appointments of 17 new teachers were approved at Monday night's meeting of the Newton School Committee.

Red Cross Quota Set At $95,000

The Newton Red Cross Campaign is to be held next month, and the quota has been set at $95,000, according to Alan T. Shaw, chairman. Through the voluntary donation of these funds the Red Cross will be in a position to give its mercy services to the people of this and other communities.

"The goal here would be many times greater," the chairman said, "if the Red Cross did not have volunteers giving daily contributions of time and talents to give to the people aided by the Red Cross."

In praising the work of volunteers of all walks of life who contribute generously in many in the hospitals, blood centers, disaster operations and elsewhere, the chairman noted the fund campaign cannot succeed without the aid of volunteers working in the neighborhoods and businesses.

Mr. Shaw appealed for additional volunteers to work on this neighborhood campaign and urged them to call Mrs. Toomey at the Red Cross Chapter House in Newtonville.

The aim of the campaign this year will be to make it speedily successful, said Mr. Shaw, and "we hope to give every person in the community the opportunity to donate, and by house-to-house visits on a neighborhood basis, we hope to exceed our goal here before the month is half-way over."

The Red Cross fund appeal supports the year-around work of ten major service programs that exist for the benefit of all people, and also supports the financing of the blood program that yearly must spend $500,000 in Massachusetts to help save countless lives.

The fund support also keeps health and safety services in operations instruction for men, women and children of this community in first aid procedures, water safety techniques and basic swimming, mother and baby care and home care of the sick classes.

Also supported by fund contributions is the traditional disaster relief.

New Lower Falls Branch Librarian

Monday, the Lower Falls Branch Library will have a change in Librarians.

Mrs. Arthur G. Robinson, who has served as librarian since 1953, has resigned to accept a position on the staff of the Wellesley Public Library, in which community, she and her husband, reside. For several years they were in charge of the Walker Missionary Home in Auburndale. Mr. Robinson was in charge of the Lower Falls Branch Library from October 3, 1947 until September 3, 1953. Mrs. Robinson has been in charge since the latter date.

The new Librarian, Mrs. Joseph A. Bayles, a graduate of Kansas State College, took a number of education courses, and prepared for work with children and youth. She is the wife of a student at the Andover-Newton Theological School and has worked on the staff of the Auburndale Branch Library and at the Main Library.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Robinson have many friends in Lower Falls and have been fine leaders in promoting reading interests among the children. For a number of years Mr. and Mrs. Robinson were missionaries in China and have had displays of Chinese Art Objects at the Lower Falls Branch from time to time. Their contribution to the growth and development of this branch library has been a most important one.

State Public Works Commissioner Carl A. Sheridan today explained why tentative approval of a freeway from the Weston end of the toll road to Boston had not been released to the press.

"Late in the afternoon of Jan. 24, 1957," he said, "I received a call from the press on an inquiry as to whether I had received a letter from John A. Volpe approving the federal funds for the expressway from Weston into Boston. I told the press I had received no such letter, and the office files were searched to see if one had come. None was found.

"On Feb. 1, I asked public relations for the latest approvals of plans for the interstate system so I could take them to Washington for a conference. In looking over the material on the way to Washington I saw for the first time a letter from John Swanson, U. S. Bureau's district engineer, to our Chief Engineer Gray giving tentative approval of our interstate system.

"On Saturday morning I conferred with Congressman Joseph Martin for more than an hour and with Congressman John McCormack for about an hour and a half. In these conferences I gave them copies of

Governor Declines Comment on Toll Road Extension

"I'd like to see us get as much federal money as possible," Governor Furolo said when he was asked whether he would like to see a freeway or a toll road from the Weston end of the East-West toll highway. He would make no further comment. He also declined to comment on question of whether the North-South highway beginning at Salisbury should be toll or free. The Turnpike Authority is now making a study.

He said that during his campaign for office, he pledged no solution for Newton. He said that Chairman William F. Callahan assured him that he would give the people who were dissatisfied a full hearing before anything was done.

Asked if he would sign a repealer of the law authorizing the extension of the toll road into Boston, he said, he would make that decision when a bill reached his desk.

Meadowbr'k PTA Culture Corner

Culture Corner wishes to thank the members and friends of Meadowbrook PTA for their gracious and cooperative acceptance and patronage. Through the efforts of Mrs. Ellie Robbins of the Ways and Means Committee, an excellent exhibit of mosaics by the outstanding artist, David Holleman, arrived in time for viewing at the January 28 meeting of the P.T.A. Members were appreciative and came early in order to see the exhibit. There will be other displays of works of art, music or literature displayed in the lobby of the school long enough for all members and their friends to see before it is changed. Visit Culture Corner each Thursday, enjoy the exhibit, and buy or just browse. For your convenience there is a complete offering of approved books for all ages, latest record releases, stationery items, ceramics and pottery, magazines subscriptions, and gift shop.

Over 900 Attend Gala Open House at Y During Observance

Over 900 people attended the gala open house program held by the Newton YMCA recently as a climax to National YMCA Week. Many special activities were presented during the day showing the public the different phases of YMCA work. Spectators viewed exhibition matches and games in boxing, wrestling, handball, squash and basketball, as well as a youth gym class and trampoline show. The finals of the All Newton Table Tennis Tournament were held in the boys' division along with a hobby show and crafts exhibition. The Newton Y Class "C" swimming team helped make the day a success by emerging victorious from a meet with the Huntington Avenue YMCA. Refreshments were served by members of the Women's Auxiliary and YMCA board and committee members acted as hosts and guides.

Newton Man Quits High Navy Post

Albert Pratt of Newton has resigned his post in Washington as assistant secretary of the Navy to return to private business. He is a partner in the investment banking firm of Paine Webber, Jackson and Curtis.

Mr. Pratt had served in the government post for two years. He makes his home here at 21 Essex road, Chestnut Hill.

WABAN — William J. Curran, 599 Chestnut street, has been appointed professor of legal medicine at the Boston University School of Law. At present a teacher of medical courses at Harvard, Prof. Curran is the draftsman of several recent changes in Massachusetts mental health laws. He will take up his new duties in the fall.

Toll Road-

way to Boston from the toll road's terminus in Weston would "greatly improve" the economic life of the city of Boston. He said a freeway would help Boston business, stores and the Prudential development.

Rep. Irene K. Thresher (R-Newton) speaking in favor of the bills, said that in objecting to the road through Newton, they were not standing in the way of progress. The whole situation financially has changed since the federal government made money available for highway purposes. They are asking for a freeway, she said, because "we don't think any citizen should be taxed three times." The federal money has only been available in the last few months, she said.

With the tremendous number of taxes people are paying the state and federal government, she feels there is the possibility of using some of this money for a freeway in Massachusetts, she concluded.

Rep. William D. Morton (R-Wellesley) said the people of Wellesley are afraid of losing an access to Boston. He recorded the town's selectmen in favor of the measures.

Wellesley town counsel William R. Cook said the people of Wellesley "sincerely believe that there is a real danger that we will lose our commuter service between Wellesley and Boston."

Rev. John Fisher of the First Unitarian Society of Newton, said the toll road extension would "seriously disrupt 10 religious congregations" in that city "and physically upset at least four." He favored the bills.

Rep. J. Robert Ayers (R-Weston) placed the Weston selectmen on record as unanimously favoring the freeway. He said that a special commission of which Callahan was a member filed a report which said that a toll road was not economically sensible to have anywhere at any time.

Also favoring the bills were C. R. Cabot of Newtonville, Joseph W. McMullen of Newton, Newton Alderman Carlton Merrill, the Newton Taxpayers' Association, Charles Bowler, William E. Halliday, and the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

William F. Callahan, chairman of the turnpike authority, said that he has no personal axe to grind that he is interested in Massachusetts. He said he has had hundreds of people call his home and write to him saying that he is doing the right thing.

There is one thing people seem to miss altogether in this toll highway, he said. Boston is in his opinion, he stated, in the most deplorable condition. Now that the Prudential building is going to be done, it will give a big lift. We need to keep pace with this office building, and keep others from going out to the suburbs, and for this it is necessary for Boston to have connection with the toll highway so that we can connect with the Central Artery. Until you bring traffic to downtown Boston, and unless some connection is made for it, "you had better give back the downtown area to the Indians, because in 10 years it will all be moved back to the suburbs unless we do something to reverse the trend."

He was asked why he stopped at Route 128, Callahan said. The mayor (presumably of Newton) went to the Governor "and everywhere to stop Callahan." Callahan continued, and is still talking about a study five years after. He said he had built many roads in the Commonwealth, was opposed, and had to fight for them.

He said he met opposition when he built Route 128, the Central Artery, had to fight through the courts when he built the Buzzards Bay by-pass, and on many other roads he had built. "Would you give them up today?" he asked.

He told the committee that "if I had the money I'd have this road started in six months. When we start, we go. We don't waste any time," he said.

Rep. John F. Thompson (D-Ludlow) Democratic floor leader in the House of Representatives said it would be "a shame and a mockery on the people of this Commonwealth if there is a delay on the extension of this toll road into Boston."

"Let's not be influenced by the voice of a minority," Thompson said. "Let's get the toll road going and give Massachusetts the roadway system it rightly deserves."

Joining Thompson in his plea that the toll road be continued into Boston, Rep. Louis H. Glaser (D-Malden) said those opposing continuation of the toll road into Boston "have been deluged into believing they have a divine right to stop this road."

Glaser said those who are against continuation of the toll road "have a provincial attitude to protect their selfish interests."

Rep. Thompson said the people of western Massachusetts have been waiting for the day they could ride into Boston on a good road, "with bated breath." He said those who opposed extension of the toll road "are not considering the 123 miles of road from Weston to West Stockbridge."

"They're emotionally worked up. They are completely partisan and narrow-minded in their thinking," Thompson concluded.

Rep. Wendell P. Chamberlain (R-Springfield) commented that "the mayor of Newton espoused a different political philosophy when he was in the House." Then, he said, Mayor Whitmore advocated letting free enterprise do things and voted against highway bond issues. Now, he said, he wants the state to build a freeway with funds from bond issues.

The western part of the state, he said, has been waiting for good roads for years. He said motorists could save three-quarters of an hour by using the toll road but that they would lose all the time saved if they reached an impasse as a result of this controversy.

"Let the agency which can build it fastest do the job," he urged, adding that the turnpike authority could build it faster.

Rep. Robert X. Tivnan (D-Westchester) protested that the freeway would mean diversion of funds already allocated for the Worcester Expressway. He said that as one who comes into Boston quite often he realized we must have the road now.

Tivnan said that the toll road

Final Score Sales Tax Poll

Overall results of the poll conducted by The Transcript Publications to determine public sentiment on the sales tax issue showed 2751 persons in favor of the enactment of the sales tax and 2410 opposed to it.

The straw vote by communities was as follows:

	FOR A SALES TAX	AGAINST A SALES TAX
West Roxbury and Roslindale	1123	441
Milton	374	231
Newton	407	572
Dedham	308	539
Needham	539	627
TOTALS	2751	2410

extension would mean travel between Worcester and Boston in 50 minutes, while better bus service would be provided between the two cities.

"If it wasn't for the obstructionism and provincialism of the people of Newton we would have 50 minute bus and motor transportation between Worcester and Boston," he said.

Philip H. Kitfield, chief engineer of the Turnpike Authority, said the Authority has no right to take the right of way of the railroad by eminent domain. He said the authority could only use the right of way if an agreement were reached with the railroad.

"We're not the ones who are forcing the railroad to go to p.m.

two-tracks or one track or no tracks," Kitfield said.

He said that the state public works department would have to approve any route which the authority might select for a toll road extension. "We are completely under their control as far as a route is concerned," he said.

Kitfield told the committee that the railroad now divides Newton and asked "what difference does it make whether it is paved or track. All of the crossings would still be there."

Opposing the legislation were the Boston Real Estate Board, and Rep. Anthony M. Scibelli (D-Springfield).

The hearing ended at 5:07

ORVILLE H. EMMONS
Named Executive
For New England
YMCA Area

Orville H. Emmons of 66 Walker street, Newtonville, has been appointed by the National Board of the Young Men's Christian Associations of the United States as Executive for the New England Area of the National Council of YMCA's. Included in this field services area are the three states, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut.

The new area will replace the former two YMCA field services organizations in Connecticut, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island respectively, although the State Committees will continue as holding co-operations. Area headquarters will be located in Boston in the former Two State YMCA building at 167 Tremont street.

On the staff of the Two State YMCA for the past fifteen years, Mr. Emmons has had wide YMCA experience in New England. He has occupied a variety of positions on the Massachusetts-Rhode Island YMCA staff including: associate secretary for Extension Services 1942-43; Director of Camp Beck-et, the state YMCA camp in the Berkshires, co-ordinator of adult program, 1944-54; acting state secretary 1954-55; and Two State Executive 1955 up to the present.

Mr. Emmons is a graduate of Springfield College, class of 1929. His first YMCA experience was in New Jersey. Active in the affairs also of the Newton YMCA, Mr. Emmons is a member of the business men's gym class and serves on the World Services committee.

The Three State Area is currently in process of formation with the formal merger of the two former organizations scheduled to occur April 12 and 13 in New Britain, Connecticut, when the organizational meetings of the New England Area Council and Area Board will be held.

NEWTON — Speaker at the Newton Rotary Club on Monday was Miss Mary E. Chase, director of admissions at Wellesley College. Discussing the problems of girls trying to enter college, Miss Chase defended the policy of independent colleges of being more selective. She spoke at Rotary's noon meeting at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Scholarship Award

This award was first given in 1956 and will be given annually to the ninth grade boy and girl who have the highest scholastic standing.

It is an official recognition of consistently high academic achievement with good citizenship as a necessary prerequisite.

A specially designed Warren pin is given to the winners. There is to be a bronze plaque displayed in the Trophy cabinet with the names of the winners.

John Derr and Stephanie Grant were the award winners last year.

Warren Takes One, Loses One

Reporter: Scott Silliman

On Friday, Jan. 11, at Weeks Junior High School the varsity and junior varsity basketball squads of Warren and Weeks played each other in Warren's second official game. Thanks to the fine playing of Alan York, Joe DeRubeis, and Bill Skornik the Warren varsity won against Weeks by the score of 38-21.

The Warren junior varsity lost to Weeks' junior varsity 41-21. Bob Peredna and David Kallock led the Warren attack but to no avail.

Outstanding Pupil

Reporter: Scott Silliman

Steve Hecht of division II-7 has proved himself an outstanding tennis player in just two years. He started playing tennis while in the sixth grade at the Angier School and has achieved a state ranking of #1 in "doubles", #7 in "singles", and #27 in the 15 years and under group. Steve has won such matches as: Massachusetts State Doubles; Southeastern Massachusetts Doubles; Bass River Doubles; Central Massachusetts Singles; Southeastern Massachusetts Singles; Cape Gateway Singles; Southeastern-Northeastern All Star Match. Steve's partner in "doubles" was Ted Martin of Wellesley.

New Member Of The Warren Faculty

Reporters: Joan Hoops Edith Prentice

Mr. John Manuel joined the Warren faculty last September. He is the Science teacher for Junior I and II. Mr. Manuel is also the sponsor of the Aviation Club. The following is a biographical outline of Mr. Manuel:

Educational Background — Boston Latin School, Tufts College, where he earned his B.S. in chemical engineering; Boston University, where he earned his master's degree in Education; and the New England Conservatory of Music, where he studied violin.

Teaching Experience — Watertown Junior High. Home Town — Arlington, California.

Hobbies and Interests — Skiing, basketball, football, archery, fencing, and flying. Mr. Manuel owns his own plane.

Travel — California, Canada, Europe.

Family — Wife, two sons aged 5 and 10.

Reporters: Margaret Steadman Susan Furbur

Mr. William's seventh grade social studies classes are working on current event projects which they hope will establish and maintain interest on topics in the news which affect our daily lives. The chairmen and vice-chairmen of the divisions concerned are the following: Jane Maloof and Sherwood Norton of division I-2, and William Adams and Leslie Kirshner of division I-10. Each quarter a new project will be started.

Meadowbrook & Warren Split

Reporter: Scott Silliman

On Friday, Jan. 25, at the Warren Junior High School gym, the varsity and junior varsity squads of Warren and Meadowbrook met in a "nip and tuck" basketball game.

The Warren "j.v.'s", with the help of 7-pointer Richard Ferris, outscored the opponents, 25-18.

The varsity squad, crippled by the absence of Alan York, lost to Meadowbrook 41-37 in one of the most thrilling games of the season.

Attending Alumnae Council Meeting

The area residents who attended the 34th annual Wellesley Alumnae Council meetings this weekend include Mrs. Robert C. Casselman, 24 Hawthorne Ave., Auburndale; Miss Harriet L. Constantine, 40 Chase Street, Newton Centre; Mrs. Arthur S. Dewing, 286 Waverly Avenue, Newton; Mrs. John E. Eaton, r. 91 Intervale Road, Newton Centre.

Also, Mrs. Robert C. Foster, 251 Mill Street, Newtonville; Miss Elizabeth Golden, 40 Crescent Avenue, Newton Centre; Mrs. T. Edson Jewell, r. 216 Waverly Avenue, Newton; and Mrs. Neil W. Swinton, 41 Wamsit Road, Waban.

Would Impose Jail Term On Bookies

Representative George E. Rawson (R-Newton) and Public Safety Commissioner Otis M. Whitney have joined in filing House Bill 982 to provide for mandatory jail sentences for the second conviction of "bookies" within five years after the first conviction.

They filed the same bill last year and Rawson succeeded in securing its passage through the House. It was amended by the Senate and was lost in the confusion of the last day of the 1956 session.

"It is hoped that this year's bill will have better success for it is about time that this menace to good government is properly ended," Rawson stated.

- Political Overtones -

This is what happened:

Democratic legislative leaders endeavored to slip through a bill providing that the names of the candidates for U. S. Senator would be placed at the top of the State ballot and would be listed immediately below the Presidential contenders in years when Presidents are elected.

In other words, the contest for U. S. Senator would be the first one on the ballot in 1958 and would be second only to that for the Presidency in 1960.

Some political observers construed that as an attempt to assist U. S. Senator John F. Kennedy in the '58 election and place his name at the head of the ballot so voters would not be likely to confuse him with State Treasurer John F. Kennedy. That interpretation is sheer, unadulterated nonsense.

What the Democratic strategists really were trying to do was to shift the U. S. Senate fight to the top of the ballot so that Kennedy might generate an increased amount of strength to the members of the Democratic State ticket and other Democratic office-seekers.

Senator Kennedy might conceivably benefit to some very, very slight degree by having his fight listed first rather than seventh on the 1958 State election ballot. Most sound political experts would be likely to tell you, however, that Kennedy's chances of achieving reelection would be about the same, whether his fight had first or seventh position on the ballot.

Furthermore, Senator Kennedy's name would be approximately the same distance from that of Treasurer Kennedy in either case. The contest for Treasurer is now listed fourth on the State ballot.

Senator Kennedy unquestionably will be the strong man on the Democratic State ticket in 1958. How powerful a vote-puller Governor Foster Furcolo will be at that time will depend on trends and developments still to come in the next 20 months. But it is a fairly safe guess that he will not be proportionately as strong as Kennedy.

Republican politicians obviously share that opinion, for there already is a certain amount of behind-the-scenes maneuvering in GOP circles for the 1956 Republican gubernatorial nomination and the right to stand for election against Furcolo. So far there has been no clamor for the privilege of challenging Kennedy. The indications are that there will be none.

If Kennedy is defeated in 1958, it would be safe to presume that the entire Democratic ticket would go down with him. Conversely, if Kennedy is overwhelmingly elected, he undoubtedly would help the candidates on the ticket with him. The likelihood is that he would help them more if his name were the first on the ballot than if his contest were listed in 7th place.

That is a logical conclusion, and it was the opinion of virtually all Republican leaders when the bill to give the U. S. Senate fight top ballot listing came before the Legislature.

The measure cleared the Democratic-controlled House of Representatives by a vote of 118 to 94. In the Senate, however, it was sidetracked by a tight 18-17 vote cast on straight party lines.

Republican Salons were still congratulating themselves on having blocked a rather deft Democratic maneuver, when a telegram was received from Senator Leverett Saltonstall declaring that he was not opposed to the bill, as had been stated during the debate.

Saltonstall did not actually say he favored the measure, but the fact he did say he is not against was considered to mean he is for it. What really surprised most political onlookers was that he took any stand at all on the issue. If he had decided in his own mind that he will not run again, he would not be particularly interested in what happened to the measure.

MTA Trustee Job For Curley

Close friends of former Governor James M. Curley declare that as soon as he has recovered completely from his recent illness and surgery, he will be appointed to a $7500-a-year position which carries with it an automobile and chauffeur.

That presumably means that the colorful and amazing Curley is to be placed on the board of MTA trustees, as was reported some weeks ago. The salary for that job is $7500 a year, and a car and driver goes with the post. Even though Curley is still as mentally keen and alert as men 20 years his junior, he cannot legally be appointed to most positions in the State service because of his age.

His friends report that he is eager and anxious to get back to work and utilize his energy and talents. They declare, however, that he can only take a job which carries with it an automobile and driver.

One of the moot questions on Beacon Hill is whether State Senator Leslie B. Cutler of Needham is functioning as Senate chairman of the joint legislative committees on aeronautics and public welfare. Democratic Senators maintain that she is. Mrs. Cutler, who should know, insists that she is not.

When Newland H. Holmes of Weymouth was elected president of the Senate with a coalition of Democratic and Republican votes, Mrs. Cutler, one of the GOP Solons who voted against him, publicly refused to accept the two committee chairmanships to which Holmes appointed her.

No one else has been named as the Senate head of those committees. Mrs. Cutler is still listed on the official records as the Senate chairman of the two groups even though she forwarded her resignation to President Holmes.

She asserts that she is sitting as a member of both committees but not as chairman and that the sessions are

Brotherhood Week

February 17-24

...that people shall live as one family of man being run by the House chairmen. The Democrats claim she periodically forgets her own resolution and resignation and conducts the proceedings.

From all the indications the two committees will have completed their business for the year before it is decided whether Mrs. Cutler is or is not the chairman.

Furcolo Confident He Can Win Fight For Sales Tax

One thing that the opponents of a sales tax have not yet spelled out to the public is what alternate tax they would suggest to bring in the money that the State needs if the sales tax is not enacted.

Would they recommend that the State income tax be doubled or that a payroll tax be placed on the books? It's one thing to argue against a sales tax, but it's something else again to propose another tax in its stead.

That's what Governor Furcolo undoubtedly will emphasize as he takes to the road to explain to the people of Massachusetts why he recommended the adoption of a sales tax and why he believes it should be enacted.

Some observers believe that Furcolo is placing both his personal prestige and his political future on the line in moving out onto the hustings to take his sales tax case directly to the people. We don't agree completely with that appraisal.

Furcolo's prestige might be impaired temporarily if he makes an all-out fight for the adoption of a sales tax and then loses. In that respect he is taking a calculated risk. It is reasonably safe to assume that Furcolo has weighed that element of risk and believes he can win his sales tax battle.

The Governor is a persuasive and gifted speaker. He not only should be able to clear up some of the misunderstanding that presently exists concerning a sales tax but also win over some of the people now opposed to it.

The chances are that he will do himself much more good than harm by his speaking tour.

Former Governor Christian A. Herter and Executive Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., have pretty well eliminated Furcolo's espousal of a sales tax as an issue in the next campaign. It certainly is unlikely that any Republican candidate for Governor is going to attack Furcolo for having advocated a sales tax, whether it is passed or rejected.

The ex-Governor publicly commended Furcolo for advocating a sales tax. Now Christian A. Herter, Jr., who quite conceivably could be Furcolo's opponent in the next election, has supported the sales tax proposal and presented a rather convincing case to show why the tax is needed.

Ironically, the public figure leading the fight against the sales tax—Democratic State Senate Leader John E. Powers—will also be one of Furcolo's most active backers in 1958, irrespective of the outcome of the present conflict.

State Cash Sickness Program

President Kurtz M. Hanson of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts makes an extremely effective case in opposing the bill now pending before the Legislature for the establishment of a State-operated cash-sickness program.

Hanson points out that in the past two years the strongest objection to this proposal has come from working men and women who now have greater benefits than they would get under a State-administered compulsory sickness and off-the-job insurance program.

He cites statistics to show that 79 percent of the persons employed today in private industry already are covered by some form of so-called sickness insurance gained either through collective bargaining or given them voluntarily by their employers.

In many instances those workers get the insurance coverage at no cost whatever to themselves whereas they would be compelled to pay for it if the State went into the insurance business.

The indications are that the bill calling for State-administered cash-sickness insurance will again be defeated after a lusty row. As Hanson asserts, many workers themselves don't want it.

New Teachers at 8 Schools In Harvard Interne Program

Students in ten of Newton's schoolrooms have new teachers this week as part of the teacher-training program carried on in this city under the sponsorship of the Harvard Graduate School of Education and the Ford Foundation for the Advancement of Education.

The Harvard Interne Program has been devised for the purpose of converting promising liberal arts graduates who have had experience with young people into teachers. Ten pairs of students are spending half the year at Harvard studying for their masters degree, and the other half doing actual class teaching.

According to Charles O. Richter, asst. superintendent of schools, the following changes took place this week:

In the High School English department, David Peterson will replace Helen Steere, and Frederica Sandin will replace Katherine J. Kharas in the math department.

At Bigelow, Nancy Leverich will replace Arlene Bailey; at Meadowbrook, Phyllis Wilson will replace Edward Yaglou; and at Weeks, Mrs. Joan Hodson will replace Dodge Fernald Jr., while Beverly Bunnin will take over Carolyn Pratt's class.

At Hamilton, Carolyn Zoltman succeeds Herbert Wostrel. At Emerson, Janet Forslund's class will be taken over by Nancy Jonas. At Cabot, Barbara Uretsky will replace Nancy McPartlin, while Sandra Gaston will succeed Mrs. May A. Carson at the Clafin School.

This is the second year Newton has taken part in this program. All the teachers involved trained this past summer at the Weeks Junior High or the Bowen summer session.

Newton Civic Leader Moves To New York

Mrs. James O. Zimmer of Newton Highlands, an outstanding community leader here, has moved to New York City, New York, leaving Newton with a record of ten years of civic accomplishment.

Mrs. Zimmer, whose husband is being transferred to the New York area with Western Electric, has resigned her post as library trustee, which she held for three and a half years. She was presented with gifts from the Library Board at their annual meeting.

She was chairman of Newton's White House Conference on Education last year, and is first vice-president of the Newton League of Women Voters, where she was chairman of the education committee for several years.

Mrs. Zimmer is serving as president of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, and is on the board of the Visiting Nurse's Assn. and the World Affairs Council of Newton. A graduate of Cornell University, she was president of its Federation of Women's Clubs at one time.

A member of the Newton Highlands Congregational Congregational Church, Mrs. Zimmer has served as chairman of its religious education committee and was recently elected to the State Board of Trustees of the Congregational Christian Conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmer's son, James G., a graduate of Newton High School, is in his fourth year at Yale Medical School. They made their home here at 24 Shady Hill Rd., Newton Highlands.

David Jarratt On Iceland Choir Tour

David Jarratt, 122 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands, will fly to Iceland during his spring vacation as a member of one of the world's most famous "a capella" choirs—the St. Olaf College 60-voice choir.

A graduate of Newton High School where he had the lead in "Brigadoon" and "The Student Prince," David is on a musical scholarship at the Minnesota college. This past summer he spent touring with the "Aqua Folies" as tenor in their male quartet.

The spring trip to Iceland is sponsored by the U.S. Air Force as a means of bringing a taste of America to military troops and natives close to the Arctic circle.

David is the son of Mrs. Ingeborg Jarratt, Boston church soloist and director of music at Beaver Country Day School. Mrs. Jarratt is a graduate of St. Olaf, where her son is now a junior. She has been heard locally as soloist with the Newton Community Chorus.

Donald Wilson Chosen As Most Deserving Pupil

Donald Wilson of Newton High School has earned the school's title of "the most deserving student who practices brotherhood in his everyday manner of living."

One of 43 such students selected throughout all schools in the state, he met with other winners at the third annual Brotherhood Breakfast of the Massachusetts Jewish War Veterans in cooperation with the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Lower Falls Church Officers

At the 143rd annual parish meeting of St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Newton Lower Falls, the following officers, vestry and delegates were elected: Senior Warden — Leonard J. Edel; Junior Warden — David L. Currier; Clerk — Howard D. Davis, Jr.; Treasurer — Robert L. Clinton; Superintendent of the Church Yard — Lewis F. Pike; Vestry — Everett B. Fike; Thomas Whitney, Theodore Dearborn and Mrs. Russell Rowe, who will serve for a term of three years.

Delegates to Diocesan convention — Mrs. Edward Wisewick, Jr., E. Deane Seely, and Harold Leslie; Alternates — Mrs. Franklin S. Browning, Mrs. Russell Rowe, Mrs. Frederick Risteen and William Manhe. Delegates to Archdiocesan of Lowell — Mrs. Harold Leslie, Mrs. Robert Moore and Regina Wilbur.

Delegates to Newton Council of Churches — Mrs. Stanley Robinson, Mrs. Galen Clevenger and Mrs. Hugo Marulli. Delegates to Wellesley Council of Churches — Leonard J. Edel, Robert S. Hoffman, Jr., and Dr. Delbert Jackson. Investment

Letters to the Editor

POINT WELL TAKEN

Editor, Newton Graphic: The Graphic is supplying ballots for expression of opinion as to the desirability, for Massachusetts, of a general sales tax, somewhat limited by exemptions.

It would have been valuable to the community if you had preceded this by informative material, possibly by a discussion of the pros and cons by at least two especially qualified persons and then by a symposium through letters in contrasting columns, letters furthering the discussion, not merely stating conclusions. In this way you would have contributed to the understanding of the public, and there might have been better informed voting.

Making a choice between types of taxes is not an unimportant matter. It is not just a question of how much each "I" would pay, but of what each should pay.

Do those of equal financial strength pay the same amount? Do those who are stronger financially pay at least proportionally more, and those of less strength proportionally less?

In a democracy, it seems axiomatic that those of equal financial ability should pay equal amounts for the support of their government, and that those of varying ability pay suitably varying amounts. For instance, it must be obvious that two men of the same income, one with a single child, the other with five, have different ability to pay taxes, and that the one with five children can not afford to pay as much as the other.

The best tax would seem to be the one that could best consider the individual taxpayer's financial condition, and, therefore, be likely to result in assigning him a fair share of the necessary tax burden. February 3, 1957

HOW ABOUT IT LADIES?

Editor, Newton Graphic:

About 37 years ago, all females were given the privilege to vote after reaching the required age. But since that time all females eligible to vote have never paid a poll tax—the reason—no State law has been enacted requiring them to pay. All males after reaching voting age, whether employed or not, must pay the $2.00 tax every year.

When we read about the statements made by our political leaders that Massachusetts is "in the red" and a source for more revenue is required, it seems to me that all females who are employed should pay a poll tax to boost our income and reduce the state's deficit.

I doubt if the fair sex ever complain about paying $5.00 and up for a permanent wave, or a new bonnet, as well as having their eye brows plucked and their physical outlines streamlined for a New Look, cost no objection.

I believe that the state of New Hampshire has a poll tax for all after reaching voting age, whether employed or not.

Here is a source of untouchable revenue which our State legislators should consider at this session of the legislature. An estimate of the revenue would be worth while and I don't believe that the fair sex would record any objections.

FOR THE RECORD

Editor, Newton Graphic: Since the Pennsylvania sales tax has stalked into Massachusetts as a proponent of a general sales tax here, let's get a good look at it, and at its credentials.

Christian A. Herter, Jr., as reported in The Newton Graphic, said that a commission appointed by the Governor of Pennsylvania unanimously reported in December that "a sales tax was definitely preferable to a graduated income tax."

The Harrisburg Bureau of the Philadelphia Bulletin says that the Governor's Tax Study Committee compared the sales tax with the "personal net income tax, since the graduated income tax is not legally possible." "The Constitution prohibits a graduated income tax." It quoted from the committee, in regard to the sales tax used, "It is a better tax for more Pennsylvanians than a state income tax in such a form as meets the requirements of the Constitution and is possible of enactment." It explained, "Leader fought the tax for 17 months in the past session before capitulating to Republican legislators who said it would be the only broad-based tax which they would support."

The Philadelphia Inquirer of December 30 pointed out that Republicans would still control the new Legislature, the Senate 27 to 23 and the House 125 to 83, and that the Governor's plans would "be subject to the whims of the Republican controlled Legislature on taxes and budget requirements."

The 3 percent sales tax originally passed something over a year ago was a tax on 17 categories of articles. All else was exempt, including clothing and the trade-in value of cars, trucks and major household appliances.

The question this year was in regard to continuing the 1 percent of the sales tax which was due to expire May 31, of improving the administration of the tax and raising more revenue, since the sales tax was producing less than two-thirds of what had been expected.

"The Committee accepts the necessity of continuing the sales tax at a 3 percent rate," read the report. It proposed that the sales tax be changed to a general sales tax with specific exemptions as in other states. It unanimously endorsed as a "short term solution of the Commonwealth's tax problems," the following proposals:

a penny-a-bottle tax on soft drinks and the retention of the 1 cent additional tax on cigarettes, which had been put on for flood relief. It recommended the elimination of trade-in exemptions on cars and appliances, the application of the sales tax to over-the-bar drinks of any alcoholic beverages in hotels, restaurants and taprooms, and, "for such additional taxes as might be needed," said the legislature could raise substantial revenue from applying the sales tax to clothing. It estimated, "conservatively," that this tax would yield $35,000,000 a year.

The president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, who was a member of the committee, has written his affiliated organizations that he filed with the Governor, at the time the report was filed, additional comments. One warned that the recommendation that the sales tax should be continued at this time "must be considered as only a temporary expedient based upon the majority of the Legislature as now constituted," another that this form of taxation merely postpones the necessary job of overhauling the entire tax structure. He commented, also, that the committee "failed to consider either the classified income tax or any other possible income tax formula which would place the tax burden on those best able to pay."

Mr. Herter predicted that "responsible labor groups in Massachusetts" would follow the lead of Pennsylvania. Does the fact that Pennsylvania has had to accept a sales tax, which it now intends to convert to a general sales tax, prove the desirability of a general sales tax for Massachusetts, or is it Exhibit A for what politics does to taxation?

Swedish Student Guest of Newton P.T.A. Council

Thursday evening, at a meeting of the P.T.A. Council executive board Mr. Edward Uehlin, president, introduced Mrs. Eili Sutcliffe, who is the council representative to the American Field Service. Mrs. Sutcliffe asked if the Newton P.T.A.'s would appropriate money toward sending a Newton High School student to Europe for an eight-week stay under the auspices of the American Field Service.

Mrs. Sutcliffe was accompanied by Miss Bodil Westergren of Sweden who is an American Field Service student at Newton High School. The guest of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Bugbee, 14 Exeter street, West Newton, Miss Westergren told the council some of the differences between Swedish education and that in Newton.

Harry Myers, president of the PTSA, announced that on Wednesday evening at the high school, Dr. Edward Landy and Professor David Teidman of Harvard would discuss and show examples of comprehensive testing given to children from the first grade through high school.

Carl Hartower, president of the Davis P.T.A., urged closer cooperation between the Council and Civil Defense. President Uehlin will plan a future meeting around this subject.

Leonard Kaplan, president of Weeks Jr. High School P.T.A., an-fact, and of on the spot reporting by Pennsylvania newspapers, not of personal opinions, I have believed you will be willing to print all of this. At least two papers have brought in this matter of the Pennsylvania tax, and certainly Mr. Herter's statement should not stand uncorrected, or isolated from related facts.)

PENNIES ADD UP

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Aside from any discussion of fairness of a sales tax, I believe it should be pointed out that it has inefficiencies. Not all of the money paid by the consumer ever gets to the government. Some is paid to each business for the complicated process of bookkeeping required of them. Also, it has been found in states having such a tax that it is extremely easy for some of the money never to be turned over to the government. If Massachusetts needs more money from me for services rendered, I am willing to pay my fair share, but I want to pay it to the government not to any middle processing agency.

No matter how "painlessly" pennies and dollars dribble out for taxes, they still go... the money still has to come out of my husband's income... Every cent you spend is really gone, and pennies add up to dollars for me as well as for the state.

Mrs. Richard Myerson
Newton Centre.

AT AN END

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Today my youngsters brought home notes informing me that the single session will come to an end at February vacation.

For my part it is the best thing that has ever happened to the Newton school system. I also note that school is out at 2 now instead of 2:30. I presume the teachers rose up in arms at all that time spent on the job.

I would like to hear one single argument in favor of wasting an hour and a half in the middle of the day, that youngsters could use for healthy play time after school.

NEWTONVILLE PARENT

WHY MORE

Editor, Newton Graphic:

If, as Chris Herter Jr. says in the Graphic, our state has the "highest property taxes... the highest corporation tax... a substantial personal income tax... and a substantial capital gains tax"... it would seem that the last thing we need is more taxes of any kind.

Apparently our state is collecting a great deal of money as compared to most states, and what we really need is more careful use of the funds we have. I know there are many complications to government finance, but I am most reluctant to let the state begin pulling in millions of more dollars to spend as they see fit... when I'm sure they are not using the millions they have efficiently.

MORE ECONOMY

NOT THAT BAD

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Senator Powers has demonstrated once more that figures can be made to prove anything. He cites a man with a $6000 salary who "spends the entire amount on living expenses" and consequently spends $180 on the proposed sales tax. As I understand it, that particular instance would be practically impossible, as necessities of life are to be exempt under present plans. A $6000-a-year man would spend at least half of his salary on tax-exempt necessities, and only the remaining half or less would be taxed at 3%.

I would be bad, Senator, but not QUITE as bad as you make out.

nounced that Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks would speak at their 25th anniversary observance April 12. The school is named after Mr. Weeks' father.

Martin Cohen, chairman of the health and safety committee talked about the advisability of a dog leash law and told of progress made in the city's new plan for removal of snow from sidewalks near schools. Mr. Frank Simmons, director of health and safety in Newton reported on the problems of snow removal.

Superintendent Harold Gore explained Bill H2249 which will be heard by the state legislature February 18. This bill would permit Massachusetts school committees to allot money for educational television. Dr. Gore emphasized that the bill simply authorizes school committees to make the appropriations and does not require them to spend the money. The Council voted unanimously to support this bill and to ask a representative to the hearing DEGREE TEAM from St. John's Episcopal Church of Arlington, shown with nine men who were initiated Knight-Counselors in the Order of Sir Galahad at Trinity Church, Newton Centre.

Order of Sir Galahad Initiated At Trinity Church Ceremony

The Order of Sir Galahad, an organization for boys between nine and twenty, was instituted at Trinity Church in Newton Centre last week. Highlighting the evening was a colorful ceremony in which nine men were initiated into the degree of Knight-Counselor. These men will be the adult leaders of the organization under the direction of the Rev. Howard R. Dunbar, and the Rev. Frank N. Johnston. The initiated men were: Dr. Robert T. Steinsieck, Samuel B. Senior, Richard W. Riley, Wilbur J. Stover, John W. Scott, W. Franklin Fullerton, Jr., Richard A. Knowles, Jr., Joseph O. Gravel, and Paul Hurd.

The Rev. Mr. Dunbar delivered the charge and the Rev. Mr. Johnston presented the candidates. A degree team from St. John's Church in Arlington under the direction of Mr. Oscar Swenson, Court Director, was in charge of the initiation. Preceding the Service in the church a dinner was held for 40 boys and their fathers. These boys will begin working towards membership in the Order of Sir Galahad at our first regular meeting this Thursday night at 7 p.m. The dinner was prepared by a group of the mothers under the direction of Mrs. Robert B. Purinton and Mrs. Stewart W. Holmes.

The Order of Sir Galahad is a world-wide organization for Episcopal boys and young men. It was founded by the late

Newton To Pick A Miss Massachusetts Contestant

A "Miss Newton" will represent the community at the Miss Massachusetts Pageant in Boston in July, it was announced by Thomas Fazio, general chairman of the Miss Newton Pageant, and member of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce, which will stage the contest here.

Fazio said the Jaycees had been invited to select a Newton beauty to compete in the contest to be staged in Boston by the Boston Junior Chamber of Commerce. Plans for a Miss Newton Pageant, to be held early in May, have already gotten underway, he added.

Winner of the Miss Massachusetts Pageant in addition to a $1000 scholarship, will win the right to represent the Bay State in the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City, September 2 through 8.

Archdeacon Ernest J. Denhen in Boston in 1896. This Church-centered organization aims to make a boys religion real by teaching Christ's ways through its program of ritual, crafts, and athletics. The organization will meet in Trinity Church's new Parish House which is nearing completion.

Monday Meeting Of Newtonville Woman's Club

Members of the Newtonville Woman's Club are anticipating with much interest and enthusiasm, the program to be given at the regular meeting Monday afternoon, February 18, by Myrtle Strong Allen. The topic discussed by Mrs. Allen, "Dare to be the Person you want to be" is a happy blend of every day applied psychology, authoritative, informative, fun and courage.

A varied career of public service has given Mrs. Allen an approach that is humorous, intimate and understanding. As a high-school teacher, young adult counselor, lecturer and book reviewer, she has a practical insight into the problems and joys of people. Her audiences sense this immediately, and are as much at home with her as she is with them.

Hostesses for the Coffee Hour at 1:30 p.m. will be Mrs. John R. Clark and Mrs. Phillip D. Clark with committee assisting. Colonial decorations, commemorating the birthday of George Washington will be used on the coffee table.

Mrs. John P. Kobrock and Mrs. Riley J. Hampton will preside at the coffee urns. Presiding at the business meeting which follows at 2:15 p.m. in the auditorium will be Mrs. Frank M. Simmons.

Several members of the Newtonville Club recently joined Mrs. Arthur E. Cassidy, State Chairman of the Division of Legislation of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs and members of other clubs, in a tour of the State House in Boston. Governor Furcolo extended greetings to the ladies.

Attending from Newtonville were Mrs. Charles W. Peterson, Mrs. Frank M. Simmons, Mrs. Harry W. Abells, Mrs. John F. Farrington, Mrs. Walter N. Keene, Mrs. H. Edgar Beaven, Miss Theresa L. Cram and Mrs. Edmund Miller.

Davis PTA Discusses Educ. Needs of Children

The third general meeting of the Davis School P.T.A. of West Newton was held in the school auditorium last Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Hartbower presided. During a brief business meeting a nominating committee was elected. Members include: Mrs. Anthony Farrington, Miss Janice A. Leporati, Mr. Hartbower, Mr. Paul F. O'Donnell and Miss Mary J. Nugent, principal.

The topic under discussion was "Meeting the Educational Needs of Childhood." A film, under the direction of Dr. Edward Landy, was shown to the entire group. At its conclusion, the audience divided into three discussion groups, meeting in separate home rooms. Discussion leaders were: Dr. Landy, Miss Anna B. Austin, and Miss Jane E. Hulek, all members of the Newton School Department. The various discussions were recorded and when the parents and teachers returned to the auditorium, all had an opportunity to listen to the recording of each group. Such questions as: "Is our children's free time too planned and supervised?" and "How can a grade school child in a family of adult brothers and sisters be made to feel that he belongs?" proved of concern to all groups.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the hospitality committee under the leadership of Mrs. J. Ellis Bowen. It was announced that a military whist will be held by the Davis P.T.A. at the Newtonville Women's Club Monday evening, Feb. 25. Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bright are chairmen of this activity. Prizes, refreshments and an evening of enjoyment are promised. The next general P.T.A. meeting will be Monday April 1.

Another reason your money is so safe

Wise investors have long known that there's no safer place for money than in a first mortgage loan on a good home.

Do you know that when $1 is placed in a savings and loan association like Watertown Federal, about 85% of it is put into monthly-reducing home mortgages? Most of the rest of it is kept for safety in cash, government bonds, etc.

You'll enjoy saving at Watertown Federal's beautiful new office, with convenient hours and walk-up window, and with free parking space for your car.

N-W Hospital Aid Directors Meet

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association was held Tuesday, February 12 at 10:30 a.m. at Allen-Riddle Hall. The hostesses at the coffee hour preceding the meeting were Mrs. John C. Campbell, Mrs. Charles M. Cutler and Mrs. Carter N. Hoyt. The pourers were Mrs. Egon E. Kattwinkel and Mrs. Lewis E. Filcher. Mrs. Worthing L. West, president of the Hospital Aid, welcomed as guests the Aid members from West Newton. Following a recently established practice, each month the Board of Directors invites members of the Hospital Aid from one or two towns in Newton or Wellesley to attend the meetings so that they may become acquainted with the vital activities of the Hospital Aid Association.

Mrs. Edward P. Garland, chairman of finances and her committee, Mrs. Robert Hogsett, Mrs. Thomas Lanman, Mrs. John Underhill and Miss Maida Flanders, presented the budget for the coming year, and spoke of the Aid's planned gift to the Hospital.

William Brines, hospital administrator, spoke encouragingly on "The State of the Hospital", stressing the urgent need for additional funds from friends of the Hospital in order to take advantage of the available funds offered by the Government through the Hill-Burton Act for new hospital construction.

HELP YOUR HEART FUND
HELP YOUR HEART

She doesn't use crutches—but she has a crippled heart. So do nearly 500,000 American children. Fortunately, medical research has given us the knowledge to prevent rheumatic fever and reduce heart disease, the leading disabler of children. Remarkable surgery is giving new life to many young hearts afflicted with congenital defects or damaged valves. But more research is needed to save more hearts. You support research—and help all hearts—when you give to the Heart Fund.

HELP YOUR HEART FUND...HELP YOUR HEART

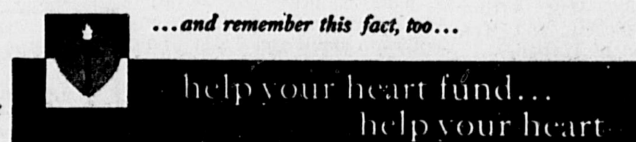

Your contribution supports research, education and community heart programs

You Can't See... A Crippled Heart

Today, Hearts are being saved because heart research is making vital new discoveries . . . because people are beginning to know these 5 hopeful facts.

1. Some forms of heart disease can be prevented . . . a few can be cured.
2. All heart cases can be cared for best if diagnosed early.
3. Almost every heart condition can be helped by proper treatment.
4. Most heart patients can keep on working . . . very often at the same job.
5. Your "symptoms" may or may not mean heart disease. Don't guess . . . don't worry See your doctor and be sure.

Newton Recaptures Metropolitan Track League Title

By CARL J. WURZEL

Newton's talented track aggregation concluded its 1956-57 campaign in a blaze of glory by trouncing lowly Malden in convincing fashion to cop Division I laurels for the second consecutive year at the Metropolitan Track league finale Saturday afternoon.

The local runners were never hard pressed en-route to retaining their unblemished 50 seasonal Met record, as they won six of nine events while compiling fifty points to the opposition's 27.

The Tigers were spearheaded once again by the bouncing body of Marty Beckwith, the rifle arm of Jim King and the winged feet of Johnny Head. Pete Nelson and Louie Farrugia. These Newton track stars all emerged with first place honors in their specialties at the season's final indoor track competition.

Orange-and-Black space-ace, Martin Beckwith, continued his mastery of the high jump as he soared over the crossbar at 6 feet, 1 1/2 inches to remain undefeated in Met Track League competition this season. The high-flying Newton junior fought off a determined bid by Malden's Bill Perch to retain supremacy in his specialty.

Newton's star-studded relay team, consisting of John Head, John McCree, John Connerney and Pete Nelson, mustered another sparkling performance as they turned back Malden easily with the excellent clocking of 2:04.4.

The "Jogging Johns," who are a smooth-working, well trained unit, operate much like the pistons in an automobile—each delivering at top performance individually, but contributing to the success of the whole as well.

Pete Nelson's reign as Met League 600 champ was kept intact Saturday when he won his specialty with ease in the commendable time of 20.6. Newton's diminutive dynamo, Scotty Brent also gave a creditable performance for the local cause by finishing third in this event.

Jolting Jimmy King sparked once again in the pellet-pushing competition, as he heaved the iron grapefruit 51 feet, 6 inches to win first-place honors. He was followed by Orange-and-Black shot-hurler, Gary Snerson.

Johnny Head displayed winning form in the 300 yard run by thwarting team mate John Connerney's gritty effort to dethrone the Tiger speed merchant. Connerney had to be satisfied with runner-up position against the State 300 champion.

Tiger distance star Brian Havey suffered one of his infrequent setbacks in the mile run when he was overtaken on the final lap by Malden's Kevin Kelly. The long-striding Newtonite held the lead throughout the grueling event, but faded badly at the end to lose by twenty yards. Francis Woodbridge of Newton followed Havey across the finish line in show position.

Newton speedsters Louis Farrugia and John McCree teamed up once again in the 50-yard dash and finished first and third respectively.

The middle distance duo of Eddie Bograd and Phil Johnson finished second and third in the 1000 yard run. "Battling" Bograd held a substantial ten yard lead going into the final lap, but faded at the last turn and was nosed out at the wire by Malden's Bob Holbrook.

Gardner Rollins' commendable performance in the hurdles enabled the Newton jumper to cop runner-up laurels in this event.

Due to the combined, all-out efforts of these talented Tiger tracksters, another extremely successful campaign was chalked up by Newton High School. The 1956-57 season saw the powerful locals cop State-wide Class A honors, as well as the Division I Met League championship. Hats off to the outstanding schoolboy track squad in Massachusetts.

Tigers Stay In G.B.I. By Blanking Belmont High School

The snarling Tigers of Newton climbed into runner-up position in the torrid Greater Boston Hockey League championship race by blanking Belmont's powerful pucksters, 2-0, in the second round of the G. B. I. playoffs Saturday at the Boston Arena.

Melrose remained in a commanding position to successfully defend the title, however, by belting a talented Arlington sextet, 4-2, in the afternoon's other feature contest. The Red Raiders are now one full game up on their sole remaining rival, Newton, with but a single contest remaining for each squad. Arlington and Belmont are squared away in show position, trailing the leaders by three full points.

The Orange-and-Black have an opportunity to tie Melrose in next week's clean-up round. This will be an extremely difficult chore, however, as Newton must defeat the rugged Arlington six while an undermanned Belmont squad musters a stunning upset effort against the front-running Raiders of Melrose.

Although a Tiger victory is very plausible, Mighty Melrose is a prohibitive favorite to whip the Belmonters, who are without the services of their injured lamp-lighter, Kenny Gardner.

The Newton-Belmont encounter was a rugged, hard-fought contest all the way. Although the Belmont team showed its usual hustle, it could not completely compensate for the loss of Gardner's scoring punch and play-making ability.

Even without their superstar, the enemy pucksters demonstrated outstanding teamwork and excellent defensive play throughout the highly exciting contest. Belmont played a fine game—but Newton played better.

Tiger net-minder, Johnny Kelly, turned in another of his patented performances in the Newton cage, as he thwarted Belmonteer scoring opportunities on a number of occasions with sparkling stops.

The Newtonites struck pay dirt late in the opening stanza when, with Belmont shorthanded, Dave Crosby sliced a perfect pass across the ice to Pete Fitzgerald, who was positioned to the left of the enemy strings. Fitzgerald slammed the plug from 25 feet out, passed the Belmont goal-guard at 9:37, for what turned out to be the winning tally.

Throughout the hard-fought middle frame, both squads played wide open hockey in an attempt to take command of the game. Outstanding defensive maneuvering held the score dormant, however, until Pete Thompson jammed home a double rebound at the 4:08 mark. The solo insurance tally climaxed a savage offensive drive by the hard-hitting Newton puck-pushers.

The final stanza saw the Orange-and-Black skaters demonstrate their defensive prowess, as they grimly fought to maintain their slim 2-0 lead. The always-dangerous Belmont sextet made a determined bid, but once again stalwart goal tending and airtight defense contained the enemy and enabled the locals to bring home a clutch victory.

Heart Fund Sunday

WHEREAS, diseases of the heart and circulation each year take a greater toll of death in our community and state than all other causes combined; and

WHEREAS, nearly 30,000 Massachusetts citizens fall prey to heart disease each year, and constitute a serious drain on the financial and emotional stability of our households, and major economic loss to our community; and

WHEREAS, the causes underlying the three most serious and widespread manifestations of all heart disease remain undiscovered, despite every effort; and

WHEREAS, The Massachusetts Heart Association, an affiliate of the American Heart Association and Massachusetts' only voluntary organization devoted to our battle against heart disease, has made possible through its funds and its leadership to the medical profession and the public, significant, lifesaving progress in this grave situation; and

WHEREAS, through February the Massachusetts Heart Association will conduct its Heart Fund campaign, through which our people are privileged to work to defend themselves and their successors against heart disease through research, education and services in the community; and

WHEREAS, this is a cooperative investment in heart health for the present and the future, now therefore

BE IT PROCLAIMED that February be designed as HEART MONTH in NEWTON and February 24 as HEART SUNDAY, and as mayor I urge every citizen and all organizations to take this opportunity to aid this effort, so vital to our health and our future, through wholehearted cooperation and generous financial support.

Newton Boys In Play At Shubert

Two 10-year-old Newton Centre boys, both Cub Scouts in real life, will portray Cub Scouts on the stage of the Shubert Theatre in Boston in a Broadway-bound comedy opening Saturday night for a two-week stand.

They are Mark L. Scheier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scheier, 17 Jane Rd., and Mark Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jacobs, 43 Philbrick Rd., both fifth grade pupils at the Oak Hill School.

The youngsters, members of the Boston Children's Theatre, responded on Tuesday night to a hurry-up call from a member of the organization to try out for a part in the comedy, "Good As Gold" by John Patrick.

They were accepted, along with six other youngsters, and will have walk-on parts as members of a group of Cub Scouts in Washington, D. C. The play stars Roddy McDowell, Zere Mostel, and Paul Ford of Sgt. Bilko fame.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS — Dark red ribbons for three years' work have been awarded three members of the Congregational Church Youth Choir. They are Susan Maurer, Kimball Walen and Carolyn Achorn.

AUBURNDALE — Frederick E. Coulter, airman apprentice, USN, is participating in the annual Atlantic Fleet Winter Training Exercise in the Caribbean Sea. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Coulter, 218 Melrose street.

NEWTON CENTRE — Named to the honor roll at the Mary A. Burnham School in Northampton is Mary Margaret McGinn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Sylvester McGinn, 39 Mason road.

Sixth Annual Institute on Judaism Hears Talk By Abraham Feldman

Temple Shalom of Newton held its 6th Annual Institute on Judaism for the Christian Clergy last Friday, in the new sanctuary at 175 Temple street, West Newton.

Sponsored by Temple Shalom of Newton in cooperation with the Newton Ministerial Association, the Institute had as its participating guests clergymen from Newton and surrounding communities as well as members of the faculties of the Andover-Newton Theological Seminary, the Harvard Divinity School, and the Boston University School of Theology.

This year, Rev. Dr. Abraham J. Feldman of Hartford, Conn. was the guest lecturer. His theme for the institute was "Contributions of Judaism to Modern Society." Dr. Feldman is currently President of the Synagogue Council of America and is highly regarded as a scholar, author and speaker. "A Companion to the Bible," "Faith of a Liberal Jew," and "Reform Judaism — a Guide" are among the literary contributions of Dr. Feldman, who is also a member of the Board of Directors of the National Jewish Welfare Board and Editor of the "Jewish Ledger," a weekly publication.

The guests were welcomed by Rabbi Murray I. Rothman of Temple Shalom and by Mr. Robert E. Segal, chairman of the Temple's Community Relations Committee and Chairman of the Institute. Mr. Segal introduced the Rev. Sydney Adams, executive secretary of the Newton Council of Churches, who gave the invocation at the opening of the session. The morning meeting which adjourned at noon, was followed by a luncheon served by the Temple Shalom Sisterhood. Mrs. Robert Goldstein, chairman of hospitality of Temple Shalom and her committee were in charge of the luncheon arrangements.

A discussion period was held after Dr. Feldman's lecture, with a guided tour of the new Temple Sanctuary and school buildings part of the program. Dr. John Humphrey Scammon, Prof. of Hebrew and Old Testament at Andover-Newton Theological Seminary gave the invocation before the luncheon. Rabbi Feldman was also the guest preacher at the Sabbath Eve Service at Temple Shalom, Friday, February 8.

Among those who attended from Newton and the surrounding communities were the following members of the clergy: Sydney Adams, Centenary Methodist Church, Auburndale; Benjamin Andrews, Central Cong. Church, Newtonville; John W. Balcom, St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands; Henry Beukelman, First Methodist Church of Newton; Ross Cannon, the Second Church in Newton; Ray A. An honorary escort from the Newton Fire Dept., led by Chief Frederick A. Perkins, attended funeral services in Waban on Saturday for Jeremiah A. Hurley, retired member of the department who died on Feb. 6.

A Newton fireman for 37 years and a native of Newton Upper Falls, Hurley was a bachelor and made his home at the Waban fire station. At his retirement last year, he moved to Belmont to live with his brother, John F. He also leaves another brother Daniel of Waltham.

WILLIAM L. GANNON

A retired West Newton contractor, William L. Gannon, 66, died last week in Rutland, Vt., after a long illness. A graduate of the Newton school system and Bryant and Stratton, Mr. Gannon was a World War I veteran. He conducted a contracting business in this city for many years.

He leaves two sisters, Miss Mary E. and Miss Rose M. Gannon of Weston, and a brother, John J. of Milton.

ROBERT A. FRASER

Robert A. Fraser, 45, of Newton Highlands died suddenly on Feb. 6 after an evening spent bowling in Boston. He suffered a heart attack while leaving the bowling alleys, and died shortly after his arrival at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

A printer for the American Banknote Co., of Boston, he had made his home for the past eight years at 230 Winchester St. A native of Boston, Mr. Fraser attended Rindge Tech and served as a radar technician during World War II. He was a member of the Newton Centre Methodist Church.

He is survived by his wife, the former Anna Bacon, and three children, Robert Jean, now serving with the Air Force Intelligence, Marilyn, and Allan Bruce.

FREDERICK A. KING

A solemn high mass of requiem was sung this morning at St. Philip Neri Church in Waban for Frederick A. King of 5 Seiden street, who died on Monday after a brief illness at the age of 52.

A husband of the former Helen Louise Sheehan. He had been employed as a salesman for the Hathaway Baking Co. and was active in the Knights of Columbus and St. Philip Neri's Holy Name Society.

Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Sarah L. McLellan and Elizabeth Ann, of Waban; a grandson, a brother, Thomas Lee King of Newton Centre; and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Caron of Newton Highlands, and Mrs. Priscilla Love of Millbury.

Graphic Glimpses

NEWTONVILLE - Mr. and Mrs. Harry Y. Chei, 414 Walnut street, are the parents of a second son, Kenneth Inkyu Chei, born Jan. 20 at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Chei is a research assistant at M.I.T. All the baby's grandparents live in China.

NEWTON CENTRE - Pvt. Richard M. Ward, 103 Centre street, are undergoing basic training at Fort Dix, N. J. A graduate of Proctor Academy and Middlebury College, Casten was employed locally by the Jenney Mfg. Co. before entering the service. Ward attended the Sacred Heart School and was employed at City Hall.

NEWTONVILLE - Paul F. Kenney, 230 Walnut street, was honored recently by the Equitable Life Assurance Society at its annual dinner at the Boston Statler Hotel. He was cited for his "consistency of production and the progressive excellence of his work" during the past 25 years.

NEWTON - Peter J. Hughes, 13 Wiltshire road, has enrolled at the Industrial Technical School in Boston where he will study refrigeration and air conditioning.

NEWTON CENTRE - Dr. and Mrs. Irving W. Schiller, 849 Commonwealth avenue, spent last week-end at a Las Vegas hotel as an award for appearing on the TV program, "Truth Or Consequences".

Dr. Schiller, who was attending a convention of allergists in Los Angeles, was a participant on the show. When he failed to answer his question "truthfully", he was asked to call his wife, Barbara, on the telephone and describe the sights of California to her. While he was talking as he thought to Newton, Mrs. Schiller walked on stage with the phone in her hand.

AUBURNDAL - Honored by the Addressograph-Multi-graph Corporation is John R. Senigo, 239 Woodland road. He has earned ten memberships in their Hundred Club, and will be awarded a gold self-winding watch at a meeting of the group at The Greenbrier in West Virginia this week. Also scheduled to attend this meeting is Robert A. Keezer, 119 Hanson road, Newton Centre, who was named to the Hundred Club this year.

NEWTON CENTRE - Three Newtonites will sing with the 130-voice Chorus for Musica on March 3 in Symphony Hall. Participating in a performance of the Bach B Minor Mass will be Betty G. Fitton, 75 Summer street, Mrs. Donald R. Mapel, 39 Paul street, and Mrs. Lawrence Smith, 211 Church street.

NEWTON - Mrs. Haskell A. Kaitz, 3 Valley Spring road, will give a book review and Mrs. Kenneth Rosenfeld, 42 Wessex road, Newton Centre, will deliver the opening prayer at the mid-winter meeting of the local chapter of the American Jewish Congress at noon on Feb. 20, at the Kehillath Israel Hall in Brookline.

NEWTON CENTRE - A sports night and buffet supper will be held on Tuesday night, Feb. 19, at 6:30 p.m. by the Temple Emanuel Brotherhood. Guests will include Tenley Albright, Swede Nelson, former Harvard coach, Ken MacAfee, N. Y. Giant's end, and Benny Friedman, Brandeis' athletic director. Chairman of the event is Dr. Max Ritve.

NEWTON CENTRE - Principal speaker at the women's forum meeting of the American Institute of Banking tomorrow night at the Boston City Club will be Mrs. Doris L. Green, 38 Willow street. Mrs. Green is president of the Savings Bank Women of Massachusetts and is associated with the Newton Savings Bank.

WEST NEWTON - Thomas J. Dokton, 160 Randlett road, a freshman at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, has been cited for excellence in scholarship. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dokton.

NEWTON - The Police Wives Association will meet tonight in the Civic Room of the N. E. Advertising Co. in Newton Highlands at 8 p.m. The Rev. Daniel Driscoll, SVD, will discuss foreign missions. President of the group is Mrs. Margaret Ganley.

AUBURNDAL - Virginia J. Campana, 196 Auburn street, has received the traditional cap signifying the completion of her six months probationary period at the Melrose Hospital School of Nursing.

NEWTON CENTRE - Dr. and Mrs. Irving W. Schiller, 849 Commonwealth avenue, spent last week-end at a Las Vegas hotel as an award for appearing on the TV program, "Truth Or Consequences".

PLAN SPRING PROFITS—PUT WANT ADS TO WORK FOR YOU

When Wife Goes Back to Work

If you are considering joining other housewives who are streaming back to work these days, here are some problems you'll have to think about, according to the editors of Changing Times, The Kiplinger Magazine.

If the main purpose is to add to the family coffers, a wife must have a job that will pay at least her expenses plus her taxes, and a net return that will make the job financially worthwhile. If she files a joint income tax return, she pays at her husband's top rate. If he's in, say, the 26% bracket, roughly 26 cents of every dollar she earns will go to taxes. And so, the more her husband earns, the more she pays for the privilege of working.

One wife, whom the editors cite as typical, took a job that paid $250 a month. After all expenses for clothes, baby-sitter, lunches, transportation and taxes had been taken out she discovered that she had $91 a month left to contribute to the family income. Even at that, she continues to work because the $91 a month makes it possible for her and her $461-a-month husband to stay out of debt.

She will have personal and family problems to cope with, too. An outside job may free her from routine household tasks, but it won't rid her of the responsibility of managing her home. Is she up to it physically as well as emotionally? Will the youngsters be okay? Whether or not a wife is depriving her child by working depends on the kind of person she is and the kind of arrangements she makes for her care.

Finally, will her husband go along with the idea wholeheartedly? Will he pitch in with the housework if he has to? Does he agree that the kids will be in good hands? Remember, that the decision about a wife taking a job is a family one.

Favors Merit System in Employment Act

Elimination of the "merit system" from the Employment Security Act "would be a serious disservice to the workers of Massachusetts," Kurtz M. Hanson, president of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, declared this week before the legislative committee on labor and industries at the State House.

"Elimination of the merit system would place the burden back on the employee rather than on the employer," Hanson asserted. "An employer could exploit his labor force if merit rating were wiped out."

"I hope that the bill providing for the abolition of the merit system will be rejected by the legislature. Its passage would be a serious disservice to the workers of Massachusetts," Hanson stated.

Museum's Owl Wasn't Stuffed—Just Snoozing

Spooky, pet Great Horned Owl at Boston's Museum of Science gave at least one recent Museum visitor the wrong impression by taking time out for a short snooze.

After watching the bird, immobile except for an occasional half-lift of an eyelid, a baffled 10-year-old boy finally turned to veteran Museum guard John J. McGreevy of Medford and queried, "Is there a motor in that thing?"

"All you do is scratch the wood (around Spooky's glassed-in exhibit case) and he'll wake up," responded McGreevy.

The boy and Spooky did, just in time to prove that any connection between a stuffed owl and this talented star of stage and television is wholly erroneous.

Salvation Army Friendly Appeal Goal $600,000

A $600,000 goal has been set for the 1957 Salvation Army Friendly Annual Appeal in Greater Boston. It was announced by Col. Ralph T. Miller, New England provincial commander.

The famed Salvation Army International Staff Band from London will "kickoff" the Spring drive with a combined concert and top leadership meeting at the Boston Opera House on May 1.

The money raised maintains 35 agencies including the Red Shield Club for Servicemen, Booth Hospital, South End Boys' Club and Day Nursery.

The campaign will run the entire month of May.

"Anyone who has a legitimate need will receive help without regard to race or creed," said Col. Miller.

Bowen School To Celebrate Fifth Birthday February 28

The Bowen School P.T.A. is planning an outstanding meeting marking the fifth anniversary of the opening of the new Bowen School, Thursday, February 28 at 8 p.m.

A panel discussion "The Responsible Family" will be presented by five experts in the field of human relations: Dr. Walter Muehler, Dean of Boston University School of Theology and a Bowen parent; Dr. Richard McCann, Professor of Christianity at Andover Newton Theological Seminary and Director of "Our Believing World" program; Robert E. Segal, Executive Director, Jewish Community Council of Metropolitan Boston; Miss Anna Austin, Psychological Counselor, Newton Public Schools; and Mrs. Virginia K. Ridlon, fifth grade teacher at Bowen School. Edward M. Clarke, principal at Bowen will be moderator. The panel discussion will be followed by a question period.

Many prominent guests from Bowen's past and present are being invited. Among them will be all the past P.T.A. presidents; Miss Mary Bond, Herbert Callahan, former Bowen head teacher, Clarence Churchill and Miss Ruth Dority, former principals of the old Bowen School; Dr. Harold Gores, Superintendent of Newton Public Schools and Haskell Freedman, member of the Newton School Committee.

Paul Melrose, president of the Bowen P.T.A. will preside at a birthday cake cutting ceremony in the gymnasium, in which all the guests will participate.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cohen, program chairman, and Mrs. George Applebaum, hospitality chairman, and their able committees have planned a most enjoyable evening and hoping that all Bowen parents will join with them in wishing many more good birthday years to Bowen School.

Fur Sales

New York — Annual fur sales in the U. S. have reached one-half billion dollars in some years, figures far greater than during the days of the explorers.

Newton Girl Scout Council Is Well Represented

The Newton Girl Scout Council was well represented at the New England Camping Association spring conference held at the Statler Hotel, Feb. 8 and 9. Many phases of camping were featured and hundreds of camp directors, campers and camp executives found the many sessions they attended very helpful and challenging. The members attending from Newton were Miss Elizabeth Richardson, Mrs. Janis Kaljas, Mrs. Earl Alban, Mrs. Thomas Lepore, Miss Jo Ann Swett, Mrs. Russell Broad, and Miss Sarma Kaljas and Miss Patricia Jones, girl scout campers.

Rev. Dr. William G. Berndt of Newton presided at the opening luncheon meeting.

Diet Content

Los Angeles — An average American eats about 100 pounds more food than he did in the late 1930's, but because of more carefully regulated diets, the increase in calories is about the same.

Local Men To Moderate Discussions On Suez Film

Newton citizens will have an opportunity to see Edward R. Murrow's "See It Now" film on Suez the week of Feb. 25. The Newton League of Women Voters is sponsoring showings

Stamps Salvaged In N.U.F. Fire

Fire swept a large frame house in Newton Upper Falls on Saturday, forcing ten people to the street and injuring three firefighters. The fire started from the explosion of a space heater in the living room of Francis J. Colton's home at 27 Oak street. Damage was estimated at $5,000, but a valuable stamp collection of 11 albums was salvaged.

Flying glass injured firemen David Copley and George Garabedian of Upper Falls and Francis Doherty of Newtonville. Mr. and Mrs. William Corbett and their six children were driven out of their half of the 19-room house.

of the film on five different nights in various sections of the city.

Mrs. Joseph R. Miller, chairman of the League's "Focus On The Future" project, has announced that viewers will be able to take part in discussions of the film after each showing.

Scheduled to lead these discussions are Robert Mitchell, director of guidance at the High School and president of the World Affairs Council; Albert R. Beisel, Jr., law professor at Boston University; Harold R. Isaacs, professor at MIT's Center for International Studies; Richard G. Mintz, Boston attorney; and Paul Deats Jr., associate professor of social ethics at Boston University.

The time and place of these open meetings will be announced next week.

ward-Newton Intern program, and will receive master's degrees from the Harvard Graduate School in June. They are: May Ann Carson, Nancy McFarlin, Mrs. Janet E. Forslund and Edward P. Yaglou.

Also named are four who will graduate from Framingham Teachers College in June: Evelyn Formalarie, Joan A. Lieberg, Florence M. Ahern, and Jacqueline B. Quinn.

Also appointed were Ellen J. Bowen, scheduled to graduate from Bridgewater Teachers College in June; Marjorie Brenner, Mrs. Eileen Flax, and Marion Nutter, now seniors at Lesley College; Joan Wood of Connecticut College and Sally Anne MacNair of Cortland College in New York.

Assigned to Newton High School is Mrs. Thekla J. Brackett, on the substitute list for the past 14 years, while Mrs. Mary J. Brame, a Brown graduate will teach at Day Junior High. Mrs. Hazel C. Grove was named a substitute at the High School.

Dr. Charles O. Richter reported to the committee on the progress of personnel selection

ORT Day To Be Observed March 5

ORT Day will be observed in Massachusetts Tuesday, March 5. ORT Day is a national event sponsored annually by Women's American ORT which is currently marking the anniversary of 30 years of participation in the global vocational training program of the World ORT Union.

Mrs. Irving Gale of Newton Highlands, regional vice-president in charge of membership has been appointed ORT Day Chairman. Among those assisting Mrs. Gale will be Mrs. Fred Glass, Mrs. Murray Feinberg, Mrs. Norman Copenhagen and Mrs. Morris Klieckstein.

For 1957, prospective teachers have been interviewed in 26 colleges, he said, and 14 have accepted teaching jobs in Newton to date. The assistant superintendent of schools told the board it was too early to know how many vacancies there will be to fill, but said that interviews are being conducted regularly with possible candidates.

Robert Marquis Accepted As A Platoon Leader

Robert Marquis of 6 Winchester road, Newton, has recently been notified of his acceptance in the United States Marine Corps, Platoon Leaders' Corps. Bob, now a junior at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, was one of the two young men selected from that university to qualify for this Marine group.

He will attend 6 weeks training at Quantico, Virginia during this summer and the summer of 1958, and upon graduation from the University, will serve three years in the Marine Corps as a commissioned officer.

Bob is specializing in Chemistry, Physics and the sciences at college. He is a very enthusiastic booster for Massachusetts' fast-growing State College.

$5,800,000 Budget For Schools Draws Attack By Mayor

School Committee members rallied to the defense of their better-than-$5,800,000 budget for 1957 this week in the wake of a slashing attack on the proposed budget by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr.

The mayor was particularly critical of pay raises granted non-teaching personnel, pointing out that the school budget has leaped $775,000 over last year's figure.

But several members of the School Committee told the Graphic that the budget had been "poured over for long hours late at night" before it was submitted and pared in every possible area.

Though praising the mayor and expressing understanding of the difficult task facing him in keeping the city's finances on an even keel, the School

Bill To Block New Toll Road Facing Defeat in Legislature

William F. Callahan of Newton, former State public works commissioner and present head of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority, is just about as shrewd a politician as there is in the Commonwealth.

He probably wields greater influence with the members of the Massachusetts House of Representatives than any other single individual with the possible exception of Governor Foster Furcolo. What he wants from the Legislature he usually gets.

That is why the bill intended to block proposed construction of a toll road through Newton and into Boston faces almost certain defeat.

The Newton legislators undoubtedly will wage a gallant fight. The weight of the argument and logic may be on their side. But, unfortunately, this issue will not be decided on its merit. It will be decided the way Mr. Callahan wants it decided, and Mr. Callahan wants to build a toll road.

Vote Goes Against 3 Road-Block Bills

Opponents of the proposed extension of the East-West toll road through Newton—shaking off a seemingly overwhelming defeat in committee—drew their battle lines taut for an all-out fight on the floor of the Legislature immediately after the committee rejection.

There were indications that many on-the-fence legislators were disposed to give further consideration to the Newton opposition despite the committee's 14-1 vote. That was the margin by which the committee on highways and motor vehicles reported adversely on three bills designed to prevent the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority from routing its Weston-Boston toll link through this city.

Sole member of the committee to vote for the Newton-favored bills was Representative John Brox, Dracut Republican. Voting in favor of the toll extension and against the three proposed measures which would prevent it were Senate Committee chairman Charles W. Olson of Ashland, House committee co-chairmen Thomas J. Doherty of Medford and Harold C. Nagle of Fall River and the following members, Senators Harold R. Lundgren of Worcester, Charles Marston of Haverhill, James J. Corbett of Somerville, and Representatives Frank B. Oliveira of Fall River, Joseph A. Sylvia of New Bedford, Rico Matera of Boston, Albert H. Zabriskie of New-

ABOUT TO ENTRAIN FOR WAYNE—Pictured at Route 128 Station on Friday morning when they boarded the train for Wayne, Pa., are the 30 boys and girls of the Newton-Philadelphia Exchange Program. Each student is spending the week at the home of his Wayne "partner" and living and learning the life of his counterpart in suburban Philadelphia. The Exchangers are Roberta Ingham, Maureen Driscoll, Ruth Butterfield, Nancy Erikson, Myra Small, Janet White, Sonja Karakashian, Judy Francis, Diana Hazel, Cynthia Barber, Pat Gordon, Penny Glaser, Elaine Remley, Nancy Oncley, Allan Paulson, Allan Weinstein, Kenneth Winston, George Mosher, John McCloskey, Earle Lane, Robert Purinton, Donald Willis, Kenneth Hallow, George Hurley, David Smith, Martin Beckwith, Frank Manguso, Paul Pearson, Albert Studer and Nancy Meyers.

BILL IN LEGISLATURE MAY PUT MTA THRU CITY

Riverside Station in Auburn would be only 28 minutes from Park Street if a bill filed in the State Legislature to provide the south side of Newton with an MTA line should be passed.

The bill, filed by four Democratic representatives, provides for a rapid transit system to be installed on the Highland Branch of the Boston and Albany Railroad at an estimated cost of $9 million. It will be heard by the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs on March 11.

Rep. Arthur G. Heaney of Newton has filed another bill which would give communities through which any MTA extension would pass a veto over the plans. Heaney does not object to the extension as such, but feels each city involved should have some control over the project.

Should the plan be adopted, Newtonites could board the subway at Riverside and ride directly to Park Square. There would be stops at the existing stations and six Brookline stops, plus a new one between Longwood Station and Kenmore. Trains would run on a 15-minute schedule.

The Boston Municipal Research Bureau originally proposed the plan for MTA extension into Newton, and the proposed system has the support of the Retail Trade Board, the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Boston Real Estate Board, and the Boston Citizens Council, as well as the MTA trustees and the Boston City Council.

To encourage passengers, the MTA would be instructed to investigate parking facilities already available at the railroad stations, and develop MTA parking lots.

Feeley Helps Coax Suicide From Tower

Officer Charles E. Feeley of the Newton police, traffic specialist whose personality has been impressing itself on many hundreds of local school children in the last few years got himself a lot of nation-wide attention this week.

He played a lead role in a real-life, completely non-rehearsed drama. He talked Roger Lavelli, 24, of Brighton, off a perch 100 feet up the steel ladder inside the WBZ-TV tower on Soldiers Field road, Brighton. He used that personality which has been so tremendously successful in teaching boys and girls the hazards of modern traffic.

Police said Lavelli was bent on suicide when Officer Feeley got into the act. With the assistance of Lavelli's wife and the Rev. Thomas A. Keane, 26, of St. Anthony's Church, Brighton, Feeley coaxed, coaxed and kidded Lavelli down to terra firma.

It all happened right outside the WBZ studio door. It provided the station with a TV scoop in its own back yard. Before the next 48 hours had

Record Budget Poses $53.70 Tax Rate

Another all-time high municipal budget — totaling $16,388,348 — is being mullied by the Finance Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen.

This represents a $5.50 boost to the steadily-increasing tax rate, which last year moved up to $48.20. This possible increase may be partially offset, however, by higher real estate valuations, greater receipts from state funds.

The budget — up better than $1,200,000 over last year — will now be examined by the economy-minded Finance Committee for presentation March 25th at a special session of the aldermen. The committee will go over each item in the budget with department heads before that date.

Before submitting the budget to the Finance Committee, Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., trimmed $300,000 from the requests filed with him by the heads of the various departments. But the task of holding the line on tax increases was made doubly difficult, the mayor declared, by the soaring School Department budget, which this year totals more than $5,800,000.

Cost of operating the local schools accounts this year for 35 per cent of the total budget, yet the School Department is responsible for close to 65 per cent of the increase, the mayor pointed out.

Other city expenditures account for only 35 percent of the prospective raise, and this figure may drop even further once under the scrutiny of the Finance Committee. The School Department, however, is by state law set apart from other municipal divisions, and its budget cannot be pared by the aldermen.

Therefore the mayor is required to let the School Department's requested $5,855,784 stand. He also substantially granted their 1957 requests to the accounting department, the city physician, the executive department, the public works department, the purchasing department, and the treasury department.

He pared somewhat the requests of the assessors, the city clerk, the fire department, the health, law and library departments, the public buildings department and the city sealer.

The Civil Defense request was cut from $44,192 to $18,283, and the engineering requests were cut by about $5000. The fire department asked for $1,279,647 and was allowed $1,242,061 by the Mayor. The recreation department asked for $283,796 and was allowed $271,402. $200,000 was lopped off street department requests, and veteran's services and welfare were both cut down, the former by $4000, and the latter from $913,856 to $910,436.

Only three departments had a lower budget than in 1956. They were the city clerk's, the law and the public works departments.

Schools Here Win Kudos

"If your child is lucky enough to be attending the public schools of Newton, Mass., or Oak Park, Ill., you couldn't expect better preparation for college anywhere," says the national magazine Changing Times in its February issue.

This opinion was expressed in a story discussing the pros and cons of private schools. The magazine is published by the Kiplinger business research organization.

Community Concert Group To Hold Third Meeting Feb. 27

An important meeting of the Newton Community Concert Association will be held on Wednesday evening, February 27th, at 8 o'clock at the Second Church.

The association was founded by a group of Newton citizens interested in developing a concert series in the community with the added purpose of creating a permanent organization.

Officers have been elected to launch the project in a business-like manner. Named to head the association are, Ivar Sjoström, president; Ruth Perkins, vice-president; Cynthia Pride, secretary; Mary Louise Eddy, treasurer; and James Remley, concert chairman.

Two meetings have been held to date at which a membership campaign was discussed. Many vital matters pertinent to the organization will be on the agenda next Wednesday.

Following is the personnel of the board of directors and committees:

Board of directors:— Ivar Sjoström, president; Ruth Perkins, 1st vice president; Mrs. J. Leslie Sweetnam, 2d vice president; Mr. Robert Stackhouse, 3d vice president; Mrs. Edward W. Pride, Jr., secretary; Miss Mary Louise Eddy, treasurer; Mr. James Remley, concert chairman; Mrs. Edward W. Pride, Sr., dinner chairman; Mrs. Benjamin Shattuck, Mrs.

Brewer, Mrs. Albert Kreider, Mrs. Samuel B. Horowitz, Mrs. Champe A. Fisher, Mrs. McDonough, Mr. Cook, Mr. Freeman, Mr. Louis Haffermehl, A High School student.

Membership chairman: Mrs. J. Leslie Sweetnam; Division chairmen: Mrs. Benjamin Shattuck, Mrs. Albert Kreider, Mrs. Samuel B. Horowitz, Mrs. Robert Casselman, Mrs. McDonough, Mrs. C. Cabell Bailey, Mrs. Brewer.

Publicity chairman: Mr. Robert Stackhouse; Committee: Mrs. W. Duncan Russell, Mrs. Robert S. Kretschmar.

Dinner chairman: Mrs. Edward W. Pride, Sr.
Committee: Mrs. Arthur Barnes, Mrs. Hugh Tomb, Miss Elizabeth Cushman, Mrs. Robert Fisher, Mrs. Raymond Atwood.

On Honor Roll

Executive Headmaster T. Holmes Moore of New Hampton School, New Hampton, N. H., announces at the end of the first semester that Edward Bennett, a member of the senior class, had been named to the honor roll. Bennett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Bennett of 152 Homer Street, Newton Centre.

sociation and vice-chairman of the American Jewish Committee. Mintz was an active participant in Newton's White House Conference on Education, and has taken part in many Community Fund activities.

A West Newton resident Albert R. Beisel, Jr., will lead the discussion after Wednesday night's showing of the film. A professor at the Boston University School of Law, he is the president of the Community Council and a member of the budget committee of the Community Fund.

Harold R. Isaacs of Waban, a research associate at the Center for International Studies at M.I.T., is scheduled to lead Thursday night's discussion. He has a background of many years of interest in colonial problems and nationalism, and is at present working on a book to be called "American Images of China and India." A former associate editor of Newsweek, Isaacs has written extensively on the Far East, Africa, and colonial problems.

The Rev. Paul Deats, Jr., a Methodist minister, will be the discussion leader on Friday night. A West Newton resident, Mr. Deats teaches Social Ethics at the Boston University School of Theology. He is a native of Texas and, with his family, has made his home here for the past five years.

Following is the schedule for the "Suez-See It Now" discussions:

Monday, Feb. 25, 8 p.m.—At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Milgroom, 51 Holly Rd., Waban. Leader: Mr. Robert Mitchell.

Tuesday, Feb. 26, 8 p.m.—At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Everts, 114 Kirkstall Rd., Newtonville. Leader: Mr. Richard Mintz.

Wednesday, Feb. 27, 8 p.m.—At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Worthen, 121 Highland St., West Newton. Leader: Mr. Albert R. Beisel, Jr.

Thursday, Feb. 28, 8 p.m.—At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Erich Lindemann, 51 Crescent Avenue, Newton Centre. Leader: Mr. Harold R. Isaacs.

Friday, March 1, 8 p.m.—At the home of Mr. and Mrs. John C. McClintock, 141 Chestnut Hill Rd., Chestnut Hill. Leader: Mr. Paul Deats, Jr.

Mrs. Seymour Getter, president of the Newton League of Women Voters, extends an invitation to all the citizens of Newton to attend one of these meetings. The hostesses will be assisted by the following league members: Mrs. Robert Mitchell, Mrs. Martin Greenberg, Mrs. Getter, Miss M. Louise Walworth, and Mrs. John C. McClintock.

Surprise Party At L.F. Library for Mrs. Robinson

Mrs. Arthur G. Robinson's last night as librarian at Lower Falls was made memorable by the unexpected arrival of over 1500 members of the community to honor her with a surprise reception.

On Friday evening, Feb. 15, the Lower Falls Improvement Association, the P.T.A., the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts joined forces to give her a farewell party. She is joining the library staff at Wellesley, where she makes her home.

Presentation of a gift and purse was made by Robert Henley, president of the Improvement Association.

Among those who paid their respects were Supt. of Schools Harold Gores, Asst. Superintendent Charles O. Richter, Raymond Cook, principal of the Hamilton School, Miss Rose Pilibosian, head teacher; Rev. William G. Berndt of St. Mary's Church, and former Fire Chief John E. Corcoran.

Active in arranging the reception were Mrs. Harry Friedman, Mrs. Fraser Malcolm, Mrs. Donald Lee and Mrs. Carl Peterson, all of Lower Falls.

raising the money and the taxes to meet school expenditures.

In the opinion of the mayor, the administrative, clerical and custodial fields afford an opportunity to reduce the school budget, but he said that "increases in this field have ballooned the budget beyond the point of reasonableness."

He reminded the taxpayers of the city that the school department budget for 1957 amounts to $5,855,784 and that this figure will be reflected in the tax bills for 1957.

School Board Chairman Henry W. Keyes said that "some salaries were raised because of competition for the custodial, secretarial and administrative personnel needed," but that every item was carefully considered several times by the Board.

Board member John P. Cochran said that while he was very tax conscious, he felt that the School Committee's prime responsibility was to the children of the city. He said the non-teaching personnel were not given all that they asked for, but pointed out that the school department had to compete with industry for competent secretaries, custodians and others.

Mrs. Genevieve Oncley, Board member who returned this week from a conference of National School Boards at Atlantic City, said that after hearing the problems of boards all over the U. S. she felt Newton was very lucky to have the personnel they did without paying more.

She noted a country-wide increase in salaries of non-teaching personnel and felt the Board had done its best to pare the budget to a minimum.

The Mayor has submitted the 1957 budget to the finance committee of the Board of Aldermen for study.

ton highway system in Brighton. Senator Donald L. Gibbs, Newton Republican, filed the Whitmore bills and Representative George E. Rawson, also a Newton Republican, filed the Kretschmar bill.

Representative Rawson plans to move immediately for the substitution of the adverse committee report by the Kretschmar Bill as soon as the matter reaches the House.

Listing-

For a number of reasons everyone should be listed since, for one thing, voters' lists are based on the police listing.

Despite the adverse weather this year the listing work was completed in 40 days. Captain Charles E. Walker, assisted by Sergeant William J. Bell directed the listing work of a team made up of Patrolmen Raymond J. Thibault, Salvatore Arico, Thomas M. Dargan, John J. Coffey, Robert F. Mahoney, Richard J. Nugent, Charles E. Duffy, Manley J. Kiley, Eugene E. Paoletti, Francis M. DeVito and Joseph E. LaCroix.

Quick Change

New York — Airplanes often have to take off from airports where surface temperatures are more than 100 degrees and fly in a few minutes to altitudes where temperatures are near zero.

"The (Kretschmar) bill calls for a freeway along the general course of the Charles River similar to the line of the western expressway in the 1948 Master Highway Plan," the representative explained. He pointed out that it is a "general route" which would admit considerable modification.

"The proposed Boston & Albany route would absolutely ruin the city of Newton," Rawson continued, "as well as the towns west of Newton. It would be criminal to take the railroad on which Newton, Wellesley, Weston and Natick all depend."

Senator Gibbs will lead the fight for the Whitmore bills on the floor of the Senate. He brands the Turnpike Authority's plans as "foolish."

"It is regrettable," said Kretschmar after learning of the adverse committee report, "that the committee did not seem to understand that the people of Massachusetts already pay taxes for freeways and this would pay tolls for over 30 years for a road which they can get virtually free from the Federal government."

All along proponents of a freeway have pointed out the State would be reimbursed for 90 per cent of the cost of construction of a freeway under the Federal highway program.

Present plans of the Turnpike Authority call for the opening this spring of the East-West toll road from Route 128 in Weston to the New York State line.

Newton Pucksters Runner Up In G.B.I. Race With Tie Game

By CARL J. WURZEL

The Orange-and-Black pucksters fought to a 2 to 2 stand-off with Arlington Saturday afternoon at the Greater Boston Hockey League play-off finale to conclude the grueling G. B. I. race in runner-up position, just 2 points behind the defending champion Red Raiders of Melrose, who copped the crown again with a disputed 1 to 1 tie against a fired-up Belmont sextet.

The shorthanded Belmonters, on the verge of a stunning 1-0 upset via Bob McBride's second period blast from the blue line, were victimized by the inability of officials to count heads under pressure.

For twenty seconds during the last minute of play the Raiders had first eight and then seven skaters on the ice. Everyone in the Boston Arena, especially the irate Belmont bench, noticed the extra players—everyone, that is, except the officials, who had only the game's end in mind.

Newton's place position in G.B.I. competition enables the hard-fighting locals to represent the League, along with Melrose, in the state tournament to begin Friday at the Boston Arena. Belmont and Arlington, who concluded 'the campaign in a deadlock for third place, are out of the running for a tournament birth.

An inability to materialize on several sustained drives in the final frame proved to be the Achilles tendon of the Newtonites. With the count deadlocked at two all, the Tigers bared their fangs in an all-out effort to drive home the winning tally. Stalwart enemy goal-guarding and air-tight de-

The Orange-and-Black pucksters maintained a wide-open offensive style of play throughout most of the exciting encounter in an attempt to turn the tide in their favor.

This philosophy paid dividends in the initial period when Ronnie O'Loughlin lit the red light with a backhand from the left of the cage at 6:14. O'Loughlin's drive skidded off defenseman Leonard's skate before bounding into the Arlington strings.

The enemy-dominated middle stanza saw the always-dangerous invaders knot the count when center Gerry Cronin flipped home a George Line-rick rebound. The rejuvenated Arlingtonites continued to press their attack and succeeded in grabbing the lead when Jim Ellingwood faked out Tiger backstop John Kelly, after taking a soft pass across the crease from Pete Staffon.

Black-back winger, Dave Crosby, hit for the all-important equalizer at 8:48 of the second frame when he slapped home a double rebound. Sandy Boardman and defenseman Cornish could not succeed in forcing the plug past the Arlington netminder. Crosby swept into the scramble before the enemy cage, grabbed the rebound and drove it into the strings for the final goal of the contest.

The fact that the federal government would pay 90 percent of the cost of building a freeway will be brushed aside.

Mayor Whitmore and the Newton objectors had three—not two but three—strikes on them before they even went to the State House for last week's hearing.

Mr. Callahan would be very unhappy if he couldn't build a toll road, and the legislators wouldn't want to make Mr. Callahan unhappy. The bill to stop Mr. Callahan's toll road plans will be filed in the waste basket. This is a subject we will explore at greater length later.

Bills to Tighten Crime Laws To Be Debated by Legislature

It seems clear that before the current session of the Massachusetts Legislature comes to a close its members will have a pretty close look at those statutes of the Commonwealth which relate to crime.

The very nature of some of the bills due to come up for consideration are certain to open up an enlightening debate. All phases of the criminal picture are sure to come in for careful examination—from those aspects of juvenile delinquency which annually find hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of damage inflicted on public and private property to the matters concerned with dusting off our long unused electric chair.

Governor Furolo, in one of his first official acts, visited the new State Prison at Walpole. That visit reflected the Governor's own interest in the State's penal problems. It indicated, too, that Furolo was not satisfied that when the system was given a good shaking up under the previous administration a perfect, completely satisfactory answer had been found.

The Legislature itself has indicated this early in the session that instead of easing up on the application of tough laws to modern crime, it is disposed toward tightening the screws a bit.

Chairman John D. Coughlin of the Youth Service Board and Registrar Rudolph F. King commanded the rapt attention of the legislative committee on the judiciary with their testimony when that committee was considering a bill aimed at juvenile violations of the motor vehicle laws.

Both these officials advocated "throwing the book" at teenagers nabbed for motor law violations under the terms of a measure which would permit the court to assess youthful offenders the same penalties meted out to adults.

Provisions would be made to have the teenagers classified as delinquents rather than criminals, but the whole idea is to put some teeth in the law governing the teenagers. It is an important angle of attack, too, for in most juvenile crime the automobile plays a vital role.

Later on in the session the Legislature will be asked to devote its attention to the more serious crimes and particularly to whether or not the State wants to abolish the electric chair in theory as well as in fact.

The chair has not been used for years now. For all practical purposes, since the start of the administration of former Governor Paul A. Dever, it has been a forgotten adjunct of the penal code.

There's a bill sponsored by District Attorney Stephen A. Moynahan of Springfield and others which asks that the will of the people be ascertained on this controversial question. It was District Attorney Moynahan who prosecuted Kenneth Chapin for the shooting child murders in Springfield. It was he who fought the stern, albeit losing battle to make Chapin pay for those murders by giving his own life in the electric chair.

Another measure concerned with the electric chair calls for its abolition for a period of five years. The five-year period would be viewed as an experiment to see how things would work out if there were no immediate prospect of an electric chair for the man or woman who commits murder.

The latter bill would seem to grant some sort of legal blessing to a system which unofficially has actually been in effect for some years. What it would prove is open to question.

Some legislators already have gone on record in favor of a measure introduced by State Senators Philip A. Graham of Hamilton, Leslie B. Cutler of Needham and Mario Umama of East Boston who would have the Legislature just abolish the death penalty altogether.

Others like a petition filed by Representative Gordon D. Boynton of the Back Bay, who would wipe out capital punishment in certain cases.

There's a wide range in the bills concerned with crime which are now pending before the Legislature. They run the entire gamut—from the misguided teen-ager racing through the streets nightly in a stolen car to the man who takes another's life.

This session of the General Court isn't going to be permitted to forget that we've still got a long way to go before we can say we have erased crime or even gained control over it.

An old Massachusetts custom will be followed tomorrow (Friday) when Governor and Mrs. Foster Furolo hold the traditional Washington's Birthday reception at the State House.

The event always is an extremely colorful one in the first year of a newly elected Governor, and Furolo's admirers in all parts of the Commonwealth will converge on Beacon Hill to pay their tribute to him.

It isn't likely that the 1957 Washington's Birthday reception will come even close to the record for the number of visitors established during the regime of former Governor James M. Curley, but the indications are that the gathering will be an exceptionally large one.

CABOT SCHOOL LINCOLN EXHIBIT—A collection of Lincolniana belonging to Dr. Edwin P. Booth of Boston University was on display last week in the Cabot School sixth grade. The exhibit was prepared by Joyce Alban of Newtonville, right, and is being examined by William Gordon Allen, Jeff Peterson, and Miss Marjorie Brenner, student teacher. It included a photostat of a poster, rear center, offering $50,000 reward for the capture of Lincoln's assassin. (Photo by Gordon R. Wilk)

DEATHS Funeral Service At Baptist Church For Dr. Herrick

Funeral services for the Rev. Dr. Everett C. Herrick, President Emeritus of the Andover Newton Theological School at Newton Centre, were held Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre. Officiating at the service was the Rev. Russell H. Bishop, pastor of the First Baptist Church of which Dr. Herrick was a member. Assisting in the service was the Rev. Dr. Herbert Gezork, President of Andover Newton and the Rev. Dr. Wallace Forgey, Professor of Pastoral Theology at Andover Newton.

On Thursday Feb. 28, at 10 a.m. a special memorial service will be held in the Andover Newton Chapel on the hilltop campus for trustees, alumni, students, and friends.

Dr. Herrick, who died Feb. 13 at the age of 80, was installed as president of the Newton Theological Institution in 1926, and was influential in bringing about its affiliation with the Andover Theological Seminary in 1931. Under his leadership, the combined schools grew in stature and became one of the country's leading schools for the training of Baptist and Congregational ministers.

A native of Maine, Dr. Herrick was a graduate of Hebron Academy, Colby College, and of the Newton Theological Institution. Ordained into the Baptist ministry in 1901, he served churches in Charlestown and Fall River before coming to Newton.

A former president of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention, he held Doctor of Divinity degrees from Colby, Brown and Dartmouth, a Doctor of Laws degree from the University of Maine, and Doctor of Humane Letters from Boston University.

His wife, the former Sarah Munroe Hall, died in 1950. They made their home here at 5 Ripley terrace, Newton Centre.

WILLIAM E. ABEL

William E. Abel, a mechanic at Waller's Atlantic Service Station in Lower Falls, died on Monday after a month's illness. The 26-year old Auburn-dale resident had undergone an operation on Sunday at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

He leaves his wife, Rita A. (Sampson), of 229 Auburn street, and three children, Nancy, a kindergartner at the Williams School, Susan and Eugene.

ONORINO CARUSO

Funeral services were held last Saturday for Mrs. Onorino (Costagna) Caruso, 10 Beecher Pl., Newton Centre, who died at her home on Feb. 14 at the age of 67.

She had lived in Newton since 1912, and belonged to the Society of San Giovanni and the Society of the Madonna di Carmine.

Survivors include her husband, Antonio, two sons, and three grandchildren.

LOUIS R. GOLDEN

Louis R. Golden, 66, of 709 Centre street, Newton, died at his home Feb. 19. A well-known businessman and leader in charitable affairs, he was associated with Kennedy's for 35 years and was treasurer of the Dayton Youth Wear Co. of Ohio and several other apparel concerns.

He had been president of the Jewish Community Center in Brighton since 1955, and was a vice-president and trustee of the Combined Jewish Appeal. He was general chairman in

W. N. Religious Men's Club To Hear President Of Howard University Feb. 28

Dr. Mordecai Johnson, president of Howard University at Washington, D.C., will address the first dinner meeting of the newly organized West Newton Council of Religious Men's Clubs Thursday, Feb. 28, at 7 p.m. at Temple Shalom.

Dr. Johnson, internationally recognized as an educator and recipient of the international Springarn Medal for achievement in inter-racial and inter-faith relations, will speak on "Freedom of Education."

The Council was organized last Fall to further the practice of brotherhood on the community level. Cooperating in the Council are the men's groups of the First Unitarian Society in Newton, the Second Congregational Church and the host group for this first meeting, Temple Shalom.

Elliot E. Rosenberg, 59 Roundwood road, Newton Upper Falls, is chairman of the Council, assisted by the president of the three cooperating groups: Edwin W. Folsom of Newton Lower Falls of the Second Church Men's Club; Robert L. Townsend, West Newton, of the Unitarian men's group, and George J. Schwartz of the Temple Shalom Brotherhood.

Ministers of neighboring churches have been invited to the dinner. Those attending will be given an opportunity to inspect the new Temple building.

Committeemen for the dinner include: Program—Don Prescott, Gordon Garrow and Leonard Luchner; hospitality—Maynard Sears, John Pauler, Leon Rogers; publicity—David Cooper, Richard McKay and William Tisdell; reservations—L. Fabian Bachrach Jr., Lawrence Freeman, Lester Radlo; food—George Johnson, Alden Read and Milton Rosenthal.

1948 when the largest sum in its history was raised.

Golden also served as vice-president and trustee of the Beth Israel Hospital and the Temple Israel as well as of the Jewish Family and Children's Service.

A former president of the Boys' Apparel and Buyers' Association, Golden was a member of the Belmont Country Club and the Redwood Lodge of Masons in Providence.

He leaves his wife Carrie (Rosnoski) Golden, a son, Dr. Theodore Golden of Framingham, three grandchildren, and two brothers and a sister.

LILLIAN E. BRACELIN

A brief illness preceded the death on Friday of Miss Lillian E. Bracelin, 62, of 87 Elmhurst Rd., Newton Corner. A resident of this city for 15 years, she was employed as executive secretary at the Boston Technical High School.

Miss Bracelin was a graduate of Portia Law School and a member of the Massachusetts Bar. She leaves three sisters, Mary F. of the Newton address, Mrs. Alice Sweeney of Needham, and Mrs. Mabel Smith of New York city.

ARTHUR DRUMHELLER

An invalid for the past 15 years, Arthur Drumheller of 876 Beacon St., Newton Centre, died on Feb. 15 in his 69th year. He was the husband of Margaret L. Drumheller, operator of the Peter Bent Hotel in Boston.

Prior to his illness, he was employed by the Bradley Car Co. of Worcester, where he held a life membership in a Masonic Lodge. Besides his wife, he leaves a daughter Fern (Mrs. Edwin Nye) and two grandchildren of Pennsylvania.

HARNAOUSH ASHJIAN

Funeral services were held on Saturday for Mrs. Harnaoush Ashjian, 85, who died suddenly at her home, 42 Eldredge St., Newton Centre, on Feb. 14.

A native of Armenia, she came to this country with her husband, the late Sahag Ashjian, in 1913. She was a member of the Armenian Woman's Church Association.

Three sons and a daughter survive her. They are Mrs. Anahis Boyajian and Samuel Ashjian of 42 Eldredge St., Martin of Washington, D.C. and Edward of Somerville.

THE EIGHTH GRADE CINERAMA TRIP

By Carol Levi

Last Monday the entire eighth grade went to see the latest Cinerama film, The Seven Wonders of the World.

The movie itself was very educational, showing many spectacular things that we had read and heard about, but never expected to see. Through the wonderful process of Cinerama "we were there", and enjoyed every minute of our trip.

We wish to thank all those who made the trip possible, and we sincerely hope we can have many more equally good ones.

ELECTION WEEK

By Susan Hern

The Bigelow "class of '57" had its second class meeting on Monday. The first and only business on the agenda was speeches by candidates for the various offices. Mr. Ring, an algebra teacher and our faculty advisor, introduced each speaker.

Speeches for the office of president were given by Alan Copeland, Harvey Creem, Maybeth Rosenberg, and Malcolm Schlieder. Two of these people would be elected. The one receiving the highest number of votes would be president and the one with closest number of votes to the highest would be vice president.

Renee Breznjak, Susan Goldsmith, Susan Hern, Barbara Hunter, Betsy Melrick, Barbara Olans, Peggy Rosenbaum, and Leslie Wolbarst campaigned for the office of secretary.

Speeches by those seeking the position of treasurer were given by Doris Axelrod, Edward Goldstein, Jeffrey Kobrick, Sue Quinn, and Pamela Wilson.

ELECTION DAY

On Tuesday, January 22, the "class of '57" was enveloped in excitement. This was election day. When the voting closed at 2:30, a total of 160 people had voted.

THE WINNERS

Wednesday, Jan. 23, was an important day for all of us at Bigelow. The newly elected ninth grade class officers were announced. They are as follows: President, Alan Copeland; Vice President, Alan Copeland; Secretary, Betsy Melrick; and Treasurer, Sue Quinn. Congratulations to these people. I am sure that they will make the "class of '57" the best to graduate from Bigelow.

NEW TEACHERS AT BIGELOW

By Margie Rosengard

A newcomer to the Bigelow staff is an eighth grade English and Social Studies teacher, Howard B. Maxwell. Mr. Maxwell attended Gettysburg College in Pennsylvania. He was a student teacher at Gettysburg High School and after this achieved his Master's Degree at Harvard College. He also served in the Navy during the Korean War. Mr. Maxwell replaces Mr. Hopkins in room 217.

The other new teacher is Miss Nancy B. Leverich who has replaced Miss Bailey in room 205. She is a seventh grade teacher, teaching English and Social Studies. She is a graduate of Smith College and obtained her Master's Degree at Harvard. Miss Leverich was a student teacher at Brimmer May School in Chestnut Hill. Although her schooling and teaching has centered around

New England she is originally from Washington, D.C. We welcome these teachers cordially and wish them both a long and happy stay at Bigelow.

THE RED CROSS GIFT BOX DRIVE—1957

By Pam Wilson

The annual Red Cross Gift Box Drive was held at Bigelow during the past two weeks. The gift boxes are filled with such articles as: soap, writing pads, pencils, toothbrush, toothpaste, and other small toys and useful objects. They are taken to the Chapter House where they distribute them to different parts of the world to unfortunate children.

At Bigelow we collected over one hundred gift boxes, a lower number than in past years. The homeroom that filled the most boxes and will receive the Red Cross Banner is room 11-14. We are very proud of this division. I know that all the students had a great satisfaction in filling the boxes and are glad to be able to help other children their own age.

TRIP TO THE SCIENCE MUSEUM

The students of the eighth grade on January 31st, went to the Science Museum with the idea of observing something that would be good and interesting to do for our Science Fair, coming up in March.

When we arrived we were eager to venture around the building and see the model appendix operation, the interesting telephones, the electrical demonstrations, the stuffed animals, and the no-where-near-dead fish and snakes, and last but not least "Spooky", the owl and "Porky", the porcupine.

We then proceeded into the auditorium where we were shown a forty-five minute exhibit on gas, air, and electricity which proved to be considerably interesting.

Newtonite Heads B. U. News Bureau

Emanuel Goldberg of Newton, State Commissioner against Discrimination and former press secretary to ex-Gov. Christian A. Herter, has been named director of a newly created News Bureau at Boston University.

The News Bureau will absorb the functions of the Bureau of Publicity, and be the official center of all public information concerning Boston University.

Goldberg, who lives at 85 Hyde avenue with his wife and baby daughter, is a cum laude journalism graduate of Boston University. He has corresponded for Newsweek Magazine; editorial writer and political columnist for the Lynn Item; World War II overseas correspondent for the Boston Globe; reporter for the Associated Press; editorial writer and book reviewer for the Boston Herald, and has held other professional posts.

NEWTON—Local boards sent forward three men from this city for induction into the service on Feb. 18. They are: Stanley W. Wilk, 18 River Ave., Upper Falls, James R. Lord, Jr., 114 East Side Parkway, Newton, and Bernard D. Kearney, 11 Francis St., Newton Highlands.

Aid Girl Scouts To Gain Health Aid Badges

Two Newton Red Feather agencies served each other this month as a group of Newton Centre Girl Scouts, Troop 39 of the sixth grade of the Mason School enlisted the services of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association in working out some of the problems of the Health Aid Badge.

Miss Mary Steinkrauss, Nursing Supervisor of the Visiting Nurse Association covered some of the fine points of first aid and health education in a series of two hour Friday afternoon "action" classes at the Association headquarters, 1900 Washington St., Newton Lower Falls. Miss Steinkrauss and the Girl Scouts practiced how to give first aid for fainting, small cuts, blisters, bruises, scratches and splinters and uses of a triangular bandage. The Girl Scouts also discussed the seven basic food groups and how to plan well balanced meals for girls of their own age.

The Girl Scout troop plans to assist the Newton Visiting Nurse Association at a March troop meeting by folding paper towels and napkins which are part of the equipment for each Visiting Nurse's bag as she provides skilled part time nursing care through many homes in Newton.

Arrangements for the special meetings were made by Mrs. Ernest F. Dietz, leader of Troop 39 and Mrs. Burnett Pitt, assistant leader. Drivers for the troop included Mrs. C. R. Brower, Mrs. Thomas Brodlieb, Mrs. I. H. Rotman and Mrs. Lloyd Axelrod, all of Newton Centre.

Members of Troop 39 who made the trips to Visiting Nurse headquarters include the following Newton Centre girls: Rosalind Axelrod, Karen Brower, Joan Chasnoff, Elaine Cohen, Judy Dietz, Connie Finerty, Faye Kaplan, Charlotte King, Elizabeth Kopans, Leslie Glazier, Juanita Mandile, Monica Meyer, Patricia McCarthy, Mary Norton, Susan Jitt, Harise Rotman, Claire Rubin, Elizabeth Shwachman, Cynthia Strobel, Ellen Smith, Nancy Weiner and Debra Brodlieb.

Unitarian Leader To Speak At W. Newton Church

Dr. Charles R. Joy of Newton Highlands, former director of the Unitarian Service Committee and of CARE in Korea, will speak on Sunday evening at 7:30 at the Unitarian Church in West Newton.

A friend of Albert Schweitzer and author of several books on him, Dr. Joy has long been associated with international relief organizations. He has visited Schweitzer at his home in Alsace, and at his hospital in Africa.

The former executive vice-president of the American Unitarian Association, Dr. Joy will speak on "The Gardens and Temples of Japan." He makes his home at 10 Kingston Rd.

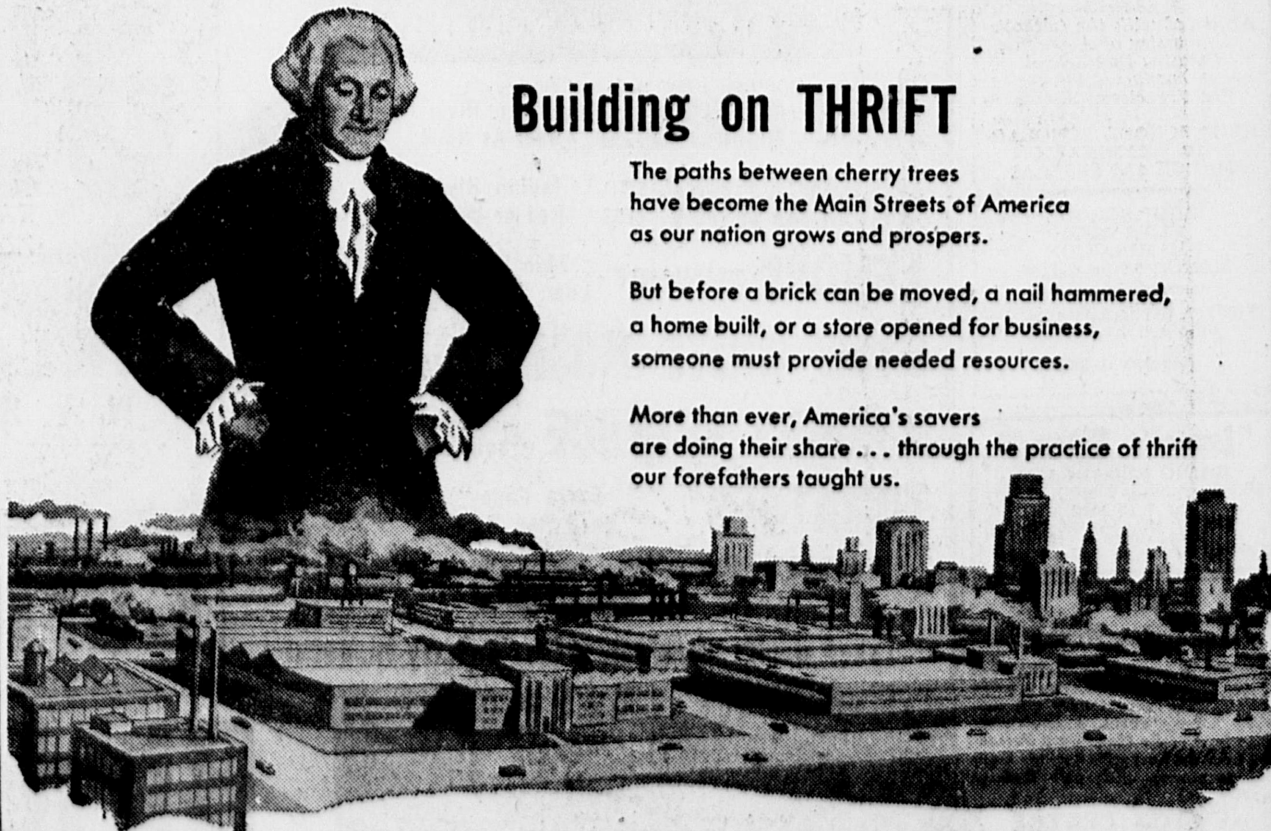

NEWTONVILLE—Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford, minister of the Methodist Church, will be guest speaker at Northeastern's weekly non-sectarian services Wednesday, Feb. 27, at 1 p. m., in their Bacon Memorial Chapel.

Building on THRIFT

The paths between cherry trees have become the Main Streets of America as our nation grows and prospers.

But before a brick can be moved, a nail hammered, a home built, or a store opened for business, someone must provide needed resources.

More than ever, America's savers are doing their share... through the practice of thrift our forefathers taught us.

Honor List At Newton Junior Coll. Announced

Isabel M. Ellis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence B. Ellis of Cambridge, again heads the Honors List at Newton Junior College, as announced this week by Director Walter M. Taylor. Miss Ellis, a Liberal Arts student, achieved High Honors with a 3.93 average, the only student in the college to achieve that rating. She is editor-in-chief of the College yearbook, Miss Ellis hopes to enter Radcliffe in September.

Lyle K. Joyce of Newton Centre was second on the List. He has completed degree requirements in the College and will receive the Associate in Science degree with Honors at June Commencement. Mr. Joyce majored in Chemistry and the sciences and hopes to find employment in which to utilize his training.

He was closely followed by James V. Sullivan of Auburndale, a Liberal Arts student, candidate for admission by transfer to Harvard. Mr. Sullivan heads the Cap-and-Gown committee, and was active in repainting the Student Lounge during the end-of-year holidays. John Landry, Business Administration student from Newton Centre heads the first-year students on the List and ranks fourth in the College. Mr. Landry worked for two years prior to returning to college.

These four, plus the following constitute the first twelve ranking students at Newton's publicly controlled Junior College now in its 11th year: J. W. Wilson of Waltham, Richard P. McConnell of Brookline, Robert A. Hunter of West Newton, Diane Joyce of Newtonville, Robert M. Flynn of Newtonville, Robert W. Quigley of Newtonville, Thomas F. Powers, Jr., of Newton and Carolyn F. Rowell of Rutland, Vermont. Mr. Flynn is chairman and Miss Joyce secretary of the Student Council. A total of 24, 20% of the students body made the Honor List.

Gibbs Fights Rent Grievance Board Bill

Despite opposition from Senator Donald L. Gibbs (R) of Newton and others, a bill that would permit communities to set up rent grievance boards to act as arbitrators between landlords and tenants was passed by the Senate Tuesday.

The bill, already approved by the House, was described by Gibbs as "meaningless" because the proposed boards would not have power. He said Newton's rent co-ordinator does what boards are intended to do.

"The matter can be handled on a local basis," said Gibbs, "and the bill is unnecessary." Joining Gibbs in the fight against the bill was Senator Philip G. Bowker (R) Brookline, but it was ordered to a third reading by a roll call vote of 25 to 14.

News of the Day

Basketball again makes headlines at Day Junior High School as the varsity team downed Meadowbrook Junior High by the score of 65-40 on Friday afternoon. The Junior Varsity bowed to Meadowbrook by the score of 37-31.

A talent show was presented in the Day Junior High on Friday. A varied display of fine entertainment was performed by members of three classes. Entertainers from grade 2 were Helen Lapido, Jackie Hall, Barbara Huston, Pamela Proctor, Ruth O'Brien, Martha Bilezikian and Albert Pompei. Albert stopped the show with his rendition of "Young Love."

Grade 8 had a fine representation with various acts by Marie Fay, Stephen Custer, Larry Gentile and Allen Downs. Performing for the first time for the student body were some valuable additions from the 7th grade. All acted like seasoned performers. They were Susan Taitlin, Roger Siciliano, Stanley Talabach, Bruce Fane and Gerry Wambolt. The Day Junior High School is again fortunate to have many additions to the faculty for the second half of the school year. These people are doing their student teaching as part of their college program. From Boston University comes Miss Joan Toll, Jerry Fitzgerald, Miss Cevina Targum and Paul Nathanson. Two other newcomers, David Hunt and Harold Berlak are graduate students at Harvard University. Helping out in music class is George Collins from the New England Conservatory of Music.

The 8th grade is planning a bowling party on Thursday afternoon, February 28th.

LOWER FALLS—Ten high schoolers spent this week in New York with Rev. and Mrs. William G. Berndt of St. Mary's Church. Their tour of the city included a visit to the U. N. to St. John's Cathedral, the Radio City Music Hall and the Statue of Liberty. The young people, all members of the church fellowship are Joanne Barton, Barbara Berndt, David Dennen, Jape Dozoi, John Madden, Jane Martin, Gretchen Moore, Dick Power, Jill Schofield, and Judy Vermer. Also accompanying them was Mrs. Robert A. Moore, a teacher at the Angier School.

Local Anthropologist Plans Study of Africa

A Newton anthropologist will leave for Africa in July for 14 months of research as part of a world-wide study of "cultural regularities" sponsored by the Ford Foundation.

Robert A. Manners, 25 Ashville Rd., Newton Lower Falls, has been chosen to participate in the research program by Prof. Julian Steward of the University of Illinois, who will administer the detailed anthropological investigation. A quarter of a million dollars has been granted by the Ford Foundation for the project.

Prof. Manners, who is chairman of the department of anthropology and sociology at Brandeis University, will take his wife, Jean, and two children, Karen, 12, and John, 11, on the expedition. They will sail July 17 on the Ile de France and spend a month in England before leaving for East Africa.

The purpose of the studies is to discover whether or not there are any basic cultural similarities in societies as they pass from simple state and develop into industrialized "cash economies." Manners will carry on his field study mostly in Tanganyika. Similar studies will be conducted in Peru, Mexico, West Africa, Burma, Japan and Sumatra.

A native of New York, Prof. Manners has AB, MA and PhD degrees from Columbia. He went to Puerto Rico in 1948 on an anthropological study at the request of the Puerto Rican government. A book was published on the findings of the group.

He spent the summers of 1952 and '53 in Arizona studying the American Indians, and during 1955 and '56 he made research trips to the Caribbean to teach students anthropological techniques.

Cub Pack 43

The annual Blue and Gold Banquet of Pack 43 (Hyde School) was held on Friday, Feb. 15, at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church. The Rev. Dr. Frederic Groetsma pronounced the benediction. Among guests at the head table were Mr. Alexander, Clarence Churchill, Mr. and Mrs. Ward of the Hyde School P.T.A., Mr. P. Best, Mr. H. Darwin, Mr. F. Gowan, Mr. H. M. Thurston, and the Cubmaster, Mr. Hollis Hunt.

Mr. Alexander, the neighborhood commissioner, presented the pack charter to Mr. Henry Sollogub, chairman of the pack committee, and Mrs. R. C. Kerr was named "Den Mother of the Year" and presented with a corsage. Entertainment was then provided the cub scouts.

Those present included: Den Mothers: Mrs. H. Sollogub, Mrs. H. M. Thurston, Mrs. Hollis Hunt, Mrs. R. C. Kerr, Mrs. Winthrop Fletcher, Mrs. S. M. Kozol, Mrs. Peter Best, Mrs. J. D. Wynne, Mrs. Stuart E. Hills and Mrs. G. A. Foley. Den Chiefs: Bob Traynor, Kim Walen, Billy Morgan, Phillip Gowen and Robert Sostilio. MISS FAY COHEN IS BRIDE OF MR. NORMAN R. PROLMAN

Lewiston, Maine, will be the new address of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Robert Prolman, whose marriage took place February 10 at Temple Emanuel in Newton Centre. The bride is the former Miss Fay Brenda Cohen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Cohen of Newton Centre. Rev. Gabriel Hochberg officiated at the six o'clock ceremony and a reception followed in the community hall of the Temple.

For her marriage the bride wore a princess line silk peau de soire gown with front panel and scooped neckline of Alencon lace embellished with seed pearls and sequins. The full skirt terminated in a cathedral length train and matching lace was used for her headpiece with attached illusion veil. Miss Marlene Cohen of Newton Centre was maid of honor and Miss Arlene Prolman of Lewiston, Maine, served as bridesmaid.

The best man was Earl Prolman of Lewiston, Maine. Ushers included Saul Cohen of Newton Centre, Stephen Mandel of Chestnut Hill, Louis J. McMurrer, Jr., of Auburndale, David Prolman of Lewiston, Allen Miller of Brookline, Stephen Nyviasek and Michael Posner, both from Maine, and Bernard Tack of Canton.

Mrs. Prolman attended Endicott Junior College and Tufts University. Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Prolman of Lewiston, Maine, is an alumnus of the University of Maine and Clark University.

AT VALENTINE "THANK YOU" TEA—Honored at a "thank you" tea held at the Unitarian Church in West Newton were 93 volunteers who worked for the Christmas Seal campaign in Newton this year. Among the guests were, left to right: Mrs. Robert Kimball, general chairman; Mrs. Norman Kempf, Mrs. Alvin Morse and Mrs. James Simms, all of Auburndale; Mrs. Frank Hennigar and Mrs. Russell Kemp, Newton. Seated is Mrs. Harold Carter of West Newton.

Auburndale Woman's Club

At guest night of the Auburndale Woman's Club, Wednesday, Feb. 13, Dr. N. D. Hoyt, a member of the Cruising Club of America, The Royal Swedish Sailing Society and at present chairman of the English Department at St. George's School in Newport, R.I., showed beautiful colored slides of racing on the high seas on a luxury yawl. His talk was amusing and informative. Dr. Hoyt's lecture was on the trip made in 1956 when he sailed on Kay, a 50' Sparkman and Stevens yawl owned by Sven Frisell of Göteborg, Sweden and London, England, to Bermuda and thence to Sweden. He also showed slides of his trip across this country in his Volkswagen with his family and a sailboat.

Day chairman and president, Mrs. J. Howard Littleton, conducted a short meeting and introduced the speaker; hostess, Mrs. D. William Lovell, assisted by Executive Board (Group 6). Mrs. George S. Wattendorf, chairman of Community Service and Civil Defense read the nominating committee's list of officers: Mrs. D. William Lovell, president; Mrs. Edwin C. Harkins, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Orazio E. Vaccaro, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. John B. G. Palen, recording secretary; Mrs. Edward C. Maloof, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Byron H. Pearce, treasurer; Mrs. J. Howard Littleton and Miss Lucy A. Turner, directors; to be voted on at the annual meeting to be held in April.

Social News

N'ville Woman's Club Redecorating Social Rooms At Newton Jr. College

Mrs. Clifford O. Mooney, education chairman of the Newtonville Woman's Club, has formed a committee to assist her in decorating and furnishing the social rooms at the Newton Junior College, located at Washington Park and Walnut street in Newtonville. Mrs. Mooney invited Director Walter Taylor and members of his faculty, to speak at the Education Day Program of the Newtonville Woman's Club. Mrs. Genevieve Oncley, member of the Newton School Board, also addressed the group as did a student and an alumnus of the school. Through them it was learned of the need to furnish and decorate the social rooms, music room and conference room of the college, so that they may function without embarrassment.

Mrs. Mooney was very gratified in obtaining Mrs. Walter N. Keene, Mrs. Frederick K. Hussey, Mrs. A. Gordon Wein, Miss Helen Cotton, Miss Margarita Ellis, Mrs. John F. Gilbert, Mrs. Harry W. Abells and Mrs. James S. Mansfield as a volunteer committee to work on this project.

This committee will meet with Miss Alice Kennedy, Dean of Women of the College this morning, February 21, at 10 o'clock at the Newton Junior College. They will inspect the rooms and select a particular project to be undertaken by the Newtonville Woman's Club.

PTA Visits

Newton Campers At Peterboro, N. H.

Members from the Mason-Rice PTA board accompanied Miss Ruth Dority, principal, on a trip to Peterboro, N.H. February 13, to visit with sixth-grade boys and girls from the Mason School who were there for a week of winter camping.

Staff members, on duty for the week, and the seventy-five youngsters entertained the visitors at beautiful Sergeant's camp with a barbecued chicken dinner, which they prepared out-of-doors. The group was given a tour of the camp and grounds and Lieut. Lawrence Clark of the Newton Fire Department, on a special trip from Newton, directed the campers fire control program.

After weeks of planning and guidance in the Mason School to prepare these children to live as responsible and independent citizens in a model camp environment, it was clear that they had learned their lessons well.

Members of the PTA group from the school who made the trip included Mrs. Walter P. Muther, Mrs. Howard Shuman, Mrs. E. P. Levine, Mrs. Victor Baer and Mrs. Elliot Stone.

Newton Junior College Alumni

The monthly meeting of the Newton Junior College Alumni Association was held February 12 in the Junior College. President William Fleming, '51, reported that the sales of the name labels were booming and the dance is drawing great interest among the alumni. The election returns are rolling in and ballots should go to the Alumni Association before March 1.

The date of the Alumni-Student "Conversation" has been set for Wednesday, April 10. It will introduce the students to the Alumni Association.

The next meeting of the Alumni Association will be on Tuesday, March 12, 8 p.m., at the Junior College.

Color, Beauty, Power Sparkling Features of 1957 Models

Plymouth Has Change In Styling, Body, Chassis

Clauson's, of Wellesley, at 26 Washington St., Lower Falls, will display the new Plymouth at the Washington's Birthday "Open House."

Lower, wider and more powerful, the new 1957 Plymouth represents a complete change in styling, body structure and chassis.

1957 Plymouth models are as much as five inches lower than corresponding 1956 models. The wheelbase has been lengthened from 115 inches for all models in 1956 to 118 inches for standard models and 122 inches for Suburban station wagons in the 1957 line.

The new car has the appearance of greater length which comes from functional styling. A broad hood, soaring tail fins and forward thrusting headlight bowl all contribute to the impression of length.

In chassis design, Plymouth has accomplished its most significant change since the introduction of independent front wheel suspensions with coil springs in 1934. The feature is called Torsion-Air.

In the overall re-design of the front suspension, coil springs have disappeared. They are replaced by torsion bar springs which together with other equally basic improvements in front and rear, produce a new kind of ride and "handling."

The completely new front suspension and steering system creates a remarkable degree of stability under forces of acceleration, braking and cornering.

At the same time, according to Plymouth engineers, the vehicle is more softly sprung than ever before. For the first time on an American passenger car, ball joints are combined with torsion bar springs to create the unique combination of ride and handling characteristics. A new rear suspension incorporates relocated leaf springs, which contribute to the new better ride.

All of the 1957 Plymouths have more powerful engines than 1956 models. The standard V-8 for all models except the Plaza is the new Fury 301, the number signifying displacement. The Plaza V-8 retains a displacement of 277 cubic inches but, like the Fury 301, has a new camshaft, new carburetion, and other innovations to achieve increased performance and economy.

The compression ratio of the Fury 301 is 8.5 to 1. Plaza V-8 compression remains at 8 to 1. The compression ratio of the PowerFlow Six is increased from 7.6 to 1 in 1956 to 8 to 1 in 1957.

Other innovations in the 1957 line include: new 14-inch wheels and low pressure, large section tires; new 11-inch brakes, of Chrysler Corporation's Total-Contact design; a new integral all-weather airconditioning

Pontiac Offers Lower Styling In 3 Series

That the 1957 Pontiac is completely new from power to personality will be revealed at the Washington's Birthday weekend "Open House" to be gayly observed at Frank Battles, 208 Washington St., Newton Center, and Hugo Pontiac, Inc., 714 Beacon St., Newton Centre, where the welcome mat will be rolled out and special features arranged to make all visitors happy.

Pontiac introduces its 1957 models with three series, featuring exciting Star Flight body styling with "starlite" or "accent" two-toning, luxurious interiors and spectacular performance, the new models will be on display at Pontiac dealerships over the Washington's Birthday weekend.

The 1957 Pontiacs are the most exciting new cars ever offered, from the massive gleaming front to the smart, streamlined fins of the rear fenders, the 1957 Pontiacs are a triumph of modern design and safety engineering. The body design is new. The overall length has been increased 12 inches; however, the lower silhouette and the dramatic styling creates a much longer and sleeker appearance.

The wide, low front end of the 1957 Pontiac is highlighted and protected by heavy wrap-around bumpers with integrated bomb-type bumper guards. Large oval parking lamps are set into the lower part of the bumpers. A semi-circular chrome grille and a full width air scoop direct air flow to the car radiator.

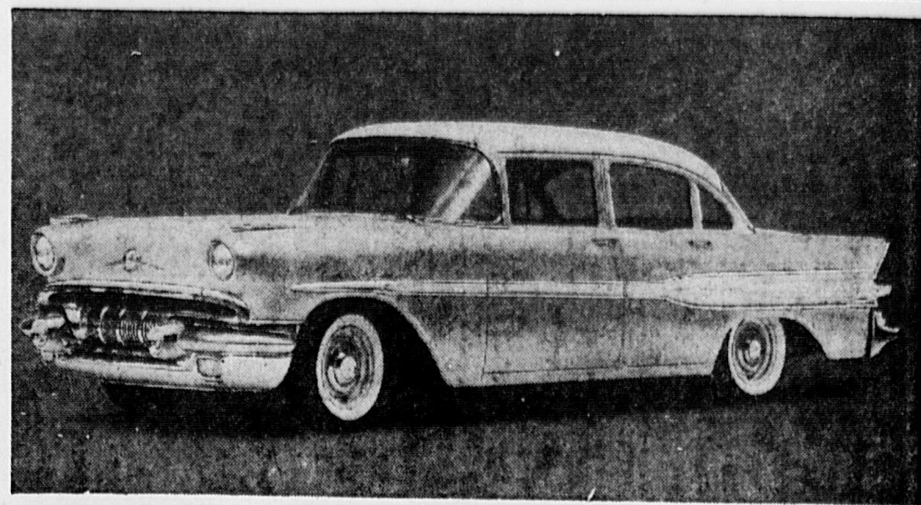

Hooded head lamps surmounting by sleek front-fender ornaments are prominent in the front-end styling. Greater vision is achieved by lowering the hood 1.6 inches and increasing the windshield area 75.4 square inches in the Catalinas, convertibles and custom station wagons and by 69 square inches in sedans and other station wagons.

The flair of the rear fender fin houses an integrated tail and back-up lamp and a safety reflector. The rear projection of the oval tail lamp is protected by a projection in the rear bumper which also serves as an exhaust port on cars equipped with dual exhausts.

A missile outline trim of stainless steel sweeps the entire length of the car on each side. The Star Flight styling of the 1957 Pontiac is further accentuated by a windsplit molding in the rear fender. On the Star Chief models this torpedo-shaped windsplit is sheathed in stainless steel. The same material, lustrous to a satin finish, is used on the vane wheel discs. A full range of exciting modern colors is available on the 16 body styles.

The eye catching appeal of the 1957 Pontiac is not limited to exterior styling for the new cars offer the most luxurious color-keyed interiors in Pontiac history. Star Chief series models are upholstered in the finest hand-buffed leather in "dream car" colors of Silver

SPARKLING NEW 1957 PONTIAC

Beige, Kenya Ivory, Cordova Red, Limefire Green, Seacrest Green and Fontaine Blue. These top grain leathers can also be had in combination with "en-core" patterned nylon fabrics.

Super Chief series models feature upholstery of colorful combination in "horizons" patterned nylon faced fabric and grained vinyl coated fabrics. Rich piled carpeting is standard equipment for the Star Chief and Super Chief series, except in convertibles and station wagons. The economy priced Chief-tain series models offer a new height of luxury with interiors of "contemporary tweed" patterns of nylon faced cloth and vinyl. Sixty-six interior trim combinations are offered in the 1957 line.

Pontiac's completely new instrument panel for 1957 offers the ultimate in safety, convenience, and modern styling. The lower section of the panel on Star Chief models features full width chromed trim panels. The glove compartment door and dual ash trays are housed in the lower panel. The instrument cluster, with two circular dials and a luminescent "Safety Line" speedometer, are positioned at an easily readable level. New fingertip heater and defroster controls, radio controls and clock are located near the center of the instrument panel. The radio speaker is positioned below the center of the instrument panel for better sound reproduction and distribution. Another influence of "dream car" styling in the 1957 Pontiacs is the deep swallow-tail steering wheel, which adds the final touch of modern, safety design to the passenger compartment.

Dodge Dealer Named in Newton

C. J. Lupo and his partner, Thomas Gallinelli, former Chevrolet dealers for 28 years, have been appointed Dodge and truck dealer at Silver Lake Motors, Watertown St., Newton. They invite you to visit their showroom and service facilities where a full line of 1957 models are on display. Factory-trained mechanics are ready to serve the motoring public of Newton with authorized factory parts. Ample parking facilities are available.

Lupo said all cars are in an up-to-date building where they are carefully inspected and serviced before being sold.

Suggest Rezoning Auburndale Area

At a Chamber of Commerce meeting on Tuesday night, the executive board recommended to the directors that a study be made of the possibility of rezoning the part of western Auburndale near the junction of Rte. 128 and the East-West Toll Road for commercial use.

President Dwight Colburn also recommended that members be furnished with a list of Chamber members subject to certain restrictions to be imposed by the directors.

The directors of the Chamber voted to support Rep. Arthur Heaney's bill which aims to preserve home rule in the case of the possible MTA extension through Newton.

John Canavan, of the Boston Credit Bureau was the speaker at the Pillar House dinner meeting. He outlined the activities of his group and stressed the mutual benefit to participating stores and members of the Chamber.

1957 Dodge Lancer Hardtop Five Inches Lower

Sleek 1957 Dodge Has Low Sports Car Sweep

Silver Lake Motors, 444 Watertown St., Newton, and Clauson's, of Wellesley, 26 Washington St., Lower Falls, will welcome all visitors to the annual Washington's Birthday gala "Open House" where the center of attraction will be the swept-wing models of the 1957 line of Dodge cars.

Family automobiles with a definite sports car "look" make up the 19 "swept-wing" models in the Dodge line for 1957.

With a low center of gravity on a broad base, the new Dodge also has the ground-hugging qualities of a sports car and the ability to take turns without body sway.

But, when it comes to other riding qualities, the comparison with sports cars comes to an end. The 1957 Dodge has "entirely new riding characteristics, virtually free of vibration, noise and road shock."

All models in the 1957 Dodge line — Coronet, Royal, Custom Royal and Station Wagons — accent lowness and all carry as their predominant styling theme a dramatically high swept-wing rear-fender treatment that is the keynote of Dodge design.

These fender fins serve the definite functional purpose of stabilizing the car in strong crosswinds.

Overall car height has been reduced by Dodge as much as five inches without sacrificing interior room or road clearances. Lancer hardtop models stand 54½ inches high, permitting two average-size men to shake hands across the roof.

The old vertical coil front springs are gone from the 1957 Dodge, which presents the new Torsion-Air suspension system.

Horizontal steel torsion bars have replaced the upright coil type springs, and the new springing is achieved by slightly twisting these sturdy straight bars. The torsion bars give a smoother softer ride, last longer, require less maintenance and occupy less space — a major factor in lowering the car's overall height.

Rear leaf springs are mounted outside the frame rather than inside, substantially increasing the car's stability and reducing sway on turns.

Suspension and steering systems of the new Dodge, as well as the engine, are completely isolated from the frame with rubber insulation to eliminate metal-to-metal contact for smoother, quieter performance.

Dodge's new Torque-Flite push-button transmission gives livelier response in both acceleration and engine braking, and the smoothest kind of get-away performance.

Roof lines are thinner, but the roofs are stronger, yielding substantial improvement in driver visibility through use of 45 per cent more windshield glass.

The larger windshields wrap around at the bottom as well as the top, and on 1957 Dodge convertibles they also curve into the roof itself.

To further increase driver and passenger visibility, windshield wiper blades are four inches longer, clearing 38 per cent more area. The variable-speed wipers are electrically operated to guarantee constant action.

Modern Design, Artistic Craftsmanship Features for 1957

NEW FROM BUMPER TO BUMPER—Oldsmobile's 1957 Super '88' four-door sedan presents an all-new body with numerous styling innovations, including a completely redesigned front end. Livelier-than-ever performance is also achieved through the new 277-hp "Rocket" engine. Your Oldsmobile dealer will be delighted to show you this and the other Olds models at the Washington's Birthday "Open House."

Oldsmobile's Advanced Styling Is '57 Feature

Frost Motors, Inc., 399 Washington St., Newton Center, and Washington St., Newtonville, will be the mecca for motorists from this area when the Oldsmobile line for 1957 goes on display during the annual "Open House" to be held this year throughout the Washington's Birthday holiday and weekend.

The Oldsmobile for 1957 on display offers more distinctive styling innovations and mechanical improvements than have been introduced in any of the past 20 years of Oldsmobile history. There are 17 body styles in Oldsmobile's three series — Golden Rocket "88", Super "88" and Starfire "98".

Outstanding in Oldsmobile's exterior styling is the exclusive accent stripe that runs more than half the length of the car's side panel between narrow chrome moldings. This permits a new two-tone effect with the car painted one color and the accent stripe in a contrasting color. The body is re-styled with a fashion-new exterior appearance plus deeper bumpers and a redesigned grille.

Interior styling is highlighted by a unique strut-mounted instrument panel — the only one of its kind in the industry — that accents the glamorous "Tech-Style" interiors of new upholstery and trim fabrics. The strut is constructed of wide, heavy gauge steel set back several inches from the cowl panel. All operating controls are located within easy reach and are recessed for maximum safety.

Oldsmobile for 1957 is offering a selection of paint and trims covering 22 different colors, of which 13 are brand new, 46 recommended two-tone combinations and 53 upholstery choices. The new hues added to complete Oldsmobile's six-color "custom salon" selection of high luster paints include platinum mist, jade mist, sapphire mist and Victorian white. These are acrylic base lacquers and are available only in combination with each other.

Also included in the new "Tech-Style" interior decor is a three-dimensional fabric — Air-weave Trilok — that has the advantage of not collapsing or flattening under long periods of compression, and providing more seating comfort for the passengers.

Numerous mechanical improvements have been incorporated in the 1957 Oldsmobile, which include a new T-400 "Rocket" engine developing 277-h.p., new front suspension to enhance roadability, smaller 14-inch wheels plus a heavier and wider frame to provide greater stability.

The "Rocket" engine displacement has been increased from 324 to 371 cubic inches. A four-barrel quad-jet carburetor is now standard on the "Rocket" engine in all three Oldsmobile series. Maximum torque is advanced from 340 to 400 ft.-lb. at 2,800 r.p.m. Compression ratio has been raised to 9.5 to 1.

There also is a new and more efficient dual-range heater, an easily serviced printed electric circuit for the instrument cluster and a better fine-fidelity radio, with bi-phonic rear seat speaker, as optional equipment. Jetaway Hydra-Matic Drive, power steering and power brakes are standard in the Starfire "98" series and optional at extra cost in the other two series.

Low Chrysler Is New From Tire Treads Up

G. & H. Motors, 667 Washington St., Newtonville, will be arrayed in the holiday spirit and will be prepared to display and demonstrate the sleek, gleaming new 1957 Plymouth and Chrysler models as Dedham joins the nation in the march to another gala Washington's Birthday Automobile Show. George M. DeVoe points out the following great features of his new cars:

The 1957 Chrysler, featuring road-hugging design with floors and seats dropped allowing roofs to be lowered as much as five inches, will be displayed on Washington's Birthday.

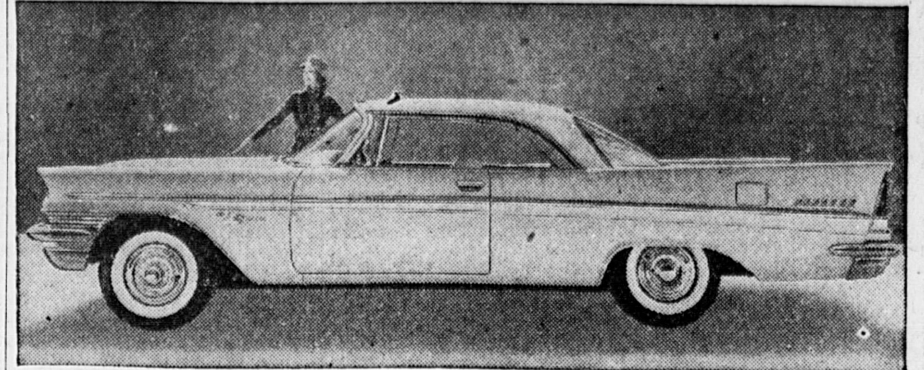

Combining such innovations as twin headlights, three-speed pushbutton TorqueFlite transmission and a revolutionary new Torsion-Aire suspension, the '57 Chryslers are offered in the New Yorker and Windsor series, plus an all-new Saratoga series in the middle-price range.

The 1957 Chryslers are new from tire treads up. They bring to the motoring public smoother-riding 14-inch wheels, recessed lift-and-pull safety door openers, a combination heater-air conditioner, and up to 40 percent larger windshields.

Three new V-8 engines — a 325-horsepower FirePower V-8 in the New Yorker series, a 295-horsepower Spitfire V-8 in the Saratoga series and a 285-horsepower improved Spitfire V-8 in the Windsor series — offer higher performance and increased economy.

For 1957 Chrysler also introduces improved full-time coaxial power steering, lower-pressure tires, deep-section safety wheel, aluminum-framed window openings on sedans, and improved total contact center-plane brakes, which, Chrysler engineering tests show, have the longest life of any brake yet developed.

The revolutionary Torsion-Aire suspension system is smoother-riding, quieter, and gives greater body stability at higher speeds. Torsion bars, Chrysler New Yorker. It is offered in a four-door sedan, a two-door hardtop and a four-door hardtop.

The Chrysler Windsor, lowest priced Chrysler, is offered in a four-door sedan, two-door hardtop, four-door hardtop and four-door Town and Country station wagon.

The Chrysler New Yorker is offered in a four-door sedan, two-door hardtop, four-door hardtop, convertible coupe and Town and Country station wagon. Wheelbase measurements of all models is 126 inches. They are available in a choice of 21 contemporary colors and 121 color combinations. Longer, higher flight-sweep fender fins flow forward to suggest a poised dart ready for flight and emphasize the low, sculptured steel motif.

Mercury Line Displays New Motoring Concept

Esquire Motors, Inc., 32 Arsenal St., Watertown Square, will have their entire staff ready to greet visitors during the annual, colorful Washington's Birthday weekend Auto Show and Open House at their busy dealership. The new Mercury line will be proudly displayed and the many exceptional features of the big M unveiled.

Entirely different in appearance and styling theme from anything else on the road today, the big 1957 Mercury was designed and engineered to become Mercury's challenge in the medium price field, according to general manager of the division and a vice president of the Ford Motor Company.

Mercury's dream car design is distinguished by an unusually low silhouette, with long flowing lines highlighted by graceful sculptured side projectiles topping low rear fenders and ending in massive V-angle tail-lights.

To provide unequalled driving ease, comfort, safety and performance, Mercury undertook one of the most extensive changes in the history of the auto industry. Its completely new and larger body is five inches longer than the previous model, three inches wider and four inches lower. Interiors are roomier, with two inches more head room and more hip and leg room. Wheelbase is 122 inches, an increase of three inches.

A unique new floating ride pioneers air cushion rear suspension on many models. Full, responsive power for all road and driving conditions is offered, with a choice of 255 hp Safety-Surge V-8 engine or Turnpike Cruiser 290 hp V-8.

Mercury offers a total of 15 models in three series. The Monterey and Montclair series, each consist of a four-door sedan, Phaeton coupe, (2-door hardtop), Phaeton sedan, (4-door hard top), and a two-door convertible. The lower priced Monterey series also includes a two-door sedan. A separate station wagon series consists of six models.

"Passenger car" styling and riding comfort is provided in Mercury's new separate station wagon series. The Mercury wagons have air cushion rear suspension; are 10 inches longer, lower, wider and more spacious. They may be hard-top styling with only one canted roof support instead of three pillars. The rear window rolls down into the tailgate to improve ventilation and eliminate the cumbersome lift-gate.

Safety features for the 1957 Mercury include a special safety jacket which protects children with a scientifically designed jacket with built-in harness attaching to seat belts. A new front seat track stop which keeps the seat from leaving its tracks, impact-absorbing steering wheel, new safety door locks and padded instrument panel and sun visors are other safety items for protection of driver and passengers.

Body features include new high-level, controlled cowl ventilation with fresh air taken into passenger compartment away from the exhaust air level. New, high density, fibre-glass roof insulation absorbs all types of noises and protects from heat and cold and combines with increased body insulation which prevents road noises from entering the car.

Nash Unveils Features For Style And Economy

Wentworth Jennings, 1180 Washington St., West Newton, and Gene Brown Motors, 724 Beacon St., Newton Center, have prepared a colorful showing of the new 1957 Nash models for the annual Washington's Birthday, Auto Show.

The 1957 Nash Ambassador, which sweeps into the future with a revolutionary four-headlight system to highlight its new features, will be displayed in Nash dealerships here and across the country on Washington's Birthday.

Lower than the 1956 model by two inches, the 1957 Nash Ambassador also is featured by a new V-8 engine developing 255 horsepower, "Lightning Streak" styling, increased maneuverability, and more luxurious interiors.

The new headlight system, with two lamps mounted vertically in each fender, is the greatest advance in automobile lighting since the advent of sealed-beam units. It also gives the car an attractive new styling area.

The new four-headlight system on the 1957 Nash is the culmination of many years of study and work on the problem of automobile lighting by the auto industry and state motor vehicle officials.

The new lamps, mounted vertically in the fenders, measure 5 1/4 inches in diameter, compared with seven inches for conventional lights.

The 1957 styling changes begin at the front with the chrome-encased headlights set in the fenders. The massive new oval grille is of rectangular-mesh design. In the grille's center is a wide-spread golden "V" above which is the Nash emblem. The parking-turning lights are atop the front fenders. These lights are visible from the side of the car.

The roof has been lowered 1 1/4 inches this year and the new models have 13-inch wheels, instead of the customary 15-inch wheels. The tire size has been increased to 8:00 by 14, resulting in a net reduction in overall height of two inches. The car now is only five feet high.

On the sides, the front fenders have full cutouts, which reduces the turning diameter from 44 feet, 4 inches, to 42 feet. This change gives the new Nash maneuverability comparable to that of much smaller cars.

Steering also has been improved with a new 18 to 1 ratio gear box. The new ratio offers more responsive handling qualities. The steering gear box incorporates new bearings, thereby reducing steering effort.

All 1957 Nash models are powered by the new, larger AMC V-8 engine, rated at 255 horsepower. Nash Motors' top horsepower in 1956 was 220. This new engine has compactness and balance between performance and economy. Its modern design and overhead valve arrangement permit free-breathing and maximum efficiency, and gives fuel economy.

Hugo Pontiac Offers Warranty Of Three Years

Hugo Separini, president of Hugo Pontiac, 714 Beacon St., Newton Centre, recently announced a radical new plan for the sale of new Pontiacs.

Hugo Pontiac is now placing a three-year warranty on all 1957 Pontiacs sold at this long-established and highly-regarded Pontiac dealership.

Separini has effected many changes during the past year with an eye toward greater efficiency and customer convenience. He has appointed Walter O'Brien as general sales manager to supervise the operation of his new plans.

O'Brien is a veteran of many years standing in the automotive industry and has served as an executive in several leading dealerships. He has completely reorganized the service and sales departments and has supervised a general redecorating program.

Metropolitan '1500' Sales Still Climb

The American Motors Metropolitan "1500," the nation's second-largest selling imported car, is continuing to show sales gains, according to James W. Watson, Metropolitan sales manager.

"The Metropolitan continues to rise in popularity because of its low cost, excellent gasoline mileage, and its agility and maneuverability," Watson said.

The peppy Metropolitan, built in England to American Motors' specifications, has a 52-horsepower Austin A-50 engine. The four-cylinder car, which attains up to 40 miles per gallon of fuel, has a top speed of 78 miles an hour.

Although it is designed basically as a two-passenger automobile, the Metropolitan "1500" can seat three in the front and has a utility rear seat suitable for children. The rear area also serves as a bench for packages. Headroom and legroom dimensions of the Metropolitan compare favorably with those of cars in the medium-price field, Watson said.

CORRECTING A FALSE NOTION

IF YOU DON'T MIND, we'd like to correct the false notion that an automobile can be purchased for practically nothing—a tiny down payment and tiny installments. Obviously, convenient terms can be arranged; payments can be stretched out. But whatever the arrangement, somehow and some time the full purchase price must be paid, and in general, the longer it takes you, the more you must pay—that's the way interest works. If you can afford a reasonable monthly payment for an auto without depriving your family of necessities, we will be pleased to help you select either a new Chevrolet or one of our excellent thoroughly reconditioned used cars.

Harold J. Moye

Newton, Mass.

Started in the automobile business at the age of 21 with General Motors Acceptance Corporation, with which concern he spent nine years. Mr. Moye resigned to enter the automobile business as a Pontiac Dealer in New Jersey and moved to New England in 1939, having purchased the Granite Chevrolet Company in Quincy, Mass. Subsequently, he bought the Moye Chevrolet Co., in Newton, Mass., in 1940 and operated both agencies until recently, when he disposed of his interests in Quincy.

He is associated in business with his son, Mr. John H. Moye, who is vice-president and sales manager of the Moye Chevrolet Co., Inc., in Newton, Mass.

Newton Buick Co.

Their long years of experience, coupled with their friendliness and willingness to serve the customer up to the hilt, accounts for the extreme popularity of Leo Dwyer, president and Dick Dwyer, treasurer and general manager of Newton Buick Co. The senior Dwyers, Leo and Dick, assisted by the Junior Dwyers, Bob and Dick, Jr., cordially invite all Boston area motorists to visit their Buick showroom and well-stocked used car lot at 371 Washington St., Newton Corner, during Open House on Washington's Birthday.

Bill Larson

Newton, Mass.

Mr. W. H. Larsen, used car manager, for Frost Motors, 399-625 Washington St., Newton, predicts for 1957 a greater trend towards used car buying than ever before experienced. This increased sales interest, he says, is due to the vast selection of fine cars being offered in the used car market this season.

Whether the people are interested in purchasing a new car or one of his finer reconditioned used models, he assures them of the most attractive offers that can be found anywhere, based on a desire to keep old customers and invite new buyers, who are seeking good cars at prices that are maintained through economy and conservation in management.

"Buy your Buick where service is first"

371 Washington Street
Newton Corner Est. 1912

Long a landmark in Newton Corner, the Newton Buick Co. of 371 Washington St. this month celebrates its fortieth year in its present location with a Washington's Birthday Open House. Founded five years previously, it has been continuously owned and managed by T. Leo and his brother, Richard I. Dwyer. Through good times and bad, aggressive merchandising and a top ranking service department have earned them a large and faithful clientele. Concerning the 1957 Buick, Leo Dwyer, who heads up the service department, says that in all his years, he has never seen a finer nor more cleanly engineered car. Brother Dick Dwyer states that he is particularly impressed by styling that grows better as you live with it, and the complete avoidance of current fads in automobile styling. Brother Jim Dwyer avers that after many long years, the famous slogan: "When Better Automobiles Are Built, Buick Will Build Them" was never more true. Heading up the sales department is the second generation, Robert L. and Richard J. Dwyer, Jr. They are capably assisted by sales consultants Paul Goodwin, Ed Shaughnessy, Bill Norris and Amos Switzer. During the holiday open house you will be cordially welcomed and it is hoped that as many as possible take the opportunity to drive the fabulous new Buick.

College Notes

"Young in Heart," with the accent on a fairy tale theme, was the spirit of Winter Carousal at Wellesley College last weekend. Carousal, with its dances, music and theatre, house decorations and other campus excitement, traditionally comes during the first weekend of Wellesley's spring semester.

Miss Ruth Miriam Greenfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Greenfield, of 551 Parker street, Newton Centre, was chairman of decorations for the informal dance Friday night.

Miss Greenfield, who is a sophomore, also is active in Dance Club, for students interested in modern dance, and the Art Club. She is a graduate of Beaver Country Day School, Chestnut Hill.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS — John E. Abele of 31 Mountfort Rd., served as sophomore representative from his fraternity to Amherst College's annual Religious Embassy. The son of Mrs. Mannett L. Abele, he is a graduate of Newton High School and a member of Theta Xi at Amherst.

"Operation Deepfreeze"

Noted Arctic Explorer Will Give Lecture Here

Fathers from eighteen states have been invited to Newton College of the Sacred Heart this Saturday and Sunday to hear an illustrated talk by Arctic explorer Reverend Daniel J. Linehan, S.J., and to attend a play with their daughters.

They will arrive Saturday afternoon, Mar. 2, to register for the second annual Father-Daughter Weekend held by the Newton College Fathers' Club.

"Operation Deepfreeze I," Father Linehan's lecture, will be given Sunday morning after Mass and a Communion Breakfast. The eminent seismologist, who has had charge of the Western College Observatory since 1934, has been a member of several recent Antarctic expeditions. During World War II, he served as collaborating geophysicist with the United States Weather Bureau in Washington and with the Navy Department. He was also a U. S. Army seismologist from 1943 to 1945.

An explorer with the Seismology Society, the Geophysical Union, and the Arctic Institute, Father Linehan helps to solve such seismic problems as the location of submarine explosions, earthquake centers and water supplies and the design of dams and highways.

After a New England bean supper, Saturday evening, students will escort their fathers to the college Playhouse where the Dramatic Club will present Mary Chase's comedy-fantasy "Mrs. McThing," in which Helen Hayes scored a Broadway success some years ago.

President of the Fathers' Club is Stephen F. Bowen of Worcester. The Board of Directors includes Ernest F. Chute, Michael J. Dray, J. Francis Hurley, Joseph F. Leary and Daniel F. Neville of Milton; Joseph K. Collins, Dr. Eugene F. McDonough, J. Edward Mulvanity, Richard H. Nolan and Wilbur Whitty of West Roxbury; James V. Whalen of Chestnut Hill; and John Donnelly and John F. Scully both of Dedham.

Also on the Board are John Healey of Somerville, Paul J. Kingston of Dorchester, Joseph E. O'Donoghue of Arlington, Stanley L. McCarthy of Weston, Frederick A. McDermott of Needham and James H. Walsh Jr. of Brookline.

Lost — A Huge Wooden Sign

Rotary Club Is Given Some Historical Facts

Does anyone know the whereabouts of the huge wooden sign that used to hang from the sycamore tree in front of the old Manufacturers Hotel on Boylston street in Newton Upper Falls?

This and many other historical answers are being sought by the Friends of Jackson Homestead according to Fred C. Alexander who presented a slide film talk at the weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club, Monday noon in Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton.

Speaking on "Historic Landmarks of Newton," Mr. Alexander virtually took the club members on a half-hour tour around the city.

As chairman of the Jackson Homestead Research Committee, he has uncovered fascinating data on many old homesteads and historic sites. Color slides, illustrating his talk, were taken by Mrs. E. Graham Bates of Auburndale.

Among Mr. Alexander's findings:

Half of Newton's tax payments in 1850 came from the two villages of Newton Lower Falls and Newton Upper Falls.

The first post office in this city was located in Lower Falls.

The Newton Highlands railroad station is called Eliot after Rev. John Eliot who delivered sermons around 1650 to the Indians, led by Chief Waban. The oak tree, under which it has been authenticated Dr. Eliot spoke, still stands in the vicinity.

State Loses Many Teachers

Due to Low Salary Schedule

One of the most oft-repeated arguments heard at State House hearings in recent years on bills designed to hike minimum salaries of school teachers from the present $3000 floor is the competition other States offer for Massachusetts teachers.

This year the arguments are following the familiar pattern. For instance, Senator Elizabeth A. Stanton of Fitchburg based a good part of her appeal on an allegation that Connecticut was luring away potential Massachusetts teachers at an alarming rate.

She figures that 30 percent of the graduates of the Fitchburg State Teachers College slip right over the line to take jobs in the Nutmeg State because they can get bigger pay checks south of our border.

It wasn't always thus. Not too many years back, teachers from other States competed for jobs in Massachusetts. A large percentage of the teaching staffs of public schools in many Bay State cities and towns weren't Massachusetts-born. They came down from Maine in large numbers. In those days Massachusetts teaching salaries rated pretty high.

Sales Tax Not Favored By Newtonites

A final tabulation of the returns in a poll conducted by The Graphic to ascertain public sentiment on the proposed sales tax showed 429 Newton residents in favor of the tax and 638 against it. Since the poll was officially closed and the straw vote announced two weeks ago, late 66 votes have been received in opposition to the sales tax and 22 in support of it.

West Newton Man Heads Salvation Army Appeal

F. Gorham Brigham, Jr., of 61 Temple street, West Newton, will head the Industry and Finance division of the 1957 Salvation Army Annual Appeal this spring.

He is a graduate of Milton Academy and Harvard, and was awarded the Legion of Merit in World War II by General George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff.

He is the treasurer of the Saco-Lowell Shops in Boston.

Besides being a member of the Salvation Army Boston Advisory Board, Brigham is also a trustee of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital and a member of the Board of Overseers of Harvard.

His other organizations include the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Society of Colonial Wars, the Harvard Club, and the Society of the Mayflower.

The Salvation Army campaign begins May 1 with an overall goal of $600,000.

E. C. Keating Retires; 47 Years With Boston Bank

Edward C. Keating of Newton Highlands, treasurer and trustee of the Wilsey Savings Bank of Boston, retires today after 47 years' service with the bank.

A past president of the Bank Officers Association of Massachusetts and a director of the Newton South Cooperative Bank, Mr. Keating has long been active in civic and charitable affairs in Newton.

He was formerly president of the Newton Catholic Welfare and past chairman of the Newton Public Welfare Board. In addition to his work with the St. Vincent de Paul Society, he has been a director of the Newton Community Chest and has served on its budget committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Keating have lived in Newton for 35 years and make their home at 8 Stony Brae Rd.

17 More New Teachers Gain Board Approval

At its Monday night meeting the Newton School Committee unanimously approved the appointments of 17 new teachers for the coming year, all of whom will teach in the city's 26 elementary schools.

They are John T. Beach, Miss Marjorie Love, Miss Dianne May Cohen, Miss Isabel Enokian, Miss Ruth R. Lerman, Miss Nancy R. Lourie, and Paul G. Roberts, all of the class of 1957 at Boston University.

Miss Gail Canegallo, Miss Judith Connors, and Miss Lucy Kalif, of the class of '57 at Fitchburg State Teachers' College.

Pettengill to Aid Falm'th Hosp. Work

The trustees of Falmouth Hospital Association announced last week the appointment of H. J. Pettengill as executive secretary of the association. He will assist the officers and board in their efforts to establish a hospital in Falmouth.

Mr. Pettengill, who formerly lived in Waban for 13 years prior to moving to Falmouth, was executive director of the Newton Community Chest and in that capacity was closely associated with the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

He is an experienced executive in handling community chest and social service, budgeting, public relations and fund raising and has assisted hospitals, youth centers, schools and associations in capital fund raising.

Since he retired from his Community Chest position in Newton in June, 1955, he had assisted Pine Manor Junior College, Dana Hall School, Newton Y.M.C.A., Newton Girl Scout Council and the Cape Cod Chamber of Commerce in capital fund raising.

Gala Dinner Sunday For Gov. Furcolo

The Newton Democratic Club is planning a gala dinner to honor the Governor of Massachusetts and his wife who are new residents of the Garden City.

At a recent meeting at the home of Club President, Simon Scheff, Mr. Joseph Walsh, Vice-President and Dinner Chairman announced the event will take place at the Newton Centre Women's Club, Sunday, Mar. 3.

The ticket committee headed by Co-chairmen Mrs. Esther McGuinness and David Eskin reported that advance sale of tickets is proceeding rapidly and a large turnout is expected. The Dinner Committee, besides those already mentioned, includes Mr. John Barton, Club Treasurer, Mrs. Larry Sullivan, Secretary, Mr. Francis McGuinness, Mr. John Melia, and Mr. Robert Caron.

Wed Despite Auto Injuries

Despite serious injuries sustained in an auto accident on Feb. 16, John Murray, 64, of Newton Centre and Mrs. Ruth Mohor, 55, of Brighton, were married at Symmes Hospital in Arlington last week.

They are both improving slowly, but will be confined to the hospital for several weeks. The accident, which occurred in Lexington as they were returning from a New Hampshire wedding, left Mr. Murray with compressed vertebrae, face and head cuts and other injuries. He is expected to be in a chest cast for several weeks. His wife suffered a fractured pelvis, broken ribs and a broken ankle. She is also in a cast and will be unable to leave the hospital for about eight weeks.

They had planned to be married on Feb. 21 at the Church of Our Saviour in Brookline, but went ahead with the ceremony even though they found themselves in the hospital on that date. Mr. Murray is engineering superintendent with the Eastern Gas and Fuel Co. They plan to live at his home, 36 Sheldon road, on their release from the hospital.

Rawson Feels Lack of Funds May Stop Actual Construction

Events during the past week appear to indicate that Newton, despite its hard fight, will have to bow to the will of Turnpike Authority Chairman William F. Callahan who apparently is bent on bringing the toll road extension from the Weston line into Boston over the Boston & Albany railroad tracks.

With the defeat in the legislature of two bills aimed at stopping such an extension and with Chairman Callahan's recent statements, it is evident that the only two avenues of further opposition to his proposal remain, both of which appear remote in hope. One would be a court suit, the outcome of which cannot be determined. The other is the possibility that the Turnpike Authority may find it exceedingly difficult to float further bond issues to complete the extension.

Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., who has led a determined fight for over two years to prevent the dislocation of property and values here, is still doing everything possible to prevent the Turnpike Authority from cutting the extension through the center of the city, realizing that a good deal of property values will be destroyed by such an eventuality as well as the detrimental effect the large amount of traffic over the extension, if it is built through here, might well have on the future of the community.

Although there has been no official comment on the latest developments by any official here, the picture is beginning to loom more in perspective.

So far as a favorable court decision, if a suit is entered, might halt any construction of the extension through the city, that could only be determined after such a suit was tried and must be considered purely conjectural.

At the reception will be Mayor or Howard Whitmore, Jr., his administrative assistants; members of the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee; Senator Donald Gibbs; Representatives George E. Rawson, Irene K. Thresher, Arthur E. Heaney, and John Whittenmore; and Governor's Councillor Christian Herter Jr., who is also a Newton resident.

To Consider In-School TV For Newton

A proposal that the Newton school system plan to include in its 1958 budget an allotment of 20 cents per pupil to finance an experimental in-school TV program over Station WGBH-TV will be considered at a March 12 meeting of school officials.

Dr. J. Bernard Everett, director of the division of instruction, has cited grade school foreign language and elementary science as being adaptable to the new medium, overcoming the shortage of qualified teachers and of equipment in many schools.

WGBH told the Newton School Board that $55,000 would pay for a half-hour live program daily throughout the school year, with teaching talent donated by the school system, or colleges and museums in the area.

Seek Better Method Of Endorsement

In an effort to iron out any duplication of the 1955 dispute over procedure in endorsement of candidates, the Newton Civic Association considered last night a revision of its by-laws.

In 1955 two members of the board of directors resigned, stating that the remaining directors with using the non-partisan political association to promote the interests of the Republican party.

The resigning directors were Mrs. Betty Taymor of West Newton and Mrs. Jane E. Segal of Newton Centre. They objected at that time to the omission of Leo M. Cannon's name from the list of candidates for alderman endorsed by the Association.

City Reception To Governor and Family Sunday

Newton city officials will play hosts Sunday at a reception to be accorded Governor Foster Furcolo and his family. The affair will be held at City Hall at 4 p.m.

This reception has been planned to officially welcome the governor and his family to the city where he has leased a home on The Ledges road.

At the reception will be Mayor or Howard Whitmore, Jr., his administrative assistants; members of the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee; Senator Donald Gibbs; Representatives George E. Rawson, Irene K. Thresher, Arthur E. Heaney, and John Whittenmore; and Governor's Councillor Christian Herter Jr., who is also a Newton resident.

Reappointment Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., Will Submit Recommendation To Board of Aldermen Monday

Heart Fund Near Goal

Newton Heart Fund collections have reached $21,000, which is within $1500 of last year's final total. Chairman Mrs. Samuel Nesson urges all Newtonites to mail in their not-at-home envelopes so the drive will go over the top.

Over 1400 workers and 125 captains took part in Sunday's drive. Newton led all other Greater Boston areas in the percentage of their increase for the one-day collection.

Will Open Girl Scout Cookie Sale On March 8

A goal of $9,000 to top last year's record $8,300 was set today for this year's Cookie Sale of the Newton Girl Scouts.

Proceeds of the sale, the only money-raising event of the Newton Council during the year, will support the camping program of the Girl Scouts as well as providing funds for troop programs and equipment.

The sale begins March 8. Some 3,000 eager Scouts and their younger counterparts, the Brownies, will don uniforms and winning smiles for order-taking, which extends through March 18. The five varieties of cookies will be delivered two weeks later.

Mrs. Harry Shwachman, city-wide cookie sale chairman, has emphasized the "staying" powers of the cookies in their foil-wrapped cartons, in urging

Gives Annual Aquinas Lecture Mar. 7

Manhattan College philosophy professor Dr. James V. Mullane will give the annual Aquinas lecture at Newton College of the Sacred Heart Thursday, Mar. 7, at 7:30 p.m. The Cambridge born educator will speak on "Scholarship and Women." The public is invited.

Dr. Mullane, who has been chairman of the Liberal Arts Program at Manhattan College since 1954, received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Boston College and his Ph.D. from Fordham, where he was an instructor in philosophy from 1938 to 1943. He was an assistant professor at Notre Dame College on Staten Island until 1946 when he joined the faculty at Manhattan. A contributor to Thomist Thought and Commonweal, he is a member of the advisory board of the Institute of Judeo-Christian Studies and a member of the American Philosophical Association.

Workshop For Educational Secretaries

The Newton Educational Secretaries will hold a Workshop on Thursday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Division of Instruction, 88 Chestnut street, West Newton. The following have been selected as group leaders: Mrs. Mabel E. Goldrick, Miss Anna Mildred Cavanaugh, Mrs. Louise F. Studley, Miss Alma W. Littlefield, Miss Carolyn E. Siebert, Miss Ruth S. Calder, Mrs. Doris M. Carter, and Miss Weinande Favorite.

Refreshments will be served after the discussion groups. Mrs. Doris M. Carter, program chairman, is in charge of the Workshop.

Joseph Kaplan Gives $17,500 To B. U. Center

A $17,500 gift to Boston University's Human Relations Center has been made by Joseph Kaplan of Newton Centre, President of the Colonial Tanning Company.

Mr. Kaplan has donated the sum for a new Human Relations project, as well as to expand the center's teaching and research programs. Ten thousand dollars has been set aside for future housing and physical plant of the H.R.C., while the remaining $7,500 will be integrated into a new experimental project for the center.

It will provide training sessions in human relations for the faculty and administration of four colleges in the Boston area and will test new theories in human relations. Sessions will be held with faculty and administration personnel of the four colleges so that they, in turn, will be better equipped to teach as well as to practice human relations in their everyday associations.

Program coordinator for the project is Mrs. Meyer Litvo of Newton. As a training associate within the Human Relations Center, she has headed numerous training sessions in hospitals, industry and education in the Boston community.

Kaplan, president of one of the nation's largest leather firms, said: "Within the framework of our society, it is profitable for a business to consider each employee as the most important investment in the company's four walls."

This philosophy motivated his original interest four years ago

Interracial Group Elects New Officers

Miss Bessie H. Hipkins, Hicks street, West Newton, was re-elected president of the Newton Community Fellowship, interracial group, at the annual February meeting held in the parish hall of Second Congregational Church. Mrs. Clarence S. Hosmer, Webster street, West Newton, was chosen secretary to succeed Mrs. Hollis J. Wyman of Auburndale. Both vice-presidents William L. Tisdell, Auburndale, and Mrs. Helen Irving, treasurer, were re-elected. Clarence S. Hosmer was chairman of the nominating committee.

The Newton Community Fellowship voted to join the World Affairs Council of Newton as an affiliated organization member. Mrs. Frances McGill, of Auburndale, recording secretary of the NAACP, called attention to current bills No. H1623 and S328 before the state legislature on equal rights to all in publicly assisted housing through factual literature distributed by the Mass. Commission Against Discrimination.

Miss Carol Bean, accompanied by her mother, Mrs.

Homer Bean, sang three selections. Eugene A. Lomax, veteran member of the Fellowship, recalled the rebuilding of Myrtle Baptist Church in 1898 following a disastrous fire, and the zealous faith of the late Rev. Charles S. Morris, D.D., then pastor, while a student at Andover - Newton Theological Seminary, in raising funds to complete the new edifice.

Guest speaker of the evening was the Rev. Sydney Adams, minister of Centenary Methodist Church, Auburndale, whose talk was entitled "Clean Water on a Dirty Street."

Population Ratio
Antwerp—There are about 12 million persons in the Belgian Congo, and about 77,000 of them are white people.

Washington—More than one-half of the 7.5 million widows living in the U. S. today are over the age of 64 years.

Drug Store, 2 Homes Entered Here Tuesday

An active burglar gang struck five times in Newton and Brighton early Tuesday, leaving a plainly marked trail for the police.

Acquired during the breaks were an automobile, clothing, $70 in cash, and a quantity of cigarettes.

In Newton, a drug-store and two homes were burglarized.

The thieves took the auto and clothing from the home of Simon Diemont, a paint contractor, at 90 Beacon street, Chestnut Hill. Also ransacked was the home of Diemont's next-door neighbor, William C. Ross.

Police said both families are vacationing in Florida and it was impossible to determine immediately how much was taken.

Police, however, got on the trail with the discovery of a break in the Newton Drug Company, 564 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre. Officers Manley Kiley and William Quinn found a brick wrapped in a suit coat was used to smash a front window. The coat was traced to Diemont, and the Chestnut Hill breaks were discovered.

About $5 in change and some cartons of cigarettes were taken from the drugstore. Blood was found on smashed window glass there.

Today, the State isn't getting competition from nearby States alone. The ranks of prospective teachers are annually raided by States as far distant as Oregon. And not only are other states quick to snap up Massachusetts teachers but the federal government itself also has gotten into the act.

Bidding for teachers willing to go to Japan, West Germany and elsewhere—so that children of members of the armed forces overseas can get an American education—the federal government offers a lure difficult to overlook.

Not only is the money good but there's the opportunity for travel at government expense; the prospects of finding out about countries they know only from books; along with the chance to say a few years hence—"Sure, I taught school in Berlin once."

There can be no question but that sooner or later the shortage of teachers in Massachusetts is going to be one of the State's biggest headaches unless something is done to make more attractive the jobs our schools have to offer.

Today some 2500 to 3000 new teachers are needed every year to staff our public schools. That turnover is caused by the incidence of marriage; the fact that teachers are finding more attractive jobs in private industry; and the competition offered by more lucrative teaching posts elsewhere.

It's estimated by some educators that by 1961 a total of 6200 new teachers will be needed every year. Where are we going to get them? The future will have to answer that.

One thing is certain—at this point more than half way through the Twentieth Century—the U. S. in general and Massachusetts in particular are reaching the stage where there is grave reason to question one boast of past generations.

That was the proud claim that every American boy and girl could be sure of getting a good, sound public school education.

Maybe, if things just keep drifting, as they have been drifting in more recent decades, we'll have to qualify that boast quite a bit.

FURCOLO AND MURPHY IN DISAGREEMENT

Ordinarily, a Governor and Lieutenant Governor of the same political party work together, publicly at least, in close harmony, irrespective of what private differences they may have.

The last notable exception to that rule occurred back in 1937 and 1938, when the late Governor Charles F. Hurley and the then Lieutenant Governor Francis E. Kelly clashed repeatedly.

Kelly subsequently challenged Hurley for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the 1938 primary, and both were defeated by James M. Curley.

The State House now is buzzing about the split between Governor Foster Furcolo and Lieutenant Governor Robert F. Murphy over the confirmation of Furcolo's appointment of John E. Maloney of Brookline as chairman of the State Housing Board.

Murphy not only opposed Maloney's appointment but held out to the bitter end and finally cast the lone vote against the confirmation of the new State housing head. Murphy's objection to Maloney was that the latter is a registered Republican.

In the course of the argument in the Executive Council, Murphy voiced the opinion that Furcolo, a Democratic Governor, never should appoint a Republican to any position except when he is required by law to do so.

When Furcolo subsequently was asked if he agreed with Murphy's position—a needless question since he obviously does not—Furcolo diplomatically answered that he "would rather not comment on any theories the Lieutenant Governor may have."

Murphy's assertion surprised many of his listeners since a man holding State-wide office, who is hoping one day to achieve promotion to the Governorship and who will be running again in 1958, usually doesn't go that far in expressing a partisan political viewpoint, at least not if he is going to try to pick up any Independent or Republican votes.

It is likely that any rift between Furcolo and Murphy will be quickly resolved. Murphy himself can hardly allow it to widen or even to continue, for his immediate political future is tied pretty closely to that of Furcolo.

Murphy's hope of attaining the Governorship—an objective that eluded him in the 1954 election—depends to a very large extent on whether Furcolo can maintain his political strength.

In all likelihood, Furcolo and Murphy either will both be reelected or both be defeated next year. If Furcolo gains a second term in 1958 and then strikes out for the U. S. Senate in 1960, Murphy would be in a position to bid for the Democratic nomination for Governor in '60. But if Furcolo were to lose next year, the political odds are that Murphy would go down with him.

Furcolo Using Every Means to Put Over Sales Tax Measure

If Governor Foster Furcolo's recommendation for a sales tax eventually is turned down by the Legislature, it certainly will not be because Furcolo failed to make an all-out fight to put the tax on the statute books.

Rarely does Furcolo deliver a public address before a gathering where he is free to choose his own subject that he does not attempt to sell his sales tax idea.

Whether he succeeds or fails in his battle for a limited 3 percent sales tax probably will depend on two developments:

1. The reaction and response of the general public during the speaking tour he will undertake this coming month. 2. How much help he gets from public, civic and business leaders who for years have been urging a sales tax.

Furcolo probably cannot win his fight if he is forced to wage it on a one-man basis. He might win it if all the persons who have indicated themselves for a sales tax in the past join in the showdown battle which will be waged before the issue is finally resolved.

One thing Furcolo certainly has done is to wipe out any realistic fear on the part of Republican legislators that the sales tax will be labelled a Republican tax if the GOP provides a majority of the votes for the measure in the two branches of the Legislature.

Whatever else Furcolo has done, he clearly has assumed the responsibility for proposing the sales tax and obviously is doing everything within his means to win public acceptance of the tax and put it over.

Except for the speeches by Furcolo himself and statements by ex-Governor Christian A. Herter and Governor's Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., however, the case for a sales tax has not been adequately presented thus far.

The record-breaking number of persons who turned out to shake hands with Furcolo at the traditional Washington's Birthday reception at the State House would indicate that the Governor's sponsorship of the sales tax has not appreciably dimmed his popularity.

There may be some question, however, as to how much political significance, if any, can be attached to the size of the public turnout for the annual ceremony in the Hall of Flags.

Until Furcolo set a new mark last week, the all-time record for attracting the greatest number of visitors was established by James M. Curley in 1936. In second place was ex-Governor Paul A. Dever's showing in 1952.

Curley was defeated in 1936 by Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., when he bid for a seat in the U. S. Senate, and Dever in 1952 lost the Governorship to Christian A. Herter.

One State House observer suggested half in jest and half seriously this week that if Governor Furcolo really wants to obtain the enactment of the sales tax, he should commission William F. Callahan, head of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority, to lobby for the measure in the Legislature.

Callahan has displayed an impressive ability to secure legislative sanction for just about everything he wants. A bill designed to block Callahan's plan for the construction of a toll road from Weston to Boston was quickly and overwhelmingly rejected in the State Senate by a 31-8 vote.

In the House, Representative George Rawson of Newton wasn't able to muster enough support to obtain a roll-call on a measure providing for the erection of a freeway instead of the toll road Callahan proposes to build. The measure was rejected on a standing vote. Callahan prevailed in both branches of the Legislature and by a very wide margin.

An interesting study of the Governors who have served on Beacon Hill is reflected in the different ways they conducted their press conferences with the reporters who covered the State House.

James M. Curley was the all-time champion in that respect. He not only saw the newsmen regularly, but it was a rare occasion, indeed, when he didn't provide one or more spectacular news stories.

Governor Furcolo, who conducts his press conferences with a friendly informality, has introduced an innovation at them. As the reporters sit down to interview him, a gubernatorial aide serves them coffee.

Ex-Governors Christian A. Herter, Paul A. Dever, Robert F. Bradford and Maurice J. Tobin all handled themselves ably and deftly at their press conferences, but of the four Herter was the only one who mapped a regular schedule for meeting with the reporters and then held to it throughout his time in office.

Furcolo is following Herter's plan of meeting with the press twice a week on Tuesday morning and on Thursday afternoon. Under the pressure of gubernatorial business Dever, Bradford and Tobin met only irregularly with the State House newsmen and frequently missed opportunities to get their sides of stories before the public.

Newton Girl Scout Activities

Newton Girl Scout Activities

The Newton Girl Scout Council Established Camp Committee traveled to Camp Wabasso, the new Girl Scout Camp in Bradford, N. H., and held a week-end meeting for the purpose of setting up a program of winter as well as summer camping for Newton Girl Scouts. Donning snowshoes, the committee investigated the camp grounds, cabin and water facilities and reported that there are excellent opportunities for skiing, skating and outdoor sports. The camp is located only 12 miles from Sunapee, an area well known for skiing, and the County keeps the roads open and clear to the camp. The committee occupied the winterized house, which was formerly the home of the camp owners. This house will be able to accommodate groups for winter camping. The members of the committee were very enthusiastic about their first week-end visit to the camp for their plans for a year-around program of camping instead of just a summer program of camping, as many other Councils have, will be available here. In February, the Training Committee will conduct a course of instruction at Camp Wabasso for Troop Leaders who will be taking their troops there for a weekend trip. Among those present were Mrs. J. Bernard Everett, Chairman of the Established Camp Committee; Mrs. Robert Freeto, Mrs. John Newall, Miss Ursula Hayden, Mrs. Arthur Barnes, Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, Mrs. Janis Kalnajs and Miss Elizabeth Richardson, executive director.

Miss Elizabeth Richardson, executive director, is now attending the National Association of Girl Scout Professional Workers which is being held at the Henry Hudson Hotel in New York City Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Miss Richardson was recently re-elected president of the New England Section of the Association of Girl Scout Professional Workers.

The Council Bulletin, "New Cogs," issued monthly to every registered adult member will have a new volunteer editor beginning February. Mrs. Chester W. White, 126 Prince St., West Newton, Mrs. White has been active in Newton Scouting for several years as a leader, troop committee member, member of the Troop and Trip Committee, Public Relations Committee and Awards and Selection Committee.

Thirty women attended the final session of the twelve hour Group Leadership Training Course given by the Newton Girl Scout Council. This course has been held for six Wednesday mornings in Founders' Hall, Newton Highlands with Mrs. Gaida Kalnajs and Mrs. Mildred Alban, Field Directors, as instructors. The last part of the session was given over to an investiture service at which time these women received their Girl Scout pins in a candle lighting ceremony. A total of fifty women registered for the course but because of bad weather and sickness, approximately twenty will receive their pins at a later date. These women have taken this course in order that they might develop successful Brownie Troops in the various school districts of Newton. Some of them will take the responsibility of being leaders of troops, others will act as assistant leaders. Among the group are former teachers, biologists, dancing instructors, nurses, dietitians, secretaries—all are interested in helping girls grow in character and citizenship. The following women received their pins on Wednesday: Mrs. Ellis Aisner, Mrs. Thomas Barry, Mrs. Dorothy Crandon, Mrs. Martin J. Davin, Mrs. David H. Eskin, Mrs. Irving Goodman, Mrs. George J. Gootman, Mrs. Alfred E. Hazelton, Mrs. Harold Hurwitz, Mrs. Gilbert Kaplan, Mrs. Philip T. Levine, Mrs. Paul Luizzo, Mrs. David J. Lyons, Mrs. Anthony Marrazzo, Mrs. William Mason, Mrs. William J. Newton High School Notes

by Susan B. Stacey

At the last meeting of the Newton High School Legislature, plans were discussed for the snow sculpturing contest to be held at Babson Institute in March, if there is snow in March.

Newton High School's entries in the All-State Music Festival include: John Griswold, Marjorie Morrill, Drexley Wile, Dave Ellis, James Mitchell, Robert Silliman, Michael McArdle, Penny Mason, and Brian Smith. Dates of the festival are March 28-30, the place, Northampton, Mass. Also participating in the festival will be six members of the High School orchestra: Jane Perils, flute; Roger Kelloway, bass; William Hibbard, violin; Drew Wayland, trumpet; and Nancy Milender, cello.

The Junior Red Cross Council has started work on a fun book under the editorship of Wendy Richmond. The members of the Art Committee are: Roddy Pratt, chairman; Josie Kaplan, Faith Copeland, David Schell, and Ann Holmes. The Story Committee includes: Suzanne Maguire, chairman; Barbara Dubins and Judy Francis. The Puzzles and Games Committee consists of: Merle Steinmetz, chairman; Sandy Cutler, Ellie Levy, Judy Simone, Barbara White, and Marana Wittenberg. The Typing Committee is Janet Kaplan, chairman; Katy O'Donnell, Kathy Dynes, and Elinor Yudin.

The Pittsburgh Exchange is traveling in style this year. This cheerful group of high school students is to leave on April 8 and arrive in Pittsburgh after a two hour flight. The exchange is justified because traveling by plane will enable the Jewish members to return to Newton in time to celebrate Passover (April 16) with their families and will cut time en route.

This year's edition of the Newton High School's Science Fair will be presented on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, March 23 and 27. Entries are invited from junior high school and junior college. The projects will be classified into three groups: biology, chemistry, and physics. Three prizes will be awarded in each division. "Depending on the number of science fair applicants," noted Mr. Hawkes, general chairman, "we will send either two or three winners to compete in the Massachusetts State Science Fair at M.I.T."

Torah Scroll Presented Temple Reyim By West Newton Couple

A new Torah Scroll was presented to Temple Reyim, Newton by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wasserman of 101 Ruane road, West Newton in honor of their 50th Wedding Anniversary.

The Torah Scroll is used each Sabbath and festival for the public spiritual readings. The scroll is made of parchment, each letter being hand printed by a qualified scribe.

Rabbi Harold D. Kastle, spiritual leader of Temple Reyim pointed out that "a gift on such a joyous occasion imposes responsibilities upon both the donor and the recipient. The donor must make a choice that will be meaningful and significant to the recipient. This the Wasserman family has already done, for there is nothing more meaningful and precious than a Torah Scroll. The recipient has the responsibility of living up to the ideals expressed in the Torah in deed as well as word. This responsibility is now set before the congregation."

The presentation was made at a recent Sabbath Service. The Oneg Shabbat following the Service was prepared by the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wasserman, which included daughter, Mrs. Natalie Wolf of West Newton, and sons Max Wasserman of Brookline, and Dr. Louis Wasserman of New York City.

Exchangers Sell Rummage On March 2

The Newton High School Exchangers will hold a gigantic rummage sale in the high school gym on Saturday from 8:30 in the morning to four in the afternoon.

Donations have been received from many Newton families and from many stores including Crowley Bros., Carroll Perfumery, Newtonville TV and Record, Woolworth's, F. J. Dooley Drugs, Come and See Shop, The Bookshelf, Debby's Pettling, the Fabric Center, Bram's, the Regent Shop, Tot's Teens, M. C. Jewell Co., the Newtonville Jewelry store and others.

For further information, call Mrs. Frank Hazel, Mrs. Leopold Beckwith, or Mrs. Nathan Angoff. Proceeds from the sale help to finance this year's two exchange trips to Pennsylvania.

in Newton is St. Mary's on Concord Street, Lower Falls, built in 1813.

Newton's first grist mill was set up in 1634 near Bullough's Pond. Newton's oldest house, still standing, is the Hammond House, built in 1730, at the junction of Beacon and Hammond streets in Chestnut Hill.

The speaker, assisted by Mrs. Alexander, was introduced by E. Graham Bates. Albert M. Kreider, Rotary president, presided.

Frank M. Simmons, chairman of the nominating committee, reported the following members as nominees to the club board for 1957-58: Dr. Theodore D. Clark, T. Russell Keery, George A. McKenna, Charles E. Smith, Raymond C. Wass and Richard J. White.

Cookie Sale-

Newton citizens to purchase as generously as possible.

"Superior wrapping will enable the cookies to stay fresh even longer than usual this year," Mrs. Shwachman said. "That is—if the family will let them remain uneaten for very long!"

Approximately 61,000 boxes were sold by enthusiastic Newton Scouts during last year's sale. The Newton Council's newly-acquired Camp Wabasso at Bradford, N. H., needing funds for camperships and maintenance, raises the necessity of an even greater return in 1957.

Details of the forthcoming sale, as well as other Newton Girl Scout matters, were discussed at a recent tea held at the home of Mrs. Thomas S. Derr, president of the Newton Girl Scout Council, to welcome newly-elected board members.

New officers elected at the annual Council meeting at Meadowbrook Junior High School Jan. 29, are Mrs. Thomas S. Derr, president for a second term; Mrs. Russell S. Broad, Mrs. Nathan D. Bugbee and Mrs. Thomas J. Lepore, vice-presidents; Mrs. Frederick A. Newcomb, recording secretary; Mrs. Jerome Colten, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Henry Knappenberg, treasurer, and Mrs. Edward Landy, assistant treasurer.

Also elected were the following board members: Mrs. Edward Axelrod, Miss Adelaide B. Ball, Mrs. J. Bernard Everett, Mrs. Arthur T. Gregorian, Mrs. Henry Harwood, Mrs. Edward V. Hickey, Jr., Mrs. Joseph S. Kaufman, Mrs. Leon M. Lamb, Mrs. G. Louis Marcy, Mrs. Warren G. Reed, Mrs. Harry Sawachman, Mrs. Harry Shain, Mrs. Norman A. Smith, Mrs. Leonard Spangenberg, Mrs. Leonard G. Trowbridge, and Mrs. David O. Wicks.

New members of the membership-nominating committee are Mrs. H. Alvord, chairman, Mrs. Gerard J. Matthews, Mrs. Charles Olton and Mrs. George N. Wile.

Also present were retiring board members as well as Miss Elizabeth Richardson, executive director of the Newton Council, and field directors Mrs. Janis Kalnajs and Mrs. Earl Alban.

A "Thanks" badge, highest award given to citizens associated with girl scouting, was presented to former Senator Richard H. Lee at the annual meeting for his "service, counsel and advice over a long period of years." Mrs. Robert Pettit, who has served Girl Scouting for many years in various capacities, also received a "Thanks" badge.

A Girl Scout statuette, symbol of appreciation, was presented to Mrs. Arthur T. Gregorian.

Approximately 200 members and guests attended the meeting, addressed by Mrs. E. Sohler Welch, Jr., national board member.

The degrees were exemplified by Barbara Bowers, Worthy Advisor, and her officers. A social hour followed the meeting.

MISS CUDWORTH WEDS MR. NICHOLAS OF WEST NEWTON

The Rev. Richard L. Osterman officiated at the marriage ceremony last Saturday afternoon at which Miss Lucille Florence Cudworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cudworth of North Adams, became the bride of Mr. Robert John Nicholas, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Nicholas of West Newton. The double-ring ceremony took place at 2 o'clock in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, when the uncle of the bride, Mr. Leslie Bagnell of West Peabody, gave his niece in marriage. A reception followed at Hovey Memorial Hall in Waltham.

The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and baby pink roses with her waltz-length gown of white crystal and finger tip veil, held in place by a jeweled crown. Miss Margaret Cashman of West Newton, niece of the bridegroom was maid of honor, and Donald Valente, also of West Newton, served as best man. John P. Delahanty of West Newton was the usher.

The former Miss Cudworth was graduated from Franklin County Public Hospital in Greenfield. Mr. Nicholas is employed at Boston Psychopathic Hospital and is attending Coyne Electrical School. They will live in Brighton when they return from a wedding trip to New York City.

Upper Falls Woman's Club Fashion Show

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will hold the March 4 meeting in the "All Purpose Room" of the Emerson School. Mrs. George A. Malanson, Jr., will open the business meeting at 7:45 p.m.

Chairman for the evening, Mrs. William E. Hogan, will introduce Mrs. Evelyn Picciani, who will present a fashion show to be modeled by members of the club. Hostess for the evening will be Mrs. Harold Wenger. Pourers will include Mrs. Maxwell B. Wills and Mrs. Harold C. Vlass.

College Notes

63 of every 100 wives either do it all or split the job

Watertown Federal likes women customers. You'd be surprised how many women either take care of the family savings account at Watertown Federal or split the job.

The national average is 63 out of every 100.

Women have the patience to raise children and to watch a savings account grow from little to big. They like to save at Watertown Federal either in person or by mail.

HELP RID AMERICA OF THE NUMBER 1 KILLER!

KNOW YOUR HEART

The human heart has its own blood supply system—the coronary arteries. A clot blocking one of them can cause "heart attack".

In 5 days, the heart of a large man pumps enough blood to fill this 50-ton tank car.

To guard your Heart—follow these simple rules:

- 1 Avoid self-diagnosis—see your doctor.
- 2 Control your weight.
- 3 Get enough rest.
- 4 Keep physically fit.
- 5 Ease up—and relax.

Every hour your heart puts forth enough energy to hoist a 150-lb. man to the roof of a 3-story building.

The Human Heart weighs $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ lb., is slightly larger than one's fist and beats 3 billion times in 70 years.

Some Facts You Should Know About Your Heart

1. Some forms of heart disease can be prevented . . . a few can be cured.
2. All heart cases can be cared for best if diagnosed early.
3. Almost every heart condition can be helped by proper treatment.
4. Most heart patients can keep on working—very often at the same job.

Newton Women To Join In World Prayer

Plans for this year's observance of the World Day of Prayer here in Newton are announced this week by Mrs. James H. Burns, president of the United Church Women of Newton. "Seventy-one years ago," Mrs. Burns explains, a small group of women started the Day of Prayer. Now it circles the globe, with an ever growing number of Christian men, women and children joining in its observance each year.

The service for Newton will be held at the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, at 2 p.m. on Friday, March 8. Mrs. Wallace M. Ross, assisted by Mrs. William P. Helms, is arranging the service. The speaker will be Rev. Benjamin R. Andrews, Jr., pastor of the Central Congregational Church. He will be assisted by Rev. Ross Cannon, pastor of the host church. Music will be provided by a choir of voices from the member churches in the United Church Women of Newton, under the direction of Mrs. Ross Cannon. Mrs. Hamilton Gifford will be the organist and Mrs. George Fernald will be in charge of the ushers.

The theme and order of service were chosen and developed by an Hungarian emigre, Mrs. Serena Vassady, who speaks out of personal experience and suffering in war-torn Hungary. She selected as the world-wide theme, a text from Romans 8, "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ?" A writer, the wife of an eminent theologian, and mother of three children who experienced the horrors of life behind the Iron Curtain, Mrs. Vassady says that the writing of this prayer service was one of her "most cherished assignments."

Mrs. Homer G. Bean, Secretary of Spiritual Life of the United Church Women of Newton, announces that her committee is encouraging the women of each church to hold a preparatory service for its own women before attending the city-wide service.

86th N.E. Spring Flower Show to Open March 10th

Winter-weary visitors from all parts of New England are looking forward with keen enthusiasm to the 86th New England Spring Flower Show which opens Sunday, March 10, at Mechanics Building, Boston.

Show hours on Sunday, the opening day, are 1 to 10 p. m. Monday, March 11, through Saturday, March 16, the hours are 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

This year the University of Massachusetts will stage an exhibit around the theme "Better Living," emphasizing the effective planning and easy maintenance of small properties. Home owners will be able to acquaint themselves with the various services of our State University aimed to help them solve their gardening needs.

In addition to the many practical ideas to be found in the small gardens, terrace plantings and informal settings, there will be exhibits of colorful gardens at home and abroad. Richly colored Kurume azaleas will be featured in an Italian setting on the stage, and choice tree peonies will be grouped against an Oriental background. Masses of fragrant hyacinths will suggest the tiny country of Holland.

Rose gardens, rock gardens, with many kinds of lilies and one overflowing with miniature flowering bulbs are among the highlights of this year's Show. Carpets of wild flowers growing beneath flowering dogwoods will make an appropriate setting for a chapel in the woods, where visitors may enjoy the charm of a New England woodland.

Of special interest will be the attractive series of little gardens planned annually by the Women's Exhibitions Committee. Mrs. Irving C. Wright, chairman, has designed a group of gardens around a circular terrace, including two set against a background of evergreen hedges and five contrived to give emphasis to features in small gardens.

An unusual series of flower arrangements, under the direction of Mrs. William J. Breed, will interpret a seaside theme. Using such appropriate settings as a Lobster Shack, A Captain's Parlor and an Antique Shop, flowers will be arranged in five classes by 20 well-known arrangers.

Orchids, carnations, roses, amaryllis and an extensive variety of cut flowers, as well as a wide array of house plants, are included in more than 200 classes listed in this year's schedule.

Outgrown Shop

The Emerson Outgrown Shop in Newton Upper Falls will be open on Friday from 10 to 3 in the all-purpose room at the school. Spring and summer articles are now being accepted for sale. Contributors receive 80% of the sale price of these items.

Newton Eliminated In Second Round Of State Hockey Tournament

By CARL J. WENZEL

Despite a fantastic last-ditch scoring drive, the stellar Tiger pucksters were eliminated from State Interscholastic Tournament competition last Saturday evening by a heart-breaking 5 to 4 setback at the hands of powerful Lynn English.

The Newtonites may have lost the game—but they lost no friends among the enthusiastic capacity crowd that jammed Boston Arena, as they mustered a story-book final-stanza offensive attack that fell just one goal shy of knotting the count with "Lynn."

The come-back kids from Newton bombarded the enemy cage for four tallies in less than three minutes during the final round, after the mighty men of Lynn had piled up a supposedly insurmountable 5 to 0 lead. English had to battle with all the resources at their command to stave off the pounding Newton attack and cling to their meagre 5 to 4 advantage.

Following Wednesday evening's tournament qualifying round, Auburn High's invaders were heard chanting "Hold That Tiger", as the cats of Newton clawed out an overwhelming 9 to 0 victory over the Central Mass. Hockey League champions.

The outstanding opening-night performance enabled the local boys to advance to the second round of the annual state-wide classic with the confidence of world conquerors. But just as the little French General of yore . . . the Tigers met their Waterloo.

Sparked by New England's outstanding schoolboy athlete, Lorne "Tippy" Johnson, and his talented side-kick, Dave Donovan, defending champion Lynn English piled up a substantial five-goal lead before Newton succeeded in puncturing the enemy strings for the first time.

Another aspect responsible for the Tiger downfall was Newton's inability to stay out of the sin-bin. Quick survey of the game's statistics reveal that three of Lynn's goal were pumped ed home while Orangemen were being penalized. "Tippy" Johnson's deciding tally came while the locals were two skaters shy.

The Tiger campaign appeared to be a lost cause after the surging Lynn offense took advantage of four penalties to open the floodgates in the first period.

While viewing this stanza, it was difficult to realize that the sextet which was facing English was the same squad that had completely dominated the Arena ice against Auburn only three nights before.

Now it was strictly a case of "the shoe being on the other foot." Instead of Newton forcing the action, it was powerful Lynn that kept the plug in Tiger territory, peppering Johnny Kelly with whistling drives from every angle.

Durable Dave Donovan let first blood for the enemy early in the period on a pass play from defenseman Harwood. "Tippy" Johnson followed suit by whacking the plug past little John Kelly on another cross-ice slap-pass from Harwood. Donovan then teamed up with Johnson and Quinlan for a quick, back-to-back set of lamplighters before the buzzer sounded, ending Round I.

When the dust finally cleared, the scoreboard showed Newton on the credit side of a 4 to 0 ledger. State scoring champ, Lorne "Tippy" Johnson made it 5 to 0 midway through the second frame, as he hit for another insurance tally on a whistling drive into the corner of the Tiger cage.

When the green light finally flashed, denoting the conclusion of Round II, Newton's stunned pucksters sulked dejectedly from the Arena ice . . . enveloped in a thick cloud of gloom.

Whatever dressing-room oration the coach chose to re-instill the fire and fury of past contests into his charges, he certainly received excellent results . . . for the rejuvenated Tigers returned to battle with bubbling determination and confidence.

Before four and one-half minutes had elapsed in the final stanza, Newton penetrated the Lynn defense four times . . . gaining an excellent opportunity to pull the game out.

Sandy Boardman started it off at the 1:50 marker when he whacked a hard drive into the enemy strings after catching a cross-ice from Pete Fitzgerald.

In the next two minutes, 45 seconds, the red light flashed three more times, as the Newtonites were bouncing more rubber than a check forger. Within that short span, Ronnie O'Loughlin dunked the stopper into the tub twice on unassisted efforts, and Jim Leonard teamed up with Carl Cioppa for the other.

But from that point on the highly publicized Lynn defense lived up to its press notices and held the Tiger attack dormant for the remainder of the way.

Auburn Game
In the Auburn encounter, the Tiger scoring machine warmed up to its task early and often. The ferocious offensive assault was spearheaded by Carl Cioppa, Ronnie O'Loughlin and Sandy Boardman . . . each of whom made sweet music by strumming the enemy strings for a pair of goals each.

The driving, pounding Newton offensive attack left the Auburnites on their heels. "The handwriting was on the wall" from the opening buzzer, as the locals dominated play . . . holding the plug in Auburn territory almost exclusively.

Before four minutes had elapsed in the game, the rubber was flying past Auburn backstop, Bruce Plante (Any relation to Montreal Canadian Netminder, Jaque, is purely coincidental) with the monotonous rapidity and consistency of a machine-gun.

On the other side of the Arena rink, Newton stopper-blocker, John Kelly was contributing his usual cool, competent performance for the winning cause. Although he had a relatively easy time of it throughout the Tiger-dominated contest, he did everything asked of him by kicking out all the rubber thrown his way . . . and debited another shut-out to his sparkling seasonal ledger.

The most glaring weakness in the Auburn defense was the inability to clear the puck from their own cage after rebounds, as seven of Newton's nine tallies were registered on kick-backs.

Pete Fitzgerald started the Newton ball rolling at the 3:03 marker of the opening round when he slapped in his own rebound from directly in front of the enemy cage. Carl Cioppa contributed the first of his pair when he dribbled the plug into an open Auburn net at 8:57, as goaler Plante was stretched out on the ice. Sandy Boardman brought the Newton count to three when he slapped home a Pete Thompson rebound right at the mouth of the cage.

Ron O'Loughlin started it off again in the middle stanza as he banged in a Jim Leonard rebound at the 2:08 marker. Sandy Boardman followed with his second tally of the game at 5:14, as he tucked a Ronnie Thompson pass into the corner of the cage.

Carl Cioppa made his second entrance into the scoring picture at 7:04 when he glided smoothly past the mouth of the cage, faked out the goalie and popped home the plug, upping the Newton count to six. Ron O'Loughlin and Jimmy Leonard were credited with assists.

Tiger wingers Pete Thompson and Ron O'Loughlin got into the act again when they tallied back-to-back goals within twenty-seconds of each other. Thompson strummed the Auburn strings at 8:33 by tapping in a Dave Crosby rebound. O'Loughlin did likewise on a Carl Cioppa kick-back at 8:53.

When the dust finally cleared the scoreboard showed Newton on top of a healthy 8 to 0 score.

The rapidity of Dave Crosby's final stanza goal added insult to injury . . . and may have fired the Auburners to an inspired last-ditch effort. With only thirty seconds gone in the final period, the rugged Newton center tucked the stopper into the right corner of the enemy cage from about five feet out.

From that point on, the fired-up Auburners played an inspired brand of hockey, holding the flying Tigers scoreless the remainder of the game.

Although Newton's talented pucksters failed in their quest for the acme of schoolboy hockey glory . . . the State title . . . their sparkling performance against Auburn and Lynn English certainly deserves the prolonged plaudits of all local hockey enthusiasts.

Need Temporary Volunteers At Red Feather Hq.

An S.O.S. has gone out from the Red Feather Volunteer Service Bureau for Volunteers to register for emergency assignments as general clerical workers in hospitals, settlement houses, and other Red Feather agencies.

Such services as filing, addressing envelopes, collating, stapling and various duties not requiring special skills, are frequently needed to assist with special projects carried on from time to time by the agencies.

These jobs usually last for one to three days. Anyone who can, occasionally, give a few days time to such worthwhile endeavors is urged to register with the Volunteer Service Bureau so that he or she can be contacted should the need arise.

Information about this or any other phase of the volunteer service program can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Judith Roche Thiers, director, or other members of her staff, at Red Feather headquarters, 14 Somerset street, Boston, telephone Richmond 2-2000.

Plan Canteen Course Soon

A course in conducting Red Cross Canteens will start early in March, the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, has announced.

The course will consist of four classes of two and one-half hours each. It is designed to train interested women in canteen operations for emergency and regular community service, including Blood Program and Veterans Administration Hospital activities. Training will stress team work, mass preparation and servicing methods, menu planning, marketing and figuring food costs.

Interested persons may enroll by calling Mrs. Mayberry, BI 4-0808; Mrs. Tower, DE 2-0112, or the Chapter House, LA 7-6000.

HONORED BY MIZRACHI—In honor of the 25th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Riden of Newton Centre, Mrs. Irving W. Boyer of Brookline, right, president of the Brookline-Brighton-Newton Chapter of Mizrahi Women's Organization of America, presents a certificate of honor to Mrs. Riden. The certificate, signed by the president of the national organization, cited Mr. and Mrs. Riden for their contributions to the Youth Aliyah and the native children of Israel who will benefit by it.

Educational TV May Lead to Controls on School Budgets

by ARTHUR W. WOODMAN

Massachusetts school committees have invited the wrath of legislative financial experts by appealing for authority to spend public funds to sponsor educational television programs for classroom reception.

The proposal is pending before the Legislative Committee on Education — but it has set off a new set of demands for curbs on school board spending.

Presently, school committee budgets may not be altered by the city council or mayor, or city officials. With the schools using so large a share of the local tax dollar, there have been repeated calls for more control over school spending.

"But," he told the committee, "educational television has been neglected because the state department of education has a congenial distaste for new ideas."

He contended that educational television would be a most effective agent in teaching. Students would obtain lecture and demonstration material from national experts.

Classroom teachers, having prepared their work in anticipation of the program, would amplify the television teaching, answering questions and carrying on from the point the TV teacher left off.

School Heads Impatient

Rep. Bly's plan for a study was not acceptable to school officials who insist on authority for them to move ahead at once with the allocation of public funds for TV training.

It was estimated the school boards could undertake such a program at a cost of between $150,000 to $225,000. The program would be financed by the joint support of a hundred or more cities and towns — and the state would control the nature of programs offered.

The legislature has been a bit wary of expanding too rapidly in the field of educational television.

A detailed study of the potentials of television for education was made a few years ago. A state program was established, but the results of the expert retained to manage the project were far from satisfactory to the members appropriating the money.

However, in the intervening years, there has been a new concept of television as an aid to education. The pioneering roughness is wearing

Science Museum Shows Sun Film During March

A spectacular color picture which delves into one of the world's most potent forces—the sun—will make up the March Week-end Film Program at Boston's Museum of Science.

Titled "Our Mr. Sun," the film is an unusual combination of entertainment and education, featuring Edde Albert and Dr. Frank Baxter along with fascinating cartoon creations named "Thermo the Magician," "Chloro Phyll" and "Father Time."

Through these characters, the audience learns about sunspots, solar explosions, what the ancients thought of the sun and how modern man is harnessing its energy.

The 55-minute picture is the first in the Bell System's new Science Series.

Showings will be in the Museum's Morse Auditorium Saturdays at 11 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. and on Sundays at 3:30 p.m.

There is ample free parking at the Museum of Science, but for those using the MTA, the Science Park Station on the Lechmere line is just a stone's throw from the Museum.

and Bethel Bilezikian, with an other piano solo.

The program closed with selections by a jazz band with Irving Krasner at the piano, Stanley Shafren, cornet, Peter Cobb, clarinet, and Roger Kellaway, drums. Accompanist was Linda Cohen and the NHS Concert Band was conducted by Mr. George Doren.

Maxine Cohen sang an alto solo, and was followed by Nancy Durham, pianist, who played "Revolutionary Etude"

Do You Know Massachusetts?

Factory Orders

New orders received by Massachusetts manufacturers in December totaled 3.3 percent more than a year ago, Associated Industries reports. Gains over December 1955 appeared in electrical machinery and equipment, 27.3 percent, primary metals 21.0 percent, the miscellaneous group of industries 9.3 percent and in chemicals 6.2 percent. Losses from a year ago were noted in machinery excluding electrical 13.1 percent, textiles 10.1 percent, paper and printing 9.1 percent, rubber goods 8 percent and fabricated metals 7.7 percent.

Drop in Building

The number of new dwellings undertaken in Massachusetts during January was 43 percent less than a year ago. Calculating only those from private enterprise the total was off 50 percent. These figures are as shown by building permits reported to the Department of Labor and Industries by 165 municipalities. Places reporting ten or more new dwellings in January were: Springfield 85, of which 75 were public housing, Waltham 47, Dennis 16, South Hadley 15, Boston and Burlington each 13, Framingham, Westfield and Worcester each 11, Falmouth, Marshfield, Needham and Wakefield each 10.

Active in Aviation

At the end of 1955, Massachusetts had 83 airports, of which 49 were public and 34 were limited, including seaplane bases and heliports. Three of the public Massachusetts ports had runways of 7,000 feet or more. The Commonwealth had 1,295 civilian aircraft, 16,654 pilots, of whom 6,641 were active, and 22 CAA-approved flight and ground schools, as reported by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Honey

Beekeepers in Massachusetts last year produced 361,000 pounds of honey, compared with 360,000 in 1955, as reported by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

State of Small Farms

More than a fifth of the 17,361 farms in Massachusetts, report-

Search Begins For The State's Top Homemaker

Over $750 in prizes, plus a week's vacation at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., for herself and husband, await the gracious, efficient housewife who will be chosen Mrs. Massachusetts of 1957.

She will compete for the honor of being America's outstanding homemaker at the national contest finals to be held in Florida—May 7-14.

The big national search is on to find Mrs. America of 1957 but right now—here at home—we must first find Mrs. Massachusetts. You're eligible to compete if you're married, over 21, a citizen and permanent resident of the United States and a resident of Massachusetts for ed by the 1954 Census of Agriculture, were less than 10 acres in size, and two-thirds were less than 30 acres. The average size of all the farms in the Commonwealth was only 82.9 acres, whereas the average for all the states was 242.2 acres.

three consecutive months. (Of course, employees or members of families of employees of those companies promoting the contest are not eligible.)

The Mrs. America contest is not a beauty contest. State and national winners will be chosen for their outstanding ability as a housewife. She must also be gracious and charming and probably a participant in community activities.

Sponsors of the contest again this year are the American Gas Association and your local gas company. Co-sponsors are: DeSoto Division of Chrysler Corporation, Gorham Silver, West Bend Aluminum, General Foods, United States Treasury Department, Bernat Yarn, Proctor Appliances, Singer Sewing Machine.

Visit your local gas office to day and pick up an application blank. When it is received by your gas company you will be mailed an official entry blank. Fill it out, being careful to supply all information required. Attach to it a good photograph of yourself and a copy of your favorite recipe. If you are chosen to compete, you'll be notified by your gas company. Should you win the Mrs. Am-

Bad News For Gardeners; Jap Beetle to Stay

"We might just as well learn to live with them, because they're here to stay."

This is what a University of Massachusetts entomologist has to say about the Japanese beetle.

Ellsworth H. Wheeler, extension entomologist at the University, says of the beetles, "There is nothing more, with in reason, that federal, state, county, city and town officials erica contest, you'll receive $15,000 in prizes including a New Freedom Gas Kitchen and Laundry, DeSoto automobile and many other valuable prizes.

Participating are Boston Gas, Brockton-Taunton Gas, Cambridge Gas, Dedham-Hyde Park Gas, Framingham Gas, Lawrence Gas, Marlboro Gas, Mystic Valley Gas, New Bedford Gas, Northampton Gas Light, North Shore Gas, Plymouth Gas, Springfield Gas Light, Worcester Gas Light Companies.

or agencies can do to eradicate the Japanese beetle."

Based upon 40 years of research and experience with the Japanese beetle, Wheeler's conclusion is that while the insect is here to stay, it will not always provide the threat it does now. In places where beetle damage is grave, conditions will improve. It may be worse for a few years in areas where the damage is just starting. However, the beetle problem is not likely to be serious again.

Wheeler advises all citizens of the Commonwealth to take these measures to help control Japanese beetles:

Learn about the insect and control from Cooperative Extension Service Leaflet No. 295, which is available from County Extension Services or the University.

Grub-proof your essential turf (lawn) with dieldrin or chlordane; this prevents Japanese beetle damage to grass roots.

Spray or dust plants as often as necessary with DDT, methoxychlor, or general purpose mixture. One application is rarely sufficient.

9th Grade Debate

"Has the Power and Scientific Revolution helped or hindered mankind?" Divisions 322m and 318x debated this topic before the ninth grade class. Steve Annapolis, Jim Gezork, Wendy Greene, and Arnie Lasker of Division 322m argued for the affirmative while Lenny Brown, Coral Epstein, Jane McGrath and Sue McKen of Division 318x argued for the negative. Both sides presented good arguments but the judges decided that Division 322m had presented the most effective ones.

Plans are presently underway to present "Trial By Jury", a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, to the school and P.T.A. during the spring. Mr. Smith, the music teacher, is holding auditions for the cast which will be made up of Weeks students.
